Contagions of Empire Khary Oronde Polk, 2020-04-17 From 1898 onward the expansion of American militarism and empire abroad increasingly relied on black labor even as policy remained inflected both by scientific racism and by fears of contagion. Black men and women were mobilized for service in the Spanish-Cuban American War under the War Department's belief that southern blacks carried an immunity against tropical diseases. Later in World Wars I and II black troops were stigmatized as members of a contagious venereal race and were subjected to experimental medical treatments meant to curtail their sexual desires. By turns feared as contagious and at other times valued for their immunity, black men and women played an important part in the U.S. military's conscription of racial gender and sexual difference even as they exercised their embattled agency at home and abroad. By following the scientific, medical, and cultural history of African American enlistment through the archive of American militarism, this book traces the black subjects and agents of empire as they came into contact with a world globalized by warfare.

A World in Chaos Carl Boggs, Thomas Pollard, 2003-08-25 A World in Chaos: Social Crisis and the Rise of Postmodern Cinema traces the evolution of postmodern cinema through its multiple and overlapping expressions. Through an analysis of films such as American Beauty, Blade Runner, Natural Born Killers, and Thelma & Louise, Carl Boggs and Thomas Pollard explore the historical and theoretical shift from the long era of modernity to an emergent postmodernity and examine its intersection with film culture. Unlike most works on media studies, Boggs and Pollard bring together elements of sociology, history, economics, literature, communications, and pop culture to fully explore the complex developmental interaction between film and society. The resulting work illuminates the different, often conflicted and contradictory currents at work in the film industry that long ago departed from the ritualized practices of the classical studio system Engagingly and clearly written A World in Chaos is perfect for film and pop culture enthusiasts as well as everyone interested in the role of film in American society

Migrating to the Movies Jacqueline Najuma Stewart, 2005-03-28 The rise of cinema as the predominant American entertainment around the turn of the last century coincided with the migration of hundreds of thousands of African Americans from the South to the urban land of hope in the North This richly illustrated book discussing many early films and illuminating black urban life in this period is the first detailed look at the numerous early relationships between African Americans and cinema It investigates African American migrations onto the screen into the audience and behind the camera showing that African American urban populations and cinema shaped each other in powerful ways Focusing on Black film culture in Chicago during the silent era Migrating to the Movies begins with the earliest cinematic representations of African Americans and concludes with the silent films of Oscar Micheaux and other early race films made for Black audiences discussing some of the extraordinary ways in which African Americans staked their claim in cinema s development as an art and a cultural institution

Christmas in July Diane Jacobs, 2022-08-19 In this first critical biography of Preston Sturges Diane Jacobs brings to life the great comic filmmaker whose career Andrew Sarris described as one of the most brilliant and bizarre bursts of creation in the history of the American cinema Jacobs uses letters and manuscripts never before revealed as well as interviews with people who knew Sturges including three of his wives to portray this fascinating contradictory man In addition to discussing his major films she also examines heretofore unknown work and shows that Sturges was highly creative even near the end of his life a time when many believed he had lost his touch Sturges secured his place in film history as the creator of such classic films as The Lady Eve Sullivan s Travels and The Palm Beach Story In 1939 he became the first screenwriter to win the right to direct his own script the result was the Oscar winning The Great McGinty Creator of Unfaithfully Yours The Miracle of Morgan's Creek and Hail the Conquering Hero he was the third highest paid man in the United States by the late 1940s He owned a swank Hollywood restaurant and was known as an ebullient raconteur as well as a world famous filmmaker A little over a decade later Sturges died in New York impoverished and rejected by Hollywood The euphoria of success the fitfulness of luck the promise and poignancy of the American Dream the themes of Sturges's work also marked the man Diane Jacobs achieves a singular success in illuminating his extraordinary life This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1992 Remembered Yesterdays Robert Underwood Johnson, 1923
