

The use or abuse of Christianity in contradiction to the very message of the gospel reveals not the gospel for what it is, but the heart of man. That is why atheism is so bankrupt as a view of life, for it miserably fails to deal with the human condition as it really is.

emerged within Christian contexts making it an invaluable resource for both scholarly inquiry and personal reflection

The Contradictory Christ J. C. Beall, 2021 Leading scholar Jc Beall advances a contradictory Christology by addressing the apparent contradiction of Christ's being fully human and fully divine

Religion With/Out Religion James Olthuis, 2003-09-02 Written in response to John Caputo's The Prayers and Tears of Jacques Derrida this work gathers together cutting edge theologians and philosophers to examine the relationship between Derridan deconstruction and religion Containing a lengthy counter response by Caputo as well as an interview Religion With Out Religion will be required reading for all those involved in contemporary theological debate

Self-Emptying of Christ and the Christian John B. Lounibos, 2011-05-01 This collection wrestles with a profusion of questions about kenosis What is the original meaning and purpose of the self emptying of Jesus How can today's Christians emulate it replacing our own selfish designs with the mind of Christ How is the current interest in servant leadership as a model in the modern church related to the self sacrificing servant of Philippians 2 Does this practice have any meaning in our present secular age Does it imply deconstructing the content of Christian faith and morals in contemporary culture Is it a possible bridge between Eastern and Western spiritual traditions Using the key theme of Jesus emptying of himself in the Philippians hymn John Lounibos explores the mysteries of kenosis in three strikingly different essays The first using extensive exegesis of the text opens up the poetic theological and spiritual depths of this Christian mystery The second essay establishes a philosophical grounding for kenosis in the work of Paul Tillich on the estrangements of finite human freedom The third enters into dialogue with the Buddhist tradition and its intriguing notions of nothingness and no self The attentive reader will be rewarded with a wealth of information and insights for further reflection and personal application

Sample Book Insights

- 1 Religion is the disuniting of man from himself It begins with the differentiation of God and man and man's own nature which is the object of religion is actually different from God's
- 2 The understanding is the part of our nature that is neutral impassible and not subject to illusions It is the pure passionless light of the intelligence It is the consciousness of the objective fact as a fact because it is itself an objective nature
- 3 God as a being not finite not human not materially conditioned not phenomenal is an object of thought He is the incorporeal formless and incomprehensible being He is known only through abstraction and negation He is the objective nature of the thinking power
- 4 The understanding is the original primitive being It is the condition that connects and conditions all things It is the immediate and unconditioned thing that inquires about the cause of all things because it has its own ground and end in itself Only that which is nothing deduced nothing derived can deduce and construct

Emilie Cady, Gregory of Nyssa, Pope Gregory I, Athanasius of Alexandria, Basil the Great, John of Damascus, Brother Lawrence, Arthur Pink, St. Thomas Aquinas, St. Augustine, 2023-11-22

The Christian Omnibus weaves an intricate tapestry of faith and theology through the profound thoughts and literary prowess of distinguished authors across the ages. Ranging from works that delve into the fervent personal spirituality of St. Teresa of Ávila to the grand theological explorations reminiscent of Thomas Aquinas, this collection celebrates the rich diversity inherent in Christian thought and writing. Whether through the pious simplicity of Brother Lawrence's reflections, the philosophical inquiries of Friedrich Nietzsche, or the narrative power found in Fyodor Dostoevsky's tales, the anthology captures a multitude of perspectives that contribute to its overarching theme of spiritual strength and faith. The contributions hail from a spectrum of renowned thinkers and writers, each lending unique insight into the historical and cultural milieu that shaped their works. From the Reformation's indomitable spirit exemplified by Martin Luther to the existential musings of Dostoevsky set against the backdrop of Imperial Russia, each voice represents a facet of the ongoing discourse on faith through time. The anthology's assembly of such diverse voices through history not only highlights the evolution of Christian thought but also presents a convergence of literary, philosophical, and theological ideals that define various movements in Western literature and belief.

The Strength of Faith Christian Omnibus is an essential read for those looking to deepen their understanding of the interplay between faith and literature. This collection is a treasure trove for anyone interested in exploring the rich dialogues that unfold between vastly different thinkers, showcasing the vast array of insights garnered from centuries of religious and philosophical contemplation. It invites readers to not only appreciate the artistic merit of these works but also to engage with the profound questions they raise, serving as both an educational journey and a catalyst for introspection on the resilient nature of faith in the human experience.

On Religion Karl Barth, 2006-11-01 The study Karl Barth has generally been excluded from religious studies departments in favour of more liberal theologians such as Tillich For many years scholar Garrett Green has argued that there is no justification for this neglect To support his theory that Barth can and should be studied as a religious theorist rather than just a theologian Garrett Green presents a brand new translation of Chapter 17 of Karl Barth's Church Dogmatics prefaced by a detailed introduction to the text This important new translation counters the idea that Barth rejected the notion of religion out of hand by correcting a number of errors in the original version which obscure Barth's central argument In particular the crucial word Aufhebung in the title is translated here as sublimation rather than abolition The translation will do better justice to the German original and will be more accessible to contemporary readers Unlike the original version all Greek Latin and Hebrew citations are translated into English and the NRSV is used for the Bible quotes rather than the King James The translation is accompanied by a text by Garrett Green introducing the scholar and student to Barth as a religious theorist The book concludes with appendices containing teaching materials and a summary of developed by the author in the classroom over years
