Gann, Peter Duignan, 1969 A comprehensive study of recent African history examining the political social and economic effects of colonialism Africa Army Library (U.S.), 1973 The Negritude Movement Reiland Rabaka, 2015-05-20 The Negritude Movement provides readers with not only an intellectual history of the Negritude Movement but also its prehistory W E B Du Bois the New Negro Movement and the Harlem Renaissance and its posthistory Frantz Fanon and the evolution of Fanonism By viewing Negritude as an insurgent idea to invoke this book's intentionally incendiary subtitle as opposed to merely a form of poetics and aesthetics The Negritude Movement explores Negritude as a traveling theory la Edward Said's concept that consistently crisscrossed the Atlantic Ocean in the twentieth century from Harlem to Haiti Haiti to Paris Paris to Martinique Martinique to Senegal and on and on ad infinitum The Negritude Movement maps the movements of proto Negritude concepts from Du Bois's discourse in The Souls of Black Folk through to post Negritude concepts in Fanon's Black Skin White Masks and The Wretched of the Earth Utilizing Negritude as a conceptual framework to on the one hand explore the Africana intellectual tradition in the twentieth century and on the other hand demonstrate discursive continuity between Du Bois and Fanon as well as the Harlem Renaissance and Negritude Movement The Negritude Movement ultimately accents what Negritude contributed to arguably its greatest intellectual heir Frantz Fanon and the development of his distinct critical theory Fanonism Rabaka argues that if Fanon and Fanonism remain relevant in the twenty first century then to a certain extent Negritude remains relevant in the twenty first century African International Relations Mark W. DeLancey, 2019-03-13 African International Relations is a thoroughly revised and updated bibliography that contains annotated entries for international books and journal articles in the field of African international relations Africa, Sub-Sahara Harlan D. Robinson, 1974 African Politics P.F. Gonidec, 2012-12-06 To an increasing extent nationals of Third World countries are protesting against the tendency of foreign theoreticians and observers to study their problems political problems in particular in terms of concepts and theories established on the basis of European experiences For instance the Egyptian Abdel Malek I in La dialectique sociale writes At the starting point whose broad lines we sketch here there is evidence of inadequation deriving from the fact of difference Inadequation of the conceptual system of the social sciences Differences between Western societies which have provided the larger part of the analytical material for the conceptual elaboration and establishment of theoretical systems in different disciplines on the one hand and non Western societies those of Asia Africa and Latin America on the other hand This does not mean that the author impugns universalism and that he advocates enclosing the Third World in a sort of intellectual ghetto overemphasizing its specificity and constituting as it were reserves designed to highlight the exotic aspect for the benefit of foreigners 2 On the contrary what he takes sociology to task for is its insufficiently universal and universalizing nature This being so his aim is to make concepts more universal and to rebuild theory with the help of reshaped concepts Abdel Malek's criticisms are largely justified There is indeed a certain eurocentricity in the theories elaborated by political scientists even if they deny it Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1972 Convergence and Cold War, 1953-1964 Austin Jersild, 2025-07-31 The academic debate in Western social science about the growing convergence or similarities between American and Soviet society acquired political significance in the diverse relationships that made up the global Cold War Convergence and Cold War 1953-1964 explores the consequences and challenges of convergence through a discussion of U S Soviet relations Sino Soviet relations and East South relations The book argues that the debate about convergence was a debate about the character of the broader Cold War itself and the background to the more recent experience of contemporary globalization and its shared practices and norms The volume begins by addressing how Americans debated the prospect of a less threatening socialist world shaped by the challenges of industrial modernity while the Soviets hoped to imitate Western standards of living alongside developing supposedly more elevated forms of consumption leisure culture trade and economic exchange The second section analyzes the way supporters of Chairman Mao in China associated the socialist bloc's engagement with the West as an example of its deterioration and dangerous abandonment of socialist values and practices The closing chapters examine how the Chinese communicated their frustration with the Soviets and East Europeans to postcolonial states in the Global South Jersild unpacks this through a case study of Guinea Conakry which posed questions about the common practices and policies of the superpowers This volume is a valuable resource to students and scholars of the Cold War and International Relations as well as all those interested in postcolonial studies and the history of globalization

The Indian Ocean and the Superpowers Rasul Bux Rais, 1987-01-01 This study focuses on the political and strategic implications of the presence in the Indian Ocean of the United States and the Soviet Union The author examines the geopolitics of the region in historical perspective and describes the evolution of U S and Soviet strategy in the Indian Ocean The central theme of the book is that the naval deployments of the superpowers should be seen in the context of each power's economic and security interests rather than in the context of military rivalry The book provides an incisive and comprehensive account of U S and Soviet strategies in the Indian Ocean by establishing and integrating the links between the economic political and strategic dynamics of the situation

African Theology Emmanuel Martey, 2009-11-01 Two major strands of theology have developed in Africa inculturation and liberation each in response to different needs Emmanuel Martey's African Theology provides a clear scholarly examination of these two basic approaches solidly based on Martey's understanding of contemporary theology and his firsthand knowledge of Africa Martey first examines the historical background of each of these theological developments especially relating to cultural and political movements enveloping the continent in the 1970s In sub-Saharan Africa struggles for independence from colonizers have resulted in inculturation theology The defining aspect of this theology is that it pushes its roots firmly in African culture and traditions In South Africa on the other hand Black Africans struggling against the oppressive systems of apartheid have turned to liberation theology Martey shows how the real hope for African theology lies in the dialectical encounter between these two approaches and in their potential for convergence The two foci of liberation and inculturation Martey says are not contradictory but complement each other African Theology concludes by challenging African theologians to weld together the praxis of inculturation with that of liberation in order to achieve an integrative vision for the continent

Concepts of Cabralism Reiland Rabaka, 2014-07-16 By examining Amilcar Cabral's theories and praxes as well as several of the antecedents and major influences on the evolution of his radical politics and critical social theory Concepts of Cabralism Amilcar Cabral and Africana Critical Theory simultaneously reintroduces chronicles and analyzes several of the core characteristics of the Africana tradition of critical theory Reiland Rabaka's primary preoccupation is with Cabral's theoretical and political legacies that is to say with the ways in which he constructed deconstructed and reconstructed theory and the aims objectives and concrete outcomes of his theoretical applications and discursive practices The book begins with the Negritude Movement and specifically the work of Leopold Senghor Aimé Césaire and Jean Paul Sartre Next it shifts the focus to Frantz Fanon's discourse on radical disalienation and revolutionary decolonization Finally it offers an extended engagement of Cabral's critical theory and contributions to the African tradition of critical theory Ultimately Concepts of Cabralism chronicles and critiques revisits and revises the black radical tradition with an eye toward the ways in which classical black radicalism informs or should inform not only contemporary black radicalism African nationalism and Pan Africanism but also contemporary efforts to create a new anti racist anti sexist anti capitalist anti colonialist and anti imperialist critical theory of contemporary society what has come to be called African critical theory Africa Air University (U.S.). The International Dimension of Genocide in Rwanda A. Klinghoffer,1998-09-28 The mass killings in Rwanda in 1994 shocked the world but the international response was ineffective The end of the Cold War had created a moral climate supportive of humanitarian intervention and enforcement of the Genocide Convention but it had not produced adequate legal and structural mechanisms to carry out such action The book examines the failures of the United Nations the Organization of African Unity regional states and major world powers either to prevent or terminate the genocide and draws lessons for intervention in future External Research List ,1967 External Research United States.
