Strengthening Urban

Management Thomas L. Blair, 2013-03-08 Managing cities and providing housing essential infrastructure and public services in an era of great pressures on municipal resources are challenging domestic issues in all parts of the world Increasingly city administrators and local government authorities in developing countries and western industrial nations are seeking to share experiences and exchange information in a search for solutions This highly informative volume attempts to meet this critical need and to aid development cooperation among municipalities Strengthening Urban Management presents the practical problems and approaches to the provision of housing transportation and the mobilization of the requisite finance and manpower for local government in contrasting urban situations It draws upon selected papers contributed to international meetings and world congresses sponsored by the International Union of Local Authorities The Hague Netherlands Subject areas are illustrated in city examples given by mayors administrators and planners from Lusaka Harare Nairobi Osaka Jakarta Bandung Vienna Stockholm Caracas and Rio de Janeiro Theme introductions and contributions from leading international and national agencies highlight the important role and grave difficulties facing local government in urban management and planning

Local Government in the Soviet Union Cameron Ross, 2024-04-12 Local Government in the Soviet Union 1987 analyses the Soviet Union's limited success in improving local government between in the 1960s to 1980s as the country made a drive toward centralized policy control It examines the institutional framework and changes in crucial policy areas and argues that a fragmented vertical power structure involving the three bureaucracies of Party ministries and the city and regional soviets was unproductive It shows how group interests moulded and adapted policies and how the Party's initiative in centralizing policy was thwarted It also outlines the significance of the industrial base in determining local budgets and the provision of amenities as opposed to overtly political factors

Housing Estates in the Baltic Countries Daniel Baldwin Hess, Tiit Tammara, 2019-08-27 This open access book focuses on the formation and later socio-spatial trajectories of large housing estates in the Baltic countries Estonia Latvia and Lithuania It also explores claims that a distinctly westward looking orientation in their design produced housing estates that were superior in design to those produced elsewhere in the Soviet Union between 1944 and 1991 Estonia was a member republic of the USSR The first two parts of the book provide contextual material to help readers understand the vision behind housing estates in Estonia Latvia and Lithuania These sections present the background of housing estates in the Baltic Republics as well as challenges and debates concerning their formation evolution and present condition and importance Subsequent parts of the book consist of demographic analyses of the socioeconomic characteristics and ethnicity of housing estate residents past and present in the three Baltic capital cities case studies of people and places related to housing estates in the Baltic countries and chapters exploring relevant special topics and themes This book will be of interest to students scholars and advocates interested in understanding the past present and future importance of housing estates in the Baltic countries Housing and Planning

Marketing Information Guide ,1961 Soviet Grassroots Jeffrey W. Hahn,2017-03-14 Jeffrey Hahn examines the degree to which citizens who are elected to local government in the USSR can successfully represent the interests of those who elected them More specifically how effectively do the mechanisms available for citizen participation in local government work in practice What can elected deputies do to respond to the expressed needs and preferences of their constituents Basing his conclusions on interviews with local deputies observations of local soviets at work and the analysis of a wide range of primary source material the author finds that Soviet citizens do have some chances to participate meaningfully in local government and that a basis exists for the continued expansion of such participation The elected deputy can and occasionally does play an active role as an ombudsman for those who choose to use opportunities for citizen input Soviet Grassroots not only contributes to our empirical knowledge of political participation in the USSR but also provides a basis for speculation about the nature of political change in the Soviet system If opportunities for effective participation in local government do exist and they can be shown to have grown over time then one precondition for the emergence of a civic culture in Soviet society already exists Originally published in 1988 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Practicing Utopia Rosemary Wakeman,2016-04 Rosemary Wakeman provides a sweeping history of new towns those created by fiat rather than out of geographic or economic logic and often intended to break with the tendencies of past development Heralded throughout the twentieth century as solutions to congestion environmental threats architectural malaise and cultural anomie today they are often seen as sad pernicious or merely suburban Wakeman shows that hundreds of such towns sprang from templates and designs not only in North America and across Europe but around the world revealing how different cultures dreamed of reorganizing themselves Wakeman also illuminates the missteps and unanticipated results of the initial optimistic choices and impulses
