Historicizing the Enlightenment, Volume 1 Michael McKeon,2023-07-14 The Enlightenment

has been blamed for some of the most deadly developments of modern life racism and white supremacy imperialist oppression capitalist exploitation neoliberal economics scientific positivism totalitarian rule These developments are thought to have grown from principles that are rooted in the soil of the Enlightenment abstraction reduction objectification quantification division universalization Michael McKeon's new book corrects this defective view by historicizing the Enlightenment by showing that the Enlightenment has been abstracted from its history From its past critics have ignored that Enlightenment thought is a reaction against deadly traditions that precede it From its present the Enlightenment extended its reactive analysis of the past to its own present through self analysis and self criticism From its future much of what's been blamed amounts to the failure of its posterity to sustain Enlightenment principles To historicize the Enlightenment requires that we conjure what it was like to live through the emergence of concepts and practices that are now commonplace society privacy the public the market experiment secularity representative democracy human rights social class sex and gender fiction the aesthetic attitude McKeon's book argues the continuity of Enlightenment thought its consistency and integrity across this broad range of conceptual domains It also shows how the Enlightenment has shaped our views of both tradition and modernity and the revisionary work that needs to be done in order to understand our place in the future In the process Historicizing the Enlightenment exemplifies a distinctive historiography and historical method

The Social Context of James Ensor's Art Practice Susan M. Canning, 2022-10-20 Vive la Sociale This rousing revolutionary statement written on a bright red banner across the top of James Ensor's Christ's Entry into Brussels in 1889 served as a visual manifesto and call to action by the Belgian artist 1860-1949 one that announced with an insistent public voice the centrality of his art practice to the cultural discourse of modern Belgium This provocative declaration serves as the title for this new study of Ensor's art focusing on its social discourse and the artist's interaction with and at times satirical encounter with his contemporary milieu Rather than the alienated and traumatized Expressionist given preference in modern art history Ensor is presented here as an artist of agency and purpose whose art practice engaged the issues and concerns of middle class Belgian life society and politics and was informed by the values and class race and gendered perspectives of his time Ensor's radical vision and oppositional strategy of resistance self fashioning and performance remains relevant This book with its timely nuanced reading of the art and career of this often misunderstood artist's artist invites a re evaluation not only of Ensor's social context and expressive critique but also his unique contribution to modernist art practice The Encyclopedia Americana, 1999 A thirty volume encyclopedia covering important world events while providing major new treatments of selected topics in various academic fields Encyclopedia Americana Scholastic Library Publishing, 2006

The Long Sexual Revolution Hera Cook, 2004-02-05 In this book Hera Cook traces the path of sexuality in England and shows how its route was determined by the gradual exertion of control over fertility. Most sexual activity had major economic and social costs, the most fundamental of which was the physical cost of children upon women's bodies. Around 1800 birth rates reached historical heights. Using a combination of demographic and qualitative sources, Dr Cook examines the connection between the struggle to lower fertility and the increasing repression of sexuality throughout the nineteenth century. Contraception became a viable option in the early twentieth century. The book charts the resulting slow relaxation of attitudes to sexuality and the remaking of heterosexual physical behaviour culminating in the sexual revolution of the 1960s.

Sites of Discourse - Public and Private Spheres - Legal Culture, 2022-05-09 The present collection of essays grew out of a conference held in Dresden in December 2001 exploring the relationship between the public sphere and legal culture. The conference was held in connection with the ongoing research undertaken by the Sonderforschungsbereich 537 Institutionalisation and Historical Change and in particular by the project Circulation of Legal Norms and Values in British Culture from 1688 to 1900. The conference papers include essays on the theory of the public sphere from a systematic and historical point of view by Gert Melville, by Peter Uwe Hohendahl and by Jürgen Schlaeger, all of whom try to re-evaluate and/or improve upon Jürgen Habermas's seminal contribution to the discussion of the emergence of modernism. Alastair Mann's contribution investigates the situation in Scotland, particularly censorship and the oath of allegiance. Annette Pankratz focuses on the king's body as a site of the public sphere. Heinz Joachim Mollenbrock looks into the widespread culture of contention at the beginning of the eighteenth century and Eckhart Hellmuth considers the reform movement at the end of the century and the radical democrats' insistence on the right to discuss the constitution. Ian Bell, who took part in the conference, suggested the inclusion of part of the first chapter of his seminal study Literature and Crime in Augustan England (1991). Beth Swan, Anna Christina Giovanopoulos and Christoph Houswitschka respectively analyse the ideologies of justice, the interrelation between journalism and crime and the juridical evaluation of the crime of incest and its representation in public. Greta Olson investigates keyholes as liminal spaces between the public and the private. Juliet Wightman focuses on theatre and the bear pit. Uwe Böker examines the court room and prison as public sites of discourse and York Gothart Mix discusses the German emigrant culture in North America.

Inspiration in the Age of Enlightenment Sarah Eron, 2014-03-20 Inspiration in the Age of Enlightenment reconsiders theories of apostrophe and poetic authority to argue that the Augustan age created a new form of inspiration, one that not only changed the relationship of literary production to authority in the modern period but also crucially contributes to defining the movement of secularization in literature from the Renaissance to Romanticism. Seeking to redefine what we mean by secularization in the early stages of modernity, Eron argues that secularization's link to enthusiasm or inspiration, often associated with Romanticism, begins in the imaginative literature of the early eighteenth century. If Romantic enthusiasm has been described through the rhetoric of transport or unworlding

then Augustan invocation appears more akin to a process of worlding in its central aim to appeal to the social other as a function of the eighteenth century belief in a literary public sphere By reformulating the passive structure of ancient invocation and subjecting it to the more dialogical methods of modern apostrophe and address authors such as the Third Earl of Shaftesbury Alexander Pope Henry Fielding and Anna Laetitia Barbauld formally revise inspiration in a way that generates a new and distinctive representation of the author In this context inspiration becomes a social gesture an apostrophe to a friend or judging spectator or an allusion to the mental or aesthetic faculties of the author himself his genius Articulating this struggle toward modernity at its inception this book examines modern authority at the moment of its extraordinariness when it was still tied to the creative energies of inspiration to the revelatory powers that marked the awakening of a new age an era and an ethos of Enlightenment Cutting Edge Cricket Frank Pyke,2010
