The Construction of Authorship, 1994      The Construction of Authorship Martha Woodmansee, Peter Jaszi, 1994 What is an author What is a text At a time when the definition of text is expanding and the technology whereby texts are produced and disseminated is changing at an explosive rate the ways authorship is defined and rights conferred upon authors must also be reconsidered This volume argues that contemporary copyright law rooted as it is in a nineteenth century Romantic understanding of the author as a solitary creative genius may be inapposite to the realities of cultural production Drawing together distinguished scholars from literature law and the social sciences the volume explores the social and cultural construction of authorship as a step toward redefining notions of authorship and copyright for today's world These essays illustrating cultural studies in action are aggressively interdisciplinary and wide ranging in topic and approach Questions of collective and collaborative authorship in both contemporary and early modern contexts are addressed Other topics include moral theory and authorship copyright and the balance between competing interests of authors and the public problems of international copyright musical sampling and its impact on fair use doctrine cinematic authorship quotation and libel alternative views of authorship as exemplified by nineteenth century women's clubs and by the Renaissance commonplace book authorship in relation to broadcast media and to the teaching of writing and the material dimension of authorship as demonstrated by Milton's publishing contract Contributors Rosemary J Coombe Margreta de Grazia Marvin D Lugo John Feather N N Feltes Ann Ruggles Gere Peter Jaszi Gerhard Joseph Peter Lindenbaum Andrea A Lunsford and Lisa Ede Jeffrey A Masten Thomas Pfau Monroe E Price and Malla Pollack Mark Rose Marlon B Ross David Sanjek Thomas Streeter Jim Swan Max W Thomas Martha Woodmansee Alfred C Yen      Media Authorship Cynthia Chris, David A. Gerstner, 2013-02-15 Contemporary media authorship is frequently collaborative participatory non site specific or quite simply goes unrecognized In this volume media and film scholars explore the theoretical debates around authorship intention and identity within the rapidly transforming and globalized culture industry of new media Defining media broadly across a range of creative artifacts and production cultures from visual arts to videogames from textiles to television contributors consider authoring practices of artists designers do it yourselfers media professionals scholars and others Specifically they ask What constitutes media and authorship in a technologically converged globally conglomerated multiplatform environment for the production and distribution of content What can we learn from cinematic and literary models of authorship and critiques of those models with regard to authorship not only in television and recorded music but also interactive media such as videogames and the Internet How do we conceive of authorship through practices in which users generate content collaboratively or via appropriation What institutional prerogatives and legal debates around intellectual property rights fair use and copyright bear on concepts of authorship in new media By addressing these issues Media Authorship demonstrates that the concept of authorship as formulated in literary and film studies is reinvigorated contested remade even reauthored by new practices in

Human Enhancement Technologies and Our Merger with Machines Woodrow Barfield, Sayoko Blodgett-Ford, 2021-06-15 A cross disciplinary approach is offered to consider the challenge of emerging technologies designed to enhance human bodies and minds Perspectives from philosophy ethics law and policy are applied to a wide variety of enhancements including integration of technology within human bodies as well as genetic biological and pharmacological modifications Humans may be permanently or temporarily enhanced with artificial parts by manipulating or reprogramming human DNA and through other enhancement techniques and combinations thereof We are on the cusp of significantly modifying and perhaps improving the human ecosystem This evolution necessitates a continuing effort to re-evaluate current laws and if appropriate to modify such laws or develop new laws that address enhancement technology A legal ethical and policy response to current and future human enhancements should strive to protect the rights of all involved and to recognize the responsibilities of humans to other conscious and living beings regardless of what they look like or what abilities they have or lack A potential ethical approach is outlined in which rights and responsibilities should be respected even if enhanced humans are perceived by non-enhanced or less-enhanced humans as no longer human at all Cultivating Copyright Bhamati Viswanathan, 2019-06-27 Creators and creative industries are struggling to navigate the digital age Intellectual property rights including copyrights trademarks and patents offer invaluable tools to help creative industries remain viable and sustainable But to be fully effective they must be considered as part of a greater ecosystem Cultivating Copyright offers a framework for tailoring flexible strategies and adaptive solutions suited to diverse creative industries Tailored solutions entail change on four fronts business models and strategies legal policies and practices technological measures and cultural and normative features Creating strong creative industries through tailored solutions serves critical functions promoting richly varied artistic endeavors and supporting democratic flourishing International Human Rights, Decolonisation and Globalisation Shelley Wright, 2003-09-02 Covering a diverse range of topics case studies and theories the author undertakes a critique of the principal assumptions on which the existing international human rights regime has been constructed She argues that the decolonization of human rights and the creation of a global community that is conducive to the well-being of all humans will require a radical restructuring of our ways of thinking researching and writing In contributing to this restructuring she brings together feminist and indigenous approaches as well as postmodern and post-colonial scholarship engaging directly with some of the prevailing orthodoxies such as universality the individual self-determination cultural relativism globalization and civil society Cultural Studies Lawrence Grossberg, 2020-11-25 This book leading and shaping the field of cultural studies in Australia fosters a conversation about the changing and competing discursive and material conditions struggles and possibilities of the contemporary world in all their complexities and diversities Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2001 Discourse, 1994 Selected Acquisitions of the Library Indiana University, Bloomington. Authorship and Copyright David Saunders,2023-02-28 First published in 1992 Authorship and Copyright traces the history of constructions of authorship as a legal reality It offers an alternative to the two mainstream interpretations that have traditionally been assigned to authorship the Romantic dialectical birth of the author or the language based post structuralist death of the author Saunders examines the shortcomings of both schemes by arguing that they impose an arbitrary philosophical direction on the history of authorship and the law of copyright Saunders addresses the issues relating to copyright and the construction of authorship as a legal status Combining information and polemic the author explores such matters as the historical and theoretical relations of copyright and the droit moral the aestheticization of the law and the juridification of aesthetics and the argument that authorship as a legal reality is a historically contingent and variable arrangement that cannot be separated from its cultural and juridical context This book will be of interest to students of law literature and philosophy Postmodern Plagiarisms Mirjam Horn,2015-07-01 This monograph takes on the question of how literary plagiarism is defined exposed and sanctioned in Western culture and how appropriating language assigned to another author can be considered a radical subversive act in postmodern US American literature While various forms of art such as music painting or theater have come to institutionalize appropriation as a valid mode to ventilate what authorship originality and the anxiety of influence may mean the literary sphere still has a hard time acknowledging the unmarked acquisition of words ideas and manuscripts The author shows how postmodern plagiarism in particular serves as a literary strategy of appropriation at the interface between literary economics law and theoretical discourses of literature She investigates the complex expectations surrounding the strong link between an individual author subject and its alienable text a link that several postmodern writers powerfully question and violate Identifying three distinct practices of postmodern

plagiarism the book examines their specific situatedness precepts and subversive potential as litmus tests for the literary market and the ongoing dynamic notion of the concepts authorship originality and creativity
