

CORRESPONDENCE – BUSINESS WRITING EXAMPLE

[BYU-Idaho letterhead]

Mrs. Jane Newemployee

BYU-Idaho
Rexburg, ID 83460-0000

Dear Mrs. Newemployee:

The preferred style for a business letter at BYU-Idaho is block formatted. The lines, including the date and the complimentary closing, begin at the left margin. The right margin is not justified. Paragraphs are not indented and should be single spaced with double spaced between the paragraphs. Do not divide paragraphs that contain three lines or less between two pages. On the top of the continuation pages put the full name, the date, and the page number.

The inside address should include the name of the addressee, usually with a courtesy title preceding the name. Also include the company name, address, city, two-letter state abbreviation, and zip code.

The signature block includes the complimentary closing typed two lines below the body of the letter. The author's name and title should be four lines below the complimentary closing.

The reference initials are typed two lines below the last line of the signature block. Only the typist's initials are necessary if the author is the one signing. The Enclosure or Attachment notation is directly below the reference initials. If there is an enclosure or attachment with the letter, it should be mentioned in the body of the letter.

Use a copy notation (c:) if someone other than the addressee is to receive a copy of the letter. The c stands for copy to and is now the preferred format for copy notations. You may wish to use blind copy notation (bc:) if you do not want the addressee to know someone else is receiving a copy.

Following these guidelines will ensure a consistent and professional appearance in all BYU-Idaho letters. I have enclosed a pamphlet to help you with the letter writing process. (Not really, but I wanted to mention this so I could use the Enclosure notation.)

Sincerely,

Bill Letterexpert

Philosophical Letters, Abridged Margaret Cavendish, 2021-07-14 Margaret Cavendish 1623-1673 is a fascinating figure who is getting increasing attention by historians of philosophy these days and for good reason She is an interesting advocate of a vitalist tradition emphasizing the inherent activity of matter as well as its inherent perceptive faculties She is also the perfect character to open students and their teachers up to a different seventeenth century and a different cast of philosophical characters This is an ideal book to use in the classroom The Philosophical Letters 1664 gives us Cavendish's view of what was interesting and important in the philosophical world at that moment a view of philosophy as it was at the time by an engaged participant There are few documents like it in the history of philosophy Deborah Boyle's Introduction provides a very accessible summary of Cavendish's natural philosophy as well as good introductions to the other figures that Cavendish discusses in the book Boyle's annotations are not extensive but they are a great help in guiding the student toward an informed reading of the texts Daniel Garber Princeton University

Business and Official Correspondence Susan M. Fitzmaurice, 2006 This volume focuses on the nature of official correspondence produced in the period after 1500 from Early Modern to nineteenth century English The contributions reflect the extent to which the genre is somewhat plastic in this period gradually acquiring distinguishing conventions and protocols as the situations in which the letters themselves are encoded acquire more distinctiveness Although correspondence has long been the object of diachronic studies very little seems to be available as far as specialized usage is concerned hence the specific interest in letters exchanged within scientific diplomatic and business networks In addition the study of business and official correspondence offered here profits from a multi disciplinary and multi methodological approach as it relies on a rich array of databases and corpora of correspondence ranging from highly specialized collections to more broadly constructed diagnostic corpora in which correspondence is just one register or text type While specific attention is paid to phenomena relating to the expression of positive and negative politeness through the investigation of authentic rather than constructed texts methodological issues are also taken into consideration
