Background Noise, Second Edition Brandon LaBelle,2015-01-29 Background Noise follows the development of sound as an artistic medium and illustrates how sound is put to use within modes of composition installation and performance While chronological in its structure Brandon LaBelle s book is informed by spatial thinking weaving architecture environments and the specifics of location into the work of sound with the aim of formulating an expansive history and understanding of sound art At its center the book presupposes an intrinsic relation between sound and its location galvanizing acoustics sound phenomena and the environmental with the tensions inherent in what LaBelle identifies as sound s relational dynamic For the author this is embedded within sound s tendency to become public expressed in its ability to travel distances foster cultural expression and define spaces while being radically flexible This second expanded edition includes a new chapter on the non human and subnatural tendencies in sound art revisions to the text as well as a new preface by the author Intersecting material analysis with theoretical frameworks spanning art and architectural theory performance studies and media theory Background Noise makes the case that sound and sound art are central to understandings of contemporary culture

The Meaning of Modern Architecture Hans Rudolf Morgenthaller,2016-03-09 Using empathy as established by the Vienna School of Art History complemented by insights on how the mind processes visual stimuli as demonstrated by late 19th century psychologists and art theorists this book puts forward an innovative interpretative method of decoding the forms and spaces of Modern buildings This method was first developed as scholars realized that the new abstract art appearing needed to be analysed differently than the previous figurative works Since architecture experienced a similar development in the 1920s and 30s this book argues that the empathetic method can also be used in architectural interpretation While most existing scholarship tends to focus on formal and functional analysis this book proposes that Modern architecture is too diverse to be reduced to a few common formal or ornamental features Instead by relying on the viewer's innate psycho-physiological perceptive abilities sensual and intuitive understandings of composition form and space are emphasized These aspects are especially significant because Modern Architecture lacks the traditional stylistic signs Including building analyses it shows how by visually reducing cubical forms and spaces to linear configurations the exteriors and interiors of Modern buildings can be interpreted via human perceptive abilities as dynamic movement systems commensurate with the new industrial transportation age This reveals an inner necessity these buildings express about themselves and their culture rather than just an explanation of how they are assembled and how they should be used The case studies highlight the contrasts between buildings designed by different architects rather than concentrating on the few features that relate them to the zeitgeist It analyses the buildings directly as the objects of study not indirectly as designs filtered through a philosophical or theoretical discourse The book demonstrates that with technology and science affecting culture

Space, Images, and Art Perception in Napoleonic Paris Camilla Murgia, 2025-10-01 This book examines the impact of space on the perception of art and visual culture in early nineteenth century Paris It turns its attention to the way in which space determines the understanding and the development of visual culture The abundance of images their status and their employment alike offer a means to grasp the extent of the development of an approach to art which further involved the spectator Space is here conceived as a multifaceted entity spanning architectural scholarly artistic and visual dimensions These various aspects offer means to consider the way in which images work and are consumed and the individual experience they represent Space works as a link and a connecting tool between different intellectual and visual categories and this study examines how this interaction applies to works of art as well as everyday objects

Subject to Display Jennifer A. Gonzalez, 2011-03-04 An exploration of the visual culture of race through the work of five contemporary artists who came to prominence during the 1990s Over the past two decades artists James Luna Fred Wilson Amalia Mesa Bains Pep n Osorio and Ren e Green have had a profound impact on the meaning and practice of installation art in the United States In Subject to Display Jennifer Gonz lez offers the first sustained analysis of their contribution linking the history and legacy of race discourse to innovations in contemporary art Race writes Gonz lez is a social discourse that has a visual history The collection and display of bodies images and artifacts in museums and elsewhere is a primary means by which a nation tells the story of its past and locates the cultures of its citizens in the present All five of the American installation artists Gonz lez considers have explored the practice of putting human subjects and their cultures on display by staging elaborate dioramas or site specific interventions in galleries and museums in doing so they have created powerful social commentary of the politics of space and the power of display in settings that mimic the very spaces they critique These artists installations have not only contributed to the transformation of contemporary art and museum culture but also linked Latino African American and Native American subjects to the broader spectrum of historical colonialism race dominance and visual culture From Luna s museum installation of his own body and belongings as artifacts and Wilson s provocative juxtapositions of museum objects to Mesa Bains s allegorical home altars Osorio s condensed spaces bedrooms living rooms barbershops prison cells and Green s genealogies of cultural contact the theoretical and critical endeavors of these artists demonstrate how race discourse is grounded in a visual technology of display

Aspects Edward A. Vazquez, 2018-01-02 Stretching lengths of yarn across interior spaces American artist Fred Sandback 1943 2003 created expansive works that underscore the physical presence of the viewer This book the first major study of Sandback explores the full range of his art which not only disrupts traditional conceptions of material presence but also stages an ethics of interaction between object and observer Drawing on Sandback s substantial archive Edward A Vazquez demonstrates that the artist s work with all its physical slightness and attentiveness to place as well as its relationship to minimal and conceptual art of the 1960s creates a link between viewers and space that is best understood as sculptural even as it almost surpasses physical form At the same time the economy of Sandback s site determined practice draws viewers focus to their connection to space and others sharing it As Vazquez shows Sandback s art aims for nothing less than a total recalibration of the senses as the spectator is caught on neither one side nor the other of an object or space but powerfully within it of a paintings gallery the mainstay of museums traces its ancestry to prototypes in the palaces of Rome Inside Roman palaces the display of art was calibrated to an increasingly accentuated dynamism of social and official life activated by the moving bodies and the attention of residents and visitors Display unfolded in space in a purposeful narrative that reflected rank honor privilege and intimacy With a contextual approach that encompasses the full range of media from textiles to stucco this study traces the influential emerging concept of a unified interior It argues that art history even the emergence of the modern category of fine art was worked out as much in the rooms of palaces as in the printed pages of Vasari and other early writers on art
