Public Space and the Ideology of Place in American Culture Miles Orvell, Jeffrey L. Meikle, 2009 We typically take public space for granted as if it has continuously been there yet public space has always been the expression of the will of some agency person or institution who names the space gives it purpose and monitors its existence And often its use has been contested These new essays written for this volume approach public space through several key questions Who has the right to define public space How do such places generate and sustain symbolic meaning Is public space unchanging or is it subject to our subjective perception Do we given the public nature of public space have the right to subvert it These eighteen essays including several case studies offer convincing evidence of a spatial turn in American studies They argue for a re visioning of American culture as a history of place making and the instantiation of meaning in structures boundaries and spatial configurations Chronologically the subjects range from Pierre L Enfant s initial majestic conceptualization of Washington D C to the post modern realization that public space in the U S is increasingly a matter of waste Topics range from parks to cities to small towns from open air museums to airports encompassing the commercial marketing of place as well as the subversion and re possession of public space by the disenfranchised Ultimately public space is variously imagined as the site of social and political contestation and of aesthetic change

Post Card Power Larry Mersereau, 2004-06 Small businesses and professionals can profit from direct mail on a shoestring budget Direct mail is not the exclusive domain of big hitters like Publishers Clearinghouse and Victoria's Secret. Small businesses can tap into the same gold mine without spending thousands of dollars on copy writers, designers, printers, and postage. You can place a powerful marketing message directly into the hands of highly qualified prospects for as little as 50¢ per contact. Larry Mersereau's newest book Post Card POWER shows you how to assemble a qualified mailing list, design and write post cards that will hit them between the eyes with your message and demand response. Mersereau is the author of the small business classic Shoestring Marketing and the more recent How to Create your own POWERFUL Ads and Promo Pieces. The Race to the Moon Chronicled in Stamps, Postcards, and Postmarks Umberto Cavallaro, 2018-10-05. The story of the famed race to the Moon between the US and the USSR has been told countless times. The strategies of these two superpowers have often been paralleled in a way that highlights their fight for dominance and efforts to develop needed new technologies. This book will show how beneath these surface similarities the two competing nations employed very different core tactics. It provides a new perspective of the history of the space race by analyzing that history through philately, that is, from the images on postage stamps, post cards, and letters in circulation at that time. Through this fascinating historical visual record, the author shows how the propaganda-heavy approach of the USSR eventually lost out to the more pragmatic approach of the United States. Tahiti Beyond the Postcard Miriam Kahn, 2011. Tahiti evokes visions of white beaches and beautiful women. This imagined paradise created by Euro-American romanticism endures today as the bedrock of Tahiti's tourism industry, while quite a different place is inhabited and experienced by ta'ata ma'ohi, as Tahitians refer to themselves. This book brings into dialogue the perspectives on place of both Tahitians and Europeans. Miriam Kahn is professor of anthropology at the University of Washington and author of Always Hungry, Never Greedy. Postcards from Another Planet Pasquale De Marco, 2025-04-28.
