Making and Unmaking Ancient Memory Martine De Marre,Rajiv Bhola,2022-04-20 Making and Unmaking Ancient Memory explores the way in which ancient Greeks and Romans represented their past and in turn how modern literature and scholarship has approached the reception and transmission of some aspects of ancient culture The contributions organised into three sections Political Legacies Religious Identities and Literary Traditions explore case studies in memory and reception of the past Through studying the techniques and strategies of ancient historiography biography hagiography and art as well as their effectiveness this volume demonstrates how humanity has inevitably conveyed memory and history with sub conscious biases and preconceived ideas In the current age of alternative facts fake news and post truth discourses these chapters highlight that such phenomena are by no means a recent development This book offers valuable scholarly perspectives to academics and scholars interested in memory historiography and representations of the past in the ancient world as well as those working on literary traditions and reception studies more broadly Aphrodite and Venus in Myth and Mimesis Nora Clark,2015-04-01 Aphrodite and Venus in Myth and Mimesis is a broad flexible source book of comparative literature and cultural studies It promotes the wide ranging presence and impact of prominent idiosyncratic personalities in fabled goddess mythology and its emphatic notions of endearment and allure The book brings together seven hundred acknowledged sources drawn from successive historical global and literary eras including principal commentaries along with factual information and important renditions in art prose and verse within and beyond mainstream western culture A lengthy detailed introduction presents a copious documented preview of the viable adaptation and mimesis of divine characterization and its respective centrality from the long distant past to the present day Myth rarely latent demonstrates varied modes of expression and open ended flexibility throughout the six comprehensive chapters which illuminate and probe in turn aspects of the ideological presence sensibilities trials and triumphs and interventions of the goddess whether sacred or profane Particular literary extracts and episodes range across ancient cultures alongside quite recent expressions of hermeneutics blending myth with the contemporary in the multi layered reception or admonishment of the goddess whether by one designation or the other As such this book is wholly relevant to all stages of the evolution and expansion of a dynamic European literary culture and its leading authors and personalities Reading the Seasons

Germaine Leece, Sonya Tsakalakis, 2021-03-30 It's an old cliché that books transport you but as any avid reader will tell you there's far more to them than that. Alongside comfort and retreat, books offer insight into ourselves and others; they tell us how the world is, was, or might be; they are windows into other worlds whose meanings resonate through the ages. It's this multiplicity that is at the heart of bibliotherapy, the ancient practice of reading for therapeutic effect. Reading the Seasons charts the evolution of a friendship through candid letters between bibliotherapists Germaine Leece and Sonya Tsakalakis. Ignited by a shared love of reading and finding a book for every occasion, every emotion, both for themselves and for their clients, their conversations soon confront life's ups and downs. The authors they reach for range from Stephen King to Javier Marias, Helen Garner to Maggie O'Farrell, as they reflect upon loss, change, parenting, careers, simple pleasures, travel, successes, fears, and uncertainty. Reading the Seasons not only offers an entryway to new titles but affirms the power of books to console, heal, and hold us together as friends and as individuals.

Steampunk London Helena Esser, 2024-07-25 Tracing the genre through fiction, visual art, film, and videogames from the 1980s to the present, this book offers a comprehensive exploration of the intersection between neo-Victorianism, urban spaces, and Steampunk. Characterised by its interplay between past and present and its anachronistic retro speculation, Neo-Victorian infused Steampunk remixes modern collective memory to produce a reimagined vision of Victorian London. Investigating how Steampunk's re-calibrated Londons both source from and subvert Victorian discourse about the city, Steampunk London offers a deeper understanding of how a popular cultural memory of the Victorian past is shaped and transmitted in light of present-day identity politics. Covering key themes including retrofuturism, gender, and sexuality, colonialism, and postcolonialism, it considers such ideas as how early Steampunk synthesizes Victorian urban ethnography, how Victorian urban Gothic shapes shared transmedia memory to challenge reactionary nostalgic meta-narratives, how Steampunk video games mobilize urban space as an immersive storytelling device with cities open to play, and how Steampunk interprets the modern metropolis as an opportunity for feminist and queer agency. Through examination of Victorian era writers from Charles Dickens to Arthur Conan Doyle, the book digs into works of fiction and media alike, looking at The Difference Engine, Soulless, and The League of Extraordinary Gentlemen. From Hell Guy Ritchie's Sherlock Holmes, cyberpunk classic Blade Runner, and Assassin's Creed Syndicate, and The Order 1886. An important intervention in the study of steampunk, Helena Esser demonstrates how the works explored invite participatory consumption and considers the genre's potential and failures to interrogate and challenge our relationship with the Victorian past.

Cultural Histories of Ageing Margery Vibe Skagen, 2021-05-12 Drawing on sixteenth to twenty-first century American, British, French, German, Polish, Norwegian, and Russian literature and philosophy, this collection teases out culturally specific conceptions of old age as well as subjective constructions of late-life identity and selfhood. The internationally known humanistic gerontologist Jan Baars, the prominent historian of old age David Troyansky, and the distinguished cultural historian and pioneer in the field of literature and science George Rousseau join a team of literary historians who trace out the interfaces between their chosen texts and the respective periods medical and gerontological knowledge The chapters in depth analyses of major and less known works demonstrate the rich potential of fiction poetry and autobiographical writing in the construction of a cultural history of senescence These literary examples not only bear witness to longue dur e representations of old age and epochal transitions regarding cultural attitudes to the aged they also foreground the subjectivities that produced some of these representations and that continue to communicate with readers of other times and places By casting a net over a variety of authors genres periods and languages the collection gives a broad sense of how literature is among the richest and most engaging sources for historicizing the ageing self

Authorship and Film David A. Gerstner, Janet Staiger, 2013-09-13 Authorship in film has been a persistent theme in the field of cinema studies This volume of new work revitalizes the question of authorship by connecting it to larger issues of identity in film in the marketplace in society in culture Essays range from the auteur theory and Casablanca to Oscar Micheaux from the American avant garde to community video all illuminating how authorship is a complex idea with far reaching implications This ambitious and wide ranging book will be essential reading for anyone concerned with film studies and the concept of the author

How Literature Changes the Way We Think Michael Mack, 2011-12-01 The capacity of the arts and the humanities and of literature in particular to have a meaningful societal impact has been increasingly undervalued in recent history Both humanists and scientists have tended to think of the arts as a means to represent the world via imagination Mack maintains that the arts do not merely describe our world but that they also have the unique and underappreciated power to make us aware of how we can change accustomed forms of perception and action Mack explores the works of prominent writers and thinkers including Nietzsche Foucault Benjamin Wilde Roth and Zizek among others to illustrate how literature interacts with both people and political as well as scientific issues of the real world By virtue of its distance from the real world its virtuality the aesthetic has the capability to help us explore different and so far unthinkable forms of action and thereby to resist the repetition and perpetuation of harmful practices such as stereotyping stigma exclusion and the exertion of violence

Cherokee Myths and Legends Terry L. Norton, 2014-11-19 Retelling 30 myths and legends of the Eastern Cherokee this book presents the stories with important details providing a culturally authentic and historically accurate context Background information is given within each story so the reader may avoid reliance on glossaries endnotes or other explanatory aids The reader may thus experience the stories more as their original audiences would have This approach to adapting traditional literature derives from ideas found in reader response and translation theory and from research in cognitive psychology and sociolinguistics

Parenting Anna Marina Mariani, 2008 The book provides a necessary commitment for a stronger preventive attitude to parenting in other words parents could and should educate themselves for parenthood in order to be able to provide their children those guiding maps for personal growth Attributing so much importance to a self formation in motherhood and fatherhood does not reduce the family to a secondary social role in order to avoid pathological issues and intergenerational clashes rather it wants to urge in committing for their children's growth formation without any neurotic search for perfection and educational abstentions Will we be able to support those adults willing to be good parents but not parents acting well The book tries to offer theoretical views choosing to privilege the informality that the family code requires in order that those parents in normal situations and not only those who have problems or difficulties would find guiding lines to appropriately face common and general issues this not according to the strict canons of formal education but to an education among adults that does not enclose the family in material and always private and individual experiences to the detriment of spiritual and more general dimensions
