Events and Urban Regeneration Andrew Smith,2012-03-15 In recent years major sporting and cultural events such as the Olympic Games have emerged as significant elements of public policy particularly in efforts to achieve urban regeneration As well as opportunities arising from new venues these events are viewed as a way of stimulating investment gaining civic engagement and publicizing progress to assist the urban regeneration process more generally However the pursuit of regeneration involving events is a practice that is poorly understood controversial and risky

Events and Urban Regeneration is the first book dedicated to the use of events in regeneration It explores the relationship between events and regeneration by analyzing a range of cities and a range of sporting and cultural events projects It considers various theoretical perspectives to provide insight into why major events are important to contemporary cities It examines the different ways that events can assist regeneration as well as problems and issues associated with this unconventional form of public policy It identifies key issues faced by those tasked with using events to assist regeneration and suggests how practices could be improved in the future The book adopts a multi disciplinary perspective drawing together ideas from the geography urban planning and tourism literatures as well as from the emerging events and regeneration fields It illustrates arguments with a range of international case studies placed within and at the end of chapters to show positive outcomes that have been achieved and examples of high profile failures This timely book is essential reading for students and practitioners who are interested in events urban planning urban geography and tourism
