Librarians will appreciate it as both a reference and collection development tool knowing it's backed by ALA's long tradition of excellence in reference selection Geographical Magazine ,1996-02 Brain, Mind and Consciousness in the History of Neuroscience C.U.M. Smith,Harry Whitaker,2014-04-23 This volume of essays examines the problem of mind looking at how the problem has appeared to neuroscientists in the widest sense from classical antiquity through to contemporary times Beginning with a look at ventricular neuropsychology in antiquity this book goes on to look at Spinozan ideas on the links between mind and body Thomas Willis and the foundation of Neurology Hooke's mechanical model of the mind and Joseph Priestley's approach to the mind body problem The volume offers a chapter on the 19th century Ottoman perspective on western thinking Further chapters trace the work of nineteenth century scholars including George Henry Lewes Herbert Spencer and Emil du Bois Reymond The book covers significant work from the twentieth century including an examination of Alfred North Whitehead and the history of consciousness and particular attention is given to the development of quantum consciousness Chapters on slavery and the self and the development of an understanding of Dualism bring this examination up to date on the latest 21st century work in the field At the heart of this book is the matter of how we define the problem of consciousness itself has there been any progress in our understanding of the working of mind and brain This work at the interface between science and the humanities will appeal to experts from across many fields who wish to develop their understanding of the problem of consciousness including scholars of Neuroscience Behavioural Science and the History of Science Complexity and Climate Change: an Epistemological Study of Transdisciplinary Complexity Theories and Their Contribution to Socio-ecological Phenomena Jennifer Lynn Wells,2009 The Devil's Milk John Tully,2011-02-01 A history of the modern world told through the multiple lives of rubber Capital as Marx once wrote comes into the world dripping from head to foot from every pore with blood and dirt He might well have been describing the long grim history of rubber From the early stages of primitive accumulation to the heights of the industrial revolution and beyond rubber is one of a handful of commodities that has played a crucial role in shaping the modern world and yet as John Tully shows in this remarkable book laboring people around the globe have every reason to regard it as the devil's milk All the advancements made possible by rubber industrial machinery telegraph technology medical equipment countless consumer goods have occurred against a backdrop of seemingly endless exploitation conquest slavery and war But Tully is quick to remind us that the vast terrain of rubber production has always been a site of struggle and that the oppressed who toil closest to the devil's milk in all its forms have never accepted their immiseration without a fight This book the product of exhaustive scholarship carried out in many countries and several continents is destined to become a classic Tully tells the story of humanity's long encounter with rubber in a kaleidoscopic narrative that regards little as outside its range without losing sight of the commodity in question With the skill of a master historian and the elegance of a novelist he presents what amounts to a history of the modern world told through the multiple lives of rubber Architecturalized Asia Vimalin Rujivacharakul,H. Hazel Hahn,Ken Tadashi

Oshima, Peter Christensen, 2013-11-01 How did terms like Asia Eurasia Indochina Pacific Rim or Australasia originate and evolve and what are their connections to the built environment In addressing this question Architecturalized Asia bridges the fields of history and architecture by taking Asia as a discursive structure and cultural construct whose spatial and ideological formation can be examined through the lenses of cartography built environments and visual narratives The first section on the study of architecture in Asia from the medieval through early modern periods examines icons and symbols in maps as well as textual descriptions produced in Europe and Asia The second section explores the establishment of the field of Asian architecture as well as the political and cultural imagining of Asia during the long nineteenth century when Asia and its regions were redefined in the making of modern world maps mainly produced in Europe The third section examines tangible structures produced in the twentieth century as legible documents of these notional constructions of Asia In exploring the ways in which Asia has been drawn and framed both within and without the continent this volume offers cutting edge scholarship on architectural history world history and the history of empires Written by architectural historians and historians specializing in Asia and European empires this unique volume addresses the connection between Asia and the world through the lenses of built environments and spatial conceptualizations Architecturalized Asia will appeal to readers who are interested in Asian architecture world architecture Asian history history of empires and world history □□□□□□□□
