Spatial Disparities And Social Behaviour:

Spatial Disparities and Social Behaviour Jürgen Friedrichs, 1982 Inclusion and Democracy Iris Marion Young, 2002 Democratic equality entails a principle that everyone whose basic interests are affected by policies should be included in the process of making them Yet individuals and groups often claim that decision making processes are dominated by only some of the interests and perspectives in the society What are the ideals of inclusion through which such criticisms should be made and which might guide more inclusive political practice This book considers that question from the point of view of norms of democratic communication processes of representation and association and how wide the scope of political jurisdictions should be Democratic theorists have not sufficiently attended to the ways processes of debate and decision making often marginalize individuals and groups because the norms of political discussion are biased against some forms of expression Inclusion and Democracy broadens our understanding of democratic communication by reflecting on the positive political functions of narrative rhetorically situated appeals and public protest It reconstructs concepts of civil society and public sphere as enacting such plural forms of communication among debating citizens in large scale societies The book considers issues of the scope of the polity at two levels global and local The scope of a polity should extend as wide as the scope of social and economic interactions that raise issues of justice Today this implies the need for global democratic institutions At a more local level processes of residential segregation and the design of municipal jurisdictions often result in the ability for actions in one locale to affect those in other locales without those making the decisions having to include some of those affected in the decision making process Metropolitan governments which preserve significant local autonomy may therefore be necessary to promote political equality The Uncertain Future of the Urban Core Christopher M. Law, 2017-10-12 Originally published in 1988 Inner city problems in advanced countries are being exacerbated by the decentralisation of economic activities and higher income groups Only offices and tourism offer some prospects of growth but these vary in their potential from one city to another This book assesses changes in the structure of urban areas concentrating on the process of decentralisation and the consequences for the inner city and city centre It examines and evaluates policies and makes suggestions for the future management of the city Urban Housing Segregation of Minorities in Western Europe and the United States Elizabeth D. Huttman, Wim Blauw, Juliet Saltman, 1991 This book provides an expert examination and comparison of housing segregation in major population centers in the United States and Western Europe and analyzes successes and failures of government policies and desegregation programs in the United States the United Kingdom the Netherlands Sweden France and West Germany The collection begins with a review of the historical development of housing segregation in these countries describing current housing conditions concentration of housing in each country's leading cities minority populations and the housing they occupy specifically public nonprofit and owner occupied dwellings When focusing on the United States the contributors assess housing segregation antisegregation measures and institutional racism toward blacks in the Midwest and South and toward Mexican Americans throughout American cities Chapters dealing with Western Europe include housing segregation of South Asian and West Indian immigrants in Britain immigrants in Sweden Turkish and Yugoslav guest workers in West Germany and Algerian and other Arab groups in France The book concludes with discussions of public housing policies suburban desegregation resegregation and integration maintenance programs specific integration stabilization programs and desegregation efforts in one specific place Contributors Elizabeth Huttman Michal Arend Cihan Arin Maurice Blanc Wim Blauw Ger Mik Clyde McDaniels J rgen Friedrichs Hannes Alpheis John M Goering Len Gordon Albert Mayer Rosemary Helper Barry V Johnston Terry Jones Valerie Karn G ran Lindberg Anna Lisa Lind n Deborah Phillips Dennis Keating Juliet Saltman Alan Murie The Evolution of Social Behavior in Insects and Arachnids Jae C. Choe, Bernard J. Crespi, 1997 Social insects and arachnids exhibit complex forms of behavior that involve cooperation in building a nest defending against attackers or rearing offspring This book is a comprehensive up to date guide to sociality and its evolution in a wide range of taxa Ethnic Minorities and Industrial Change in Europe and North America Malcolm Cross, 1992-10-22 Following World War II racial and ethnic minorities formed a pool of low paid labour upon which the industrial city depended When industrial production shifted overseas the new local technological industries required fewer better skilled workers The consequence for those excluded was disastrous In this book leading authorities compare the situation of minorities in the post industrial cities of Europe and North America

The Economics of Addictive Behaviours Volume IV John Joshua, 2017-08-09 This title offers an in depth analysis of the psychological causes and consequences of and proposed interventions for over eating The author examines the history of obesity and its distribution by social class and geography the environmental effects of overconsumption and economic remedies such as the introduction of a sugar tax to reduce obesity Joshua also considers the politics of corporate social responsibility of food and beverage corporations and how this could prevent poor health decisions This is the final title in a four volume series The Economics of Addictive Behaviours consisting of three additional volumes on smoking alcohol abuse and illicit drug abuse Economic Evolution and Demographic Change Günter Haag, Ulrich Mueller, Klaus G. Troitzsch, 2012-12-06 The articles collected in this volume have two features in common they want to integrate economics demography and geography and they want to overcome the stationary approach in modelling in favour of a dynamic one The book is subdivided into three parts where Part I is focussing on economic evolution Part II on geographical development and Part III is related to demographic change The present volume aims at providing a new look at this triangle in view of the classical background of discussions by introducing new research ideas focussing in nonlinear dynamics and stochastic modelling Thus the main purpose of this book is to make a contribution to the interdisciplinary work needed to integrate the efforts between these three research fields and to serve as a research source in demonstrating the current state of art in dynamic modelling The book is addressed to social scientists in general and those in particular with a background in economics geographics and demographics It should also be of interest to mathematicians physicists and systems analysts interested in model building and applications of nonlinear dynamics Computational Science and Its Applications - ICCSA 2025 Workshops Osvaldo Gervasi,Beniamino Murgante,Chiara Garau,Yeliz Karaca,Maria Noelia Faginas Lago,Francesco Scorza,Ana Cristina Braga,2025-08-07 The fourteen volume set LNCS 15886 15899 constitutes the papers of several workshops which were held in conjunction with the 25th International Conference on Computational Science and Its Applications ICCSA 2025 held in Istanbul Turkey during June 30 July 3 2025 The 362 full papers 37 short papers and 2 PHD showcase included in this book were carefully reviewed and selected from 1043 submissions In addition the conference consisted of 58 workshops focusing on very topical issues of importance to science technology and society from new mathematical approaches for solving complex computational systems to information and knowledge in the Internet of Things new statistical and optimization methods several Artificial Intelligence approaches sustainability issues smart cities and related technologies State of the World's Cities 2010/11 Un-Habitat,2010-08-12 The world s urban population now exceeds the world s rural population What does this mean for the state of our cities given the strain this global demographic shift is placing upon current urban infrastructures Following on from previous State of the World s Cities reports this edition uses the framework of The Urban Divide to analyse the complex social political economic and cultural dynamics of urban environments In particular the book focuses on the concept of the right to the city and ways in which many urban dwellers are excluded from the advantages of city life using the framework to explore links among poverty inequality slum formation and economic growth The volume will be essential reading for all professionals and policymakers in the field as well as a valuable resource for researchers and students in all aspects of urban development Published with UN Habitat The Future of the Metropolis Hans-Jürgen Ewers,John B. offers a comprehensive overview of media and migration through new research as well as a review of present scholarship in this expanding and promising field. It explores key interdisciplinary concepts and methodologies and how these are challenged by new realities and the links between contemporary migration patterns and its use of mediated processes. Although primarily grounded in media and communication studies, the Handbook builds on research in the fields of sociology, anthropology, political science, urban studies, science and technology studies, human rights, development studies, and gender and sexuality studies to bring to the forefront key theories, concepts, and methodological approaches to the study of the movement of people. In seven parts, the Handbook dissects important areas of cross-disciplinary and generational discourse for graduate students, early career researchers, migration management practitioners, and academics in the fields of media and migration studies, international development, communication studies, and the wider social science discipline.

European Drug Policies and Enforcement Nicholas Dorn, Jorgen Jepsen, Ernesto Savona, A.P. Thirlwall, 1996-06-12
 Drug problems present sharp challenges for policing and democracy in the European Union. Harmonisation of anti-trafficking measures contrasts with diversity of local policies on drug users. Open drug scenes trigger innovative but often volatile responses. This collection presents vivid experiences of drug policy making at city, regional, and higher levels. For the future beyond 1996, EU confederal and intergovernmental scenarios have distinct implications for drugs. Finally, international dimensions are explored: drug control through money laundering, countermeasures, trade and development policies, security, and EU enlargement.

Digital Social Networks and Travel Behaviour in Urban Environments Pnina O. Plaut, Dalit Shach-Pinsly, 2019-10-17
 This book brings together conceptual and empirical insights to explore the interconnections between social networks based on Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) and travel behaviour in urban environments. Over the past decade, rapid development of ICT has led to extensive social impacts and influence on travel and mobility patterns within urban spaces. A new field of research of digital social networks and travel behaviour is now emerging. This book presents state-of-the-art knowledge, cutting-edge research, and integrated analysis methods from the fields of social networks, travel behaviour, and urban analysis. It explores the challenges related to the question of how we can synchronize among social networks, activities, transport means, intelligent communication, information technologies, and the urban form. This innovative book encourages multidisciplinary insights and fusion among three disciplines: social networks, travel behaviour, and urban analysis. It offers new horizons for research and will be of interest to students and scholars studying mobilities, transport studies, urban geography, urban planning, the built environment, and urban policy.

Poverty and Health Kevin Michael Fitzpatrick, 2013-10-28
 A collection of in-depth essays focused on the health issues facing the poorest populations in the United States as it relates to the common good of all Americans. Despite living in one of the wealthiest countries in the world, far too many low-income and no-income men and women and children in this nation are without health insurance or health care More than half of those financially bereft have a serious health problem with poor children three to five times more likely to experience chronic health issues than their more affluent peers This set is a compilation of writings that address the complex problem of poverty and health across location and population Through two informative volumes the authors examine key issues including health care delivery access and disparities among various disenfranchised populations Leading experts explore the reciprocal relationship between economic disadvantage and poor health and ponder potential solutions to cope with these challenges

A Behavioural Theory of Economic Development Robert Huggins, Piers Thompson, 2021-01-14 Innovation entrepreneurship knowledge and human capital are widely acknowledged as key levers of development Yet what are the sources of these factors and why do they differ in their endowment across regions Motivated by a belief that theories of economic development can move beyond the generally accepted explanations of location and the organization of industries and capital this book establishes a behavioural theory of economic development illustrating that differences in human behaviour across cities and regions are a significant deep rooted cause of uneven development Fusing a range of concepts relating to culture psychology human agency institutions and power it proposes that the long term differentials in economic development between cities and regions both within and across nations is strongly connected to the underlying forms of behaviour enacted by humans on an individual and collective basis Given a world of finite and limited resources coupled with a rapidly growing population especially in cities and urban regions human behaviour and the expectations and preferences upon which it is based are central to understanding how notions of development may change in coming years This book provides a novel theory of the role of psychocultural context and human behavioural and institutional frameworks in uneven economic development on a global scale

State of the World's Cities 2010/2011, 2010 One billion people worldwide live in slums and that figure is predicted to reach 2 billion by 2030 This new volume from UN HABITAT unpacks the complex social and economic issues using the novel conceptual framework of the urban divide
