Capelotti,2018-09-12 Remnants of the curious and peculiar ways humankind has marked the archaeological landscape are abundant but often ignored wrecked aircraft abandoned airfields old highway billboards derelict boats movie props and deserted mining operations In this book archaeologist P J Capelotti explores places and things that people do not typically think of as archaeological sites and artifacts introducing readers to the most extreme fieldwork taking place today Capelotti shows that even seemingly ordinary objects from the recent past hold secrets about the cultural history of humans He investigates the site where a stunt copy of the Orca the fishing boat used in the movie Jaws was stripped to pieces by fans a revelation of the ways humans relate to popular culture He takes readers to abandoned base camps near the North Pole that are now used as destinations for Arctic tourism Retelling the story of Thor Heyerdahl s research expedition across the Pacific Ocean on a balsa log raft Capelotti shows how experimental archaeology attempts to reveal cultural connections between continents And he doesn t stop at the limits of the planet He discusses debris floating through outer space and equipment left behind on the surface of the moon highlighting current efforts to preserve artifacts that exist beyond the Earth's atmosphere. These discarded materials, says Capelotti, help archaeologists piece together the sweeping story of human cultural expansion and exploitation. He explains how the unusual sites of shorelines, sea, air, and space represent the farthest reaches of human civilization. His enthusiasm will inspire readers to set out on their own to investigate the secret meanings of treasures hiding in plain sight.

McKenzie, 2002-09-26 Performance has become one of the key terms for the new century. But what do we mean by performance? In today's world, it can refer to experimental art, productivity in the workplace, and the functionality of technological systems. Do these disparate fields bear any relation to each other? In Perform or Else, Jon McKenzie asserts that there is a relationship: cultural, organisational, and technological performance. In this theoretical tour de force, McKenzie demonstrates that all three paradigms operate together to create powerful and contradictory pressures to perform or else. This is an urgent and important intervention in contemporary critical thinking. It will profoundly shape our understanding of twenty-first century structures of power and knowledge. William Gibson, Hubert Vernon Rudolph, Clayton Irving Wilson, Alva Anton, Jeff Harley, Timothy Curtis, Cleveland Cecil Ollie, Edmund Eli Wiley, Marvin Ellis Espinoza, known to his friends as Hubert. Etc. was too old to be at that Communist party. But after watching the breakdown of modern society, he really has nowhere left to be except amongst the dregs of disaffected youth who party all night and heap scorn on the sheep they see on the morning commute. After falling in with Natalie, an ultra-rich heiress trying to escape the clutches of her repressive father, the two decide to give up fully on formal society and walk away. After all, now that anyone can design and print the basic necessities of life—food, clothing, shelter—from a computer, there seems to be little reason to toil within the system. It's still a dangerous world out there: the empty lands wrecked by climate change, dead cities hollowed out by industrial flight, shadows hiding predators, animal and human alike. Still, when the initial pioneer walkaways flourish, more people join them. Then the walkaways discover the one thing the ultra-rich have never been able to buy: how to beat death. Now it's war—a war that will turn the world upside down. Fascinating, moving, and darkly humorous, Walkaway is a multi-generation SF thriller about the wrenching changes of the next hundred years and the very human people who will live
