 Race for Space* Erinn McComb, 2025-06-10 The American astronaut image was informed by early Cold War ideals of masculinity that helped mold a distinctly American anti communist masculinity which appeared on the surface anyway to resolve not only an American crisis of masculinity but helped win the Cold War on an ideological and popular level This American image focused on strict gender binaries of man as the protector controlling technology and containing communism while woman was the passive actor with spaceflight technology left behind in the home waiting for the return of the astronaut husband Allowing women to fly into space would have represented a lack of individual control with spaceflight

 Stableford, 2006-09-06 Science fiction is a literary genre based on scientific speculation Works of science fiction use the ideas and the vocabulary of all sciences to create valid narratives that explore the future effects of science on events and human beings Science Fact and Science Fiction examines in one volume how science has propelled science fiction and to a lesser extent how science fiction has influenced the sciences Although coverage will discuss the science behind the fiction from the Classical Age to the present focus is naturally on the 19th century to the present when the Industrial Revolution and spectacular progress in science and technology triggered an influx of science fiction works speculating on the future As scientific developments alter expectations for the future the literature absorbs uses and adapts such contextual visions The goal of the Encyclopedia is not to present a catalog of sciences and their application in literary fiction but rather to study the ongoing flow and counterflow of influences including how fictional representations of science affect how we view its practice and disciplines Although the main focus is on literature other forms of science fiction including film and video games are explored and because science is an international matter works from non English speaking countries are discussed as needed

The Chinese Space Programme in the Public Conversation about Space Andrew Thomas, 2020-08-01 This study is the product of a long view of space exploration and the conversations about space in China It locates the multiple conversations about space exploration and utilisation as they are in the Peoples Republic of China PRC within other conversations about space culture in the world China is viewed by Western researchers through many lenses which are examined here critically In previous studies writers explain away China's space programme with the easy answers of a Space Race and a China Threat in which the space programme is seen as merely an example of global competition or threat but this thesis challenges those barriers to Western understanding of the Chinese public conversation of space culture In this study critical theory and an underlying epistemology within a post Enlightenment cultural frame are applied to official archival and ephemeral texts and images The manner of the critical application is distinguished from derivative techniques operationalised as Open Source Intelligence The concept of Place and within that Foucault's linguistic concept of Heterotopia is significant both in understanding the Chinese overseas space bases on Earth and the temporal and spatial dislocations experienced in space missions In acknowledging the interpretative approach an empirical study a Q sort has been carried out which demonstrates that the key factor in the Chinese conversation is Science within the context of modernisation tempered by Chinese cultural affirmation and international co operation The thesis concludes by providing general principles in future work for successful research into the popular culture of space exploration Training future astronauts to space climate Renata

Freccero, 2016-12-12 The Universe is full of stars and each star has at least one planet the astrophysicists seek water and life in the cosmos Long periods spent in the cosmos do not have the tempo of life they are monotonous The human brain and sensory systems are adapted to the categories of time and space in which they live normally The philosophical categories of space and time do not exist in the cosmos they are unique because contraria sunt complementa In Karl Jaspers view the Existing is not in fact located in time and space simply there is being da sein The temporal planes are intertwined to lose their characteristic of continuity In the long term the cosmic climate produces a sense of fatigue apathy and mood disorders with manifestations of dark mood The next step is anxiety and depression dangerous not only for those who suffer from them but also for the entire crew Only the willingness to make that key contribution to the objective of scientific research can provide the motivation to endure the many hardships The dysfunction whether of people or things risks compromising the mission Harmony becomes a key element for success He or she who exists in the cosmos must establish an equivalence between the energy of his her mind determined by the strength of the will compared to the mass of a physical system that does not belong to him her but that is real It is a rare human ability to know how to control the emotions to know how to communicate effectively and to remain calm in extreme situations Awareness for space travellers means having the consciousness that life on Earth is an illusion with regard to the cosmic reality and intelligence is the ability to adapt Human life in space stations and the future extraterrestrial human colonization will open up a new era for the anthropology sciences
