The Australian TV Book Stuart Cunningham,2020-07-25 Television is the most pervasive mass medium of the industrialised world It is blamed for creating alienation and violence in society yet at the same time regarded as trivial and unworthy of serious attention It is the main purveyor of global popular culture yet also intensely local The Australian TV Book paints the big picture of the small screen in Australia It examines industry dynamics in a rapidly changing environment the impact of new technology recent changes in programming and the ways in which the television industry targets its audiences The authors highlight what is distinctive about television in Australia and how it is affected by international developments This book is essential reading for anyone who wants to understand Australian television today Stuart Cunningham is Professor of Media and Journalism at Queensland University of Technology Graeme Turner is director of the Centre for Critical and Cultural Studies at the University of Queensland They are editors of the leading textbook The Media in Australia and authors of many other works on the media

Female Entrepreneurs in the Long Nineteenth Century Jennifer Aston,Catherine Bishop,2020-07-29 This volume challenges those who see gender inequalities invariably defining and constraining the lives of women But it also broadens the conversation about the degree to which business is a gender blind institution owned and managed by entrepreneurs whose gender identities shape and reflect economic and cultural change

Mary A Yeager Professor Emerita University of California Los Angeles This is the first book to consider nineteenth century businesswomen from a global perspective moving beyond European and trans Atlantic frameworks to include many other corners of the world The women in these pages who made money and business decisions for themselves rather than as employees ran a wide variety of enterprises from micro businesses in the grey market to large factories with international reach They included publicans and farmers midwives and property developers milliners and plumbers pirates and shopkeepers Female Entrepreneurs in the Long Nineteenth Century A Global Perspective rejects the notion that nineteenth century women were restricted to the home Despite a variety of legal and structural restrictions they found ways to make important but largely unrecognised contributions to economies around the world many in business Their impact on the economy and the economy's impact on them challenge gender historians to think more about business and business historians to think more about gender and create a global history that is inclusive of multiple perspectives Chapter one of this book is available open access under a CC BY 4.0 license at link.springer.com

Eat History Sofia Eriksson, Madeleine Hastie, Tom Roberts, 2014-07-24 Eat History offers fascinating new insights into the emerging field of gastronomic studies and its intersection with cultural history and includes the writing of nine leading historians on topics ranging from vodka to patty cakes Though primarily focused on Australia the transnational nature of many of the essays widens the scope to include Russia and the British Empire as well as Italy With its engaging and entertaining tone the volume will prove to be of interest not only to researchers and academics in the field but to more general readers keen to discover how the consideration of food opens up whole new areas of history and points the way to fruitful future inquiry
