Spanish Waters Henry Reynolds, 1924 Alcala Zamora and the Failure of the Spanish Republic, 1931-1936 Stanley G. Payne, 2017-02-23 The Second Spanish Republic 1931-36 was the only new liberal democratic regime to emerge in Europe during the 1930s Historians however have focused primarily on the Civil War of 1936-39 that followed devoting much less attention to the parliamentary regime that preceded it This book deals with the history and failure of the democratic polity in Spain through a detailed examination of the initiatives of its president Niceto Alcala Zamora As civil servant lawyer politician and writer by 1931 he had become one of the most successful men of Spain He played the leading role in the downfall of the monarchy and the inauguration of the Republic which he served for eight months as initial prime minister and then as the first president Stanley Payne s study argues that the failure of the Republic was not inevitable but depended on the policy choices of its president and the key party leaders Alcala Zamora s professed goal was to center the Republic stabilizing the new regime while avoiding extremes but he failed altogether in this project The Constitution of 1931 stipulated the double responsibility of parliamentary government both to the president and to a voting majority Though Alcala Zamora resisted strong efforts from the left to cancel the results of the first fully democratic elections in 1933 he subsequently used his powers recklessly making and unmaking governments at will refusing to permit normal functioning of parliament This first critical scholarly account of the presidency of Alcala Zamora casts new light on the failure of democracy in interwar Europe and on the origins of the Spanish Civil War

Destruction was coming upon them that was enough to know how to provide against it was the one thing to be considered Some hastened to the churches others to the taverns Here prayers went up there wine went down The petitions of the pious were matched by the ribaldry of the profligate Some made their wills others wasted their wealth in revelry eager to get all the pleasure out of life that remained for them Many freely gave away their property hoping by ridding themselves of the goods of this earth to establish a claim to the goods of Heaven with little regard to the fate of those whom they loaded with their discarded wealth It was an era of ignorance and superstition Christendom went insane over an idea When the year ended and the world rolled on none the worse for conflagration or deluge green with the spring leafage and ripe with the works of man dismay gave way to hope mirth took the place of prayer man regained their flown wits and those who had so recklessly given away their wealth bethought themselves of taking legal measures for its recovery Such was one of the events that made that year memorable There was another of a highly different character Instead of a world being lost a world was found The Old World not only remained unharmed but a New World was added to it a world beyond the seas for this was the year in which the foot of the European was first set upon the shores of the trans Atlantic continent It is the story of this first discovery of America that we have now to tell In the autumn of the year 1000 in a region far away from fear haunted Europe a scene was being enacted of a very different character from that just described Over the waters of unknown seas a small strange craft boldly made its way manned by a crew of the hardiest and most vigorous men driven by a single square sail whose coarse woollen texture bellied deeply before the fierce ocean winds which seemed at times as if they would drive that deckless vessel bodily beneath the waves This crew was of men to whom fear was almost unknown the stalwart Vikings of the North whose oar and sail driven barks now set out from the coasts of Norway and Denmark to ravage the shores of southern Europe now turned their prows boldly to the west in search of unknown lands afar Shall we describe this craft It was a tiny one in which to venture upon an untravelled ocean in search of an unknown continent a vessel shaped somewhat like a strung bow scarcely fifty feet in length low amidships and curving upwards to high peaks at stem and stern both of which converged to sharp edges It resembled an enormous canoe rather than aught else to which we can compare it On the stem was a carved and gilt dragon the figurehead of the ship which glittered in the bright rays of the sun Along the bulwarks of the ship fore and aft hung rows of large painted wooden shields which gave an Argus eyed aspect to the craft Between them was a double row of thole pins for the great oars which now lay at rest in the bottom of the boat but by which in calm weather this walker of the seas could be forced swiftly through the yielding element
