Skeptische Poetik in der Aufklärung Michael Hammerschmid, 2002

John Donne's Performances Margret Fetzter, 2013-07-19 Ever since their rediscovery in the 1920s John Donne's writings have been praised for their energy vigour and drama yet so far no attempt has been made to approach and define systematically these major characteristics of his work Drawing on J L Austin's speech act theory Margret Fetzter's comparative reading of Donne's poetry and prose eschews questions of personal or religious sincerity and instead recreates an image of John Donne as a man of many performances No matter if engaged in the writing of a sermon or a piece of erotic poetry Donne placed enormous trust in what words could do Questions as to how saying something may actually bring about that very thing or how playing the part of someone else affects an actor's identity are central to Donne's oeuvre and moreover highly relevant in the cultural and theological contexts of the early modern period in general In treating both canonical and lesser known Donne texts John Donne's Performances hopes to make a significant contribution not only to Donne criticism and research into early modern culture by using concepts of performance and performativity as its major theoretical backdrop it aims to establish an interdisciplinary link with the field of performance studies

The Play Within the Play Gerhard Fischer, Bernhard Greiner, 2007 The thirty chapters of this innovative international study are all devoted to the topic of the play within the play The authors explore the wide range of aesthetic literary theoretical and philosophical issues associated with this rhetorical device not only in terms of its original meta theatrical setting from the baroque idea of a theatrum mundi onward to contemporary examples of postmodern self referential dramaturgy but also with regard to a variety of different generic applications e g in narrative fiction musical theatre and film The authors internationally recognized specialists in their respective fields draw on recent debates in such areas as postcolonial studies game and systems theories media and performance studies to analyze the specific qualities and characteristics of the play within the play as ultimate affirmation of the self the Hamlet paradigm as a self reflective agency of meta theatrical discourse and as a vehicle of intermedial and intercultural transformation The challenging study with its underlying premise of play as a key feature of cultural anthropology and human creativity breaks new ground by placing the play within the play at the centre of a number of intersecting scholarly discourses on areas of topical concern to scholars in the humanities
