Inner and Outer Lives Ron Haflidson, 2019-07-25 Ron Haflidson places the theology of Augustine in conversation with contemporary authors who warn of the dangers of abandoning solitude for constant often technological connection Haflidson addresses an essential question that has previously been neglected What difference does it make to the practice of solitude if one believes that even in the absence of any human company God is always intimately present For Augustine solitude is a moral necessity he recommends that we regularly retreat from the crowd into the depths of our conscience where we can dwell alone in the company of God and enter into dialogue before and with God about who we are and how we love Throughout this book Haflidson pairs close readings of Augustine with those of noted cartographers of our inner lives literary greats including Jane Austen George Eliot Marilynne Robinson and George Saunders This book explores what undiscovered possibilities may lie in solitude Who One Is J.G. Hart, 2009-04-21 Both volumes of this work have as their central concern to sort out who one is from what one is In this Book 1 the focus is on transcendental phenomenological ontology When we refer to ourselves we refer both non ascriptively in regard to non propertied as well as ascriptively in regard to propertied aspects of ourselves The latter is the richness of our personal being the former is the essentially elusive central concern of this Book 1 I can be aware of myself and refer to myself without it being necessary to think of any third personal characteristic indeed one may be aware of oneself without having to be aware of anything except oneself This consideration opens the door to basic issues in phenomenological ontology such as identity individuation and substance In our knowledge and love of Others we find symmetry with the first person self knowledge both in its non ascriptive forms as well as in its property ascribing forms Love properly has for its referent the Other as present through but beyond her properties Transcendental phenomenological reflections move us to consider paradoxes of the transcendental person For example we contend with the unpresentability in the transcendental first person of our beginning or ending and the undeniable evidence for the beginning and ending of persons in our third person experience The basic distinction between oneself as non sortal and as a person pervaded by properties serves as a hinge for reflecting on the afterlife This transcendental phenomenological ontology of necessity deals with some themes of the philosophy of religion Heaven In Ordinarie Noel O'Donoghue,2000-12-27 A unique study of those human dimensions such as belonging loneliness and pathos often overlooked in theology and philosophy Thomas Merton and the Noonday Demon Donald Grayston,2015-10-29 In Thomas Merton and the Noonday Demon Donald Grayson transforms a long neglected cache of letters found in an ancient monastery into a book that offers new insight into the author of these letters Thomas Merton the renowned spiritual writer At the time of their writing the mid 1950s he was living as a Trappist monk at the Abbey of Gethsemani in Kentucky Having reached an impasse in his monastic vocation he decided to leave Gethsemani for the Monastery of Camaldoli in Italy Camaldoli at that time bucolic and peaceful outwardly was inwardly riven by a pre Vatican II culture war whereas Gethsemani which he tried so hard to leave became when he was given his hermitage there in 1965 his place to recover Eden In walking with Merton on this journey and reading the letters he wrote and received at the time we find ourselves asking as he did with so much energy and honesty the deep questions that we may well need to answer in our own lives Love and Friendship Eduardo A. Velásquez,2003-01-01 Love and Friendship gathers the reflections of some of today s most preeminent political scientists philosophers historians and students of literature and religion in an investigation of the most influential accounts of love and friendship in Western history The collection begins with a discussion of classical philosophers such as Plato and Aristotle moves through a wide array of modern philosophers among them Montaigne Hobbes Locke and Rousseau and concludes with contemporary postmodern accounts of love and friendship Taken together the essays provide an unprecedented exploration of the most compelling and sovereign human affections and associations Eduardo Velásquez s marvelous ambitious project succeeds as each thoughtful and engaging piece proves the depth of the intimate relationship between psychology and political life Solitude and Love of the World Thomas Merton (trappistmunk),1997 Love and Living Thomas Merton,2007-10 Reprint Originally published New York Farrar Straus Giroux c1979 Light ,1900 *Verhandelingen der Koninklijke Nederlandse Akademie van Wetenschappen, Afd.
