Soviet Policy In West Africa:

Soviet Policy in West Africa Robert Legvold, 1970 This is a study of Soviet policy in six West African countries Ghana Guinea the Ivory Coast Mali Nigeria and Senegal Robert Legvold analyzes the awakening of Soviet Interest in sub Saharan Africa and the growth problems and influences of the Soviet involvement from Ghana s independence in 1957 to 1968 Those nations are significant not only because they were the first African colonies to achieve independence and therefore have had the longest involvement with the Soviet Union but also because together they supply illustrations of every problem that Black Africa poses for an outside nation s foreign policy from hypersensitive nationalism to what has been called neo colonial dependence from relative long term stability to fundamental instability from military coups d tat to civil war From the Soviet viewpoint the six countries range from the most progressive to the most reactionary Each has had an interesting relationship with the Soviet Union The author considers several basic questions How has the Soviet Union coped with the problems and opportunities created by Black Africa How have its perceptions of Black Africa evolved during the first decade of its involvement there Has policy shifted correspondingly with changes In these perceptions Mr Legvold explains why Black Africa lay largely ignored for years while Soviet leaders turned their attention to struggle and revolution in the Far East and South Asia He has examined the Soviet and African press to trace the full evolution of Soviet attitudes and action in these countries and has interviewed Soviet African and other officials He compares Soviet policy as between one African nation and another as well as between Africa and other continents

Soviet Policy in West Africa, 1957-64 Alessandro Iandolo, 2011 Between 1957 and 1964 the Soviet Union sought to export to West Africa a model of socialist economic and social development Moscow s policy was driven by the conviction that socialism was a superior economic system and could be replicated in Ghana Guinea and Mali However Soviet confidence in the project was undermined by the unreliability of local leaders and then by the Congo crisis The setback in West Africa taught the Soviet leadership crucial lessons including the importance of supporting ideologically reliable leaders and the necessity of building military strength to bolster intervention Combining Soviet and Ghanaian sources with those more readily available in the UK and the US this thesis shows the importance of modernisation of the Third World for Moscow s foreign policy during the Khrushchev era and contributes to the new sets of literature on the cold war in the third world and on the Soviet Union s foreign policy v

Soviet Policy in Africa George W. Breslauer, 1992 Czechoslovakia in Africa, 1945-1968 Philip Muehlenbeck, 2015-11-04 This book explores Czechoslovakia s diplomatic relations with African states and places them within a wider Cold War historiography providing contextual background information on the evolution of communist Czechoslovakia s pro Soviet foreign policy orientation This shift in Soviet foreign policy made Africa a priority for the Soviet bloc

The Soviet Union and the Horn of Africa during the Cold War Radoslav A. Yordanov, 2016-03-17 At the height of the Cold War Soviet ideologues policymakers diplomats and military officers perceived the countries of Africa Asia and Latin America as the future reserve of socialism holding the key to victory over Western forces The zero sum nature of East West global competition induced the United States to try to thwart Soviet ambitions The result was predictable the two superpowers engaged in proxy struggles against each other in faraway little understood lands often ending up entangled in protracted and highly destructive local fights that did little to serve their own agendas Using a wealth of recently declassified sources this book tells the complex story of Soviet involvement in the Horn of Africa a narrowly defined geographic entity torn by the rivalry of two large countries Ethiopia and Somalia from the beginning of the Cold War until the demise of the Soviet Union At different points in the twentieth century this region arguably one of the poorest in the world attracted broad international interest and large quantities of advanced weaponry making it a Cold War flashpoint The external actors ultimately failed to achieve what they wanted from the local conflicts a lesson relevant for U S policymakers today as they ponder whether to use force abroad in the wake of the unhappy experiences in Iraq and Afghanistan

The United States and West Africa Alusine Jalloh, Toyin Falola, 2008 The first volume devoted to interrogating the complex relationship both historic and contemporary between the United States and West Africa Over the last several decades historians have conducted extensive research into contact between the United States and West Africa during the era of the transatlantic trade Yet we still understand relatively little about more recent relations between the two areas This multidisciplinary volume presents the most comprehensive analysis of the U S West African relationship to date filling a significant gap in the literature by examining the social cultural political and economic bonds that have in recent years drawn these two world regions into increasingly closer contact Beginning with examinations of factors that linked the nations during European colonial rule of Africa and spanning to discussions of U S foreign policy with regard to West Africa from the Cold War through the end of the twentieth century and beyond these essays constitute the first volume devoted to interrogating the complex relationship both historic and contemporary between the United States and West Africa Contributors Abdul Karim Bangura Karen B Bell Peter A Dumbuya Kwame Essien Andrew I E Ewoh Toyin Falola Osman Gbla John Wess Grant Stephen A Harmon Harold R Harris Olawale Ismail Alusine Jalloh Fred L Johnson III Stephen Kande Ibrahim Kargbo Bayo Lawal Ayodeji Olukoj Adebayo Oyebade Christopher Ruane Anita Spring Ibrahim Sundiata Hakeem Ibikunle Tijani Ken Vincent and Amanda Warnock Alusine Jalloh is associate professor of history and founding director of The Africa Program at the University of Texas at Arlington Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin

The Ideological Scramble for Africa Frank Gerits,2023-03-15 In The Ideological Scramble for Africa Frank Gerits examines how African leaders in the 1950s and 1960s crafted an anticolonial modernization project Rather than choose Cold War sides between East and West anticolonial nationalists worked to reverse the psychological and cultural destruction of colonialism Kwame Nkrumah s African Union was envisioned as a federation of liberation to challenge the extant imperial forces the US empire of liberty the Soviet empire of equality and the European empires of exploitation In the 1950s the goal of proving the potency of a pan African ideology shaped the agenda of the Bandung Conference and Ghana s support for African liberation while also determining what was at stake in the Congo crisis and in the fight against white minority rule in southern and eastern Africa In the 1960s the attempt to remake African psychology was abandoned and socioeconomic development came into focus Anticolonial nationalists did not simply resist or utilize imperial and Cold War pressures but drew strength from the example of the Haitian Revolution of 1791 in which Toussaint Louverture demanded the universal application of Europe's Enlightenment values The liberationists of the postwar period wanted to redesign society in the image of the revolution that had created them The Ideological Scramble for Africa demonstrates that the Cold War struggle between capitalism and Communism was only one of two ideological struggles that picked up speed after 1945 the battle between liberation and imperialism proved to be more enduring African Nationalism in Cold War Politics Emmanuel Konde, 2012-01-20 not provided
