Spad XIII and Spad VII Peter A. Zorn, 1982-09-01 SPAD XII/XIII Aces of World War 1 Jon Guttman, 2002-05-25 This book details the exploits of the pilots who flew the hugely successful SPAD XIII and the trickier SPAD XII Built in response to the combat inadequacies of the SPAD VII the XIII first entered service with the French Aviation Militaire in late 1917 Despite suffering engine unreliability the XIII enjoyed great success on the Western Front where it was flown by numerous French American Italian and Belgian aces including Eddie Rickenbacker leading US ace of World War I The SPAD XII meanwhile was the product of numerous improvements to the SPAD VII model Entering service in July 1917 the aircraft boasted a single shot 37 mm Puteaux cannon which had to be hand reloaded in flight Tricky to fly the XII was only issued to experienced pilots and was flown briefly by a number of aces SPAD XIII vs Fokker D VII Jon Guttman, 2009-04-21 Having established its SPAD VII as the most effective French fighter of 1916 the Societ Pour l Aviation at ses D riv s strove to improve the model with a 220hp Hispano Suiza 8B engine and two machine guns Despite initial teething troubles with the new engine by mid 1918 the SPAD XIII had taken its place as the principal fighter of both France and the US Meanwhile the German quest for a successor for their structurally flawed Albatros D V finally bore fruit with the Fokker D VII Entering combat in May 1918 this plane earned a reputation as the most formidable fighter of the war yet the SPAD XIII s greater speed especially in a dive and its outstanding durability proved a fearsome rival This is the gripping story of two of the best fighters produced in World War I the SPAD XIII and the Fokker D VII as they dueled in the skies above the trenches in the closing months of the war Never before published artwork including fascinating cockpit illustrations reveal several dramatic clashes between the two foes while diary entries and first hand accounts from the pilots bring this classic World War I duel to life with intimate detail
