Hyman, 2021-08-03 This book examines the reception in Latin America of prints designed by the Flemish artist Peter Paul Rubens showing how colonial artists used such designs to create all manner of artworks and in the process forged new frameworks for artistic creativity Peter Paul Rubens 1577 1640 never crossed the Atlantic himself but his impact in colonial Latin America was profound Prints made after the Flemish artist s designs were routinely sent from Europe to the Spanish Americas where artists used them to make all manner of objects Rubens in Repeat is the first comprehensive study of this transatlantic phenomenon despite broad recognition that it was one of the most important forces to shape the artistic landscapes of the region Copying particularly in colonial contexts has traditionally held negative implications that have discouraged its serious exploration Yet analyzing the interpretation of printed sources and recontextualizing the resulting works within period discourse and their original spaces of display allow a new critical reassessment of this broad category of art produced in colonial Latin America art that has all too easily been dismissed as derivative and thus unworthy of sustained interest and investigation This book takes a new approach to the paradigms of artistic authorship that emerged alongside these complex creative responses focusing on the viceroyalties of New Spain and Peru in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries It argues that the use of European prints was an essential component of the very framework in which colonial artists forged ideas about what it meant to be a creator

Religion in New Spain Susan Schroeder,Stafford Poole,2007 Religion in New Spain presents an overview of the history of colonial religious culture and encompasses aspects of religion in the many regions of New Spain In reading these essays it is clear the Spanish conquest was not the end all of indigenous culture that the Virgin of Guadalupe was a myth in the making by locals as well as foreigners that nuns and priests had real lives and that the institutional colonial church even post Trent was seldom if ever above or beyond political or economic influence Susan Schroeder and Stafford Poole have divided the presentations into seven parts that represent general categories spanning the colonial era Encounters Accommodation and Outright Idolatry Native Sexuality and Christian Morality Believing in Miracles Taking the Veil and New Realities Guardian of the Christian Society The Holy Office of the Inquisition Racism Judaizing and Gambling Music and Martyrdom on the Northern Frontier and Tangential Christianity on Other Frontiers Business and Politics as Usual Sacred space can be anywhere and might not be bound by walls and ceilings As the authors of these essays show religion is often an attempt to reconcile the mysterious and unmanageable forces of nature such as storms droughts floods infestations of pests epidemic diseases and sicknesses it is an attempt to control the uncontrollable

Creating Their Own Image Lisa E. Farrington, 2005 Creating Their Own Image marks the first comprehensive history of African American women artists from slavery to the present day Using an analysis of stereotypes of Africans and African Americans in western art and culture as a springboard Lisa E Farrington here richly details hundreds of important works many of which deliberately challenge these same identity myths of the carnal Jezebel the asexual Mammy the imperious Matriarch in crafting a portrait of artistic creativity unprecedented in its scope and ambition In these lavishly illustrated pages some of which feature images never before published we learn of the efforts of Elizabeth Keckley fashion designer to Mary Todd Lincoln the acclaimed sculptor Edmonia Lewis internationally renowned for her neoclassical works in marble and the artist Nancy Elizabeth Prophet and her innovative teaching techniques We meet Laura Wheeler Waring who portrayed women of color as members of a socially elite class in stark contrast to the prevalent images of compliant maids impoverished malcontents and exotics others that proliferated in the inter war period We read of the painter Barbara Jones Hogue's collaboration on the famed Wall of Respect even as we view a rare photograph of Hogue in the process of painting the mural Farrington expertly guides us through the fertile period of the Harlem Renaissance and the New Negro Movement which produced an entirely new crop of artists who consciously imbued their work with a social and political agenda and through the tumultuous explosive years of the civil rights movement Drawing on revealing interviews with numerous contemporary artists such as Betye Saar Faith Ringgold Nanette Carter Camille Billops Xenobia Bailey and many others the second half of Creating Their Own Image probes more recent stylistic developments such as abstraction conceptualism and post modernism never losing sight of the struggles and challenges that have consistently influenced this body of work Weaving together an expansive collection of artists styles and periods Farrington argues that for centuries African American women artists have created an alternative vision of how women of color can be and might be represented in American culture From utilitarian objects such as quilts and baskets to a wide array of fine arts Creating Their Own Image serves up compelling evidence of the fundamental human need to convey one's life one's emotions one's experiences on a canvas of one's own making

Take My Word Anne E. Goldman, 2023-09-01 In an innovative critique of traditional approaches to autobiography Anne E Goldman convincingly demonstrates that ethnic women can and do speak for themselves even in the most unlikely contexts Citing a wide variety of nontraditional texts including the cookbooks of Nuevo Mexicanas African American memoirs of midwifery and healing and Jewish women's histories of the garment industry Goldman illustrates how American women have asserted their ethnic identities and made their voices heard over and sometimes against the interests of publishers editors and readers While the dominant culture has interpreted works of ethnic literature as representative of a people rather than an individual the working women of this study insist upon their own agency in narrating rich and complicated self portraits In an innovative critique of traditional approaches to autobiography
