Noble,2011-04-11 The human body traded fragmented and ingested is at the centre of Medicinal Cannibalism in Early Modern English Literature and Culture which explores the connections between early modern literary representations of the eaten body and the medical consumption of corpses The Cambridge Companion to English Poets Claude Julien Rawson,2011-01-27 This volume provides essays by twenty nine leading scholars and critics on the best English poets from Chaucer to Larkin Literature and politics in the English Reformation Tom Betteridge,2017-10-03 This book is a study of the English Reformation as a political and literary event Focusing on an eclectic group of texts unified by their explication of the key elements of the cultural history of the period 1510 1580 the book unravels the political poetic and religious themes of the era Through readings of work by Edmund Spenser William Tyndale Sir Thomas More and John Skelton as well as less celebrated Tudor writers Betteridge surveys pre Henrician literature as well as Henrician Reformation texts and delineates the literature of the reigns of Edward VI Mary Tudor and Elizabeth I Ultimately the book argues that this literature and the era should not be understood simply on the basis of conflicts between Protestantism and Catholicism but rather that Tudor culture must be seen as fractured between emerging confessional identities and marked by a conflict between those who embraced confessionalism and those who rejected it This important study will be fascinating reading for students and researchers in early modern English literature and history

The art of The Faerie Queene Richard Danson Brown, 2021-01-19 The Art of The Faerie Queene is the first book centrally focused on the forms and poetic techniques employed by Spenser It offers a sharp new perspective on Spenser by rereading The Faerie Queene as poetry which is at once absorbing demanding and experimental Instead of the traditional conservative model of Spenser as poet this book presents the poem as radical edgy and unconventional thus proposing new ways of understanding the Elizabethan poetic Renaissance The book moves from the individual words of the poem to metre rhyme and stanza form onto its larger structures of canto and book It will be of particular relevance to undergraduates studying Elizabethan poetry graduate students and scholars of Renaissance poetry for whom the formal aspect of the poetry has been a topic of growing relevance in recent years

Encounters with God in Medieval and Early Modern English Poetry Charlotte Clutterbuck, 2017-07-05 Engaging with four English poems or groups of poems the anonymous medieval Crucifixion lyrics William Langland's Piers Plowman John Donne's Divine Poems and John Milton's Paradise Lost this book examines the nature of poetic encounter with God At the same time the author makes original contributions to the discussion of critical dilemmas in the study of each poem or group of poems The main linguistic focus of this book is on the nature of dialogue with God in religious poetry an area much neglected by grammarians and often overlooked in studies of literary style It constitutes an important contribution to our understanding of the relationship between literature and theology

The Oxford History of Poetry in English, 2024-10-25 The Oxford History of Poetry in English OHOP is designed to offer a fresh multi voiced and comprehensive analysis of poetry from Anglo Saxon culture through contemporary British Irish American and Global culture including English Scottish and Welsh poetry Anglo American colonial and post colonial poetry and poetry in Canada Australia New Zealand the Caribbean India Africa Asia and other international locales OHOP both synthesizes existing scholarship and presents cutting edge research employing a global team of expert contributors for each of the fourteen volumes By taking as its purview the full seventeenth century 1603 1700 this volume re draws the existing literary historical map and expands upon recent rethinking of the canon Placing the revolutionary years at the centre of a century of poetic transformation and putting the Restoration back into the seventeenth century the volume registers the transformative effects on poetic forms of a century of social political and religious upheaval It considers the achievements of a number of women poets not yet fully integrated into traditional literary histories It assimilates the vibrant literature of the English Revolution to what came before and after registering its long term impact It traces the development of print culture and of the literary marketplace alongside the continued circulation of poetry in manuscript It places John Milton Andrew Marvell Margaret

Cavendish and Katherine Philips and other mid century poets into the full century of specifically literary development It traces continuity and change imitation and innovation in the full century trajectory of such poetic genres as sonnet elegy satire georgic epigram ode devotional lyric and epic The volume s attention to poetic form builds on the current upswing in historicist formalism allowing a close focus on poetry as an intensely aesthetic and social literary mode Designed for maximum classroom utility the organization is both thematic and in the authors section chronological After a comprehensive Introduction organizational sections focus on Transitions Materiality Production and Circulation Poetics and Form Genres and Poets

The Art of Picturing in Early Modern English Literature Camilla Caporicci, Armelle Sabatier, 2019-11-04

Written by an international group of highly regarded scholars and rooted in the field of intermedial approaches to literary studies this volume explores the complex aesthetic process of picturing in early modern English literature The essays in this volume offer a comprehensive and varied picture of the relationship between visual and verbal in the early modern period while also contributing to the understanding of the literary context in which Shakespeare wrote Using different methodological approaches and taking into account a great variety of texts including Elizabethan sonnet sequences metaphysical poetry famous as well as anonymous plays and court masques the book opens new perspectives on the literary modes of picturing and on the relationship between this creative act and the tense artistic religious and political background of early modern Europe The first section explores different modes of looking at works of art and their relation with technological innovations and religious controversies while the chapters in the second part highlight the multifaceted connections between European visual arts and English literary production The third section explores the functions performed by portraits on the page and the stage delving into the complex question of the relationship between visual and verbal representation Finally the chapters in the fourth section re appraise early modern reflections on the relationship between word and image and on their respective power in light of early seventeenth century visual culture with particular reference to the masque genre
