The Materiality of Love Anna Malinowska, Michael Gratzke, 2017-09-27 Drawing on love studies and research in material cultures this book seeks to re-examine love through materiality studies especially their recent incarnations new materialism and object-oriented philosophy to spark a debate on the relationship between love objects and forms of materializing affection It focuses on love as a material form and traces connections between feelings and materiality especially in relation to the changing notion of the material as marked by digital culture as well as the developments in understanding the nature of non-human affect It provides insight into how materiality in its broadest sense impacts the understanding of the meanings and practices of love today and reversely how love contributes to the production and transformation of the material world

Family, Gender and Kinship in Australia Allon J. Uhlmann, 2016-04-15 This ethnographically based exploration draws on sociological historical and demographic data to provide a comprehensive analysis of family gender and kinship in Australia which informs modern kinship and gender at large Allon Uhlmann charts the cultural basis that underlies kinship practices and argues that the Australian family is characterized by deep cultural and social continuities rather than the common view that the family is undergoing substantial change He further shows how the modern family both shapes and is shaped by broad social and economic processes This analysis provides greater insight into this critical field of practice as well as showcasing a novel analytical approach to practice that is rooted in the sociology of practice and in the anthropology of cognition The book also suggests changes to the way in which social scientists currently treat family and kinship

Ghost Nation Laurie Duggan, 2001 A vividly written account of Australia's visual arts from Federation through to the end of the Depression the period from which the modernist movement evolved Poet Laurie Duggan draws together areas of Australian cultural history which have formerly been treated through separate disciplines eg modernism and feminism

Law Unlimited Margaret Davies, 2017-01-20 This book engages with a traditional yet persistent question of legal theory what is law However instead of attempting to define and limit law the aim of the book is to unlimit law to take the idea of law beyond its conventionally accepted boundaries into the material and plural domains of an interconnected human and nonhuman world Against the backdrop of analytical jurisprudence the book draws theoretical connections and continuities between different experiences spheres and modalities of law Taking up the many forms of critical and socio-legal thought it presents a broad challenge to legal essentialism and abstraction as well as an important contribution to more general normative theory Reading crystallising and extending themes that have emerged in legal thought over the past century this book is the culmination of the author's 25 years of engagement with legal theory Its bold attempt to forge a thoroughly contemporary approach to law will be of enormous value to those with interests in legal and
