Appalachia in the Making Mary Beth Pudup,Dwight B. Billings,Altina L. Waller,2000-11-09 Appalachia first entered the American consciousness as a distinct region in the decades following the Civil War The place and its people have long been seen as backwards and other because of their perceived geographical social and economic isolation These essays by fourteen eminent historians and social scientists illuminate important dimensions of early social life in diverse sections of the Appalachian mountains The contributors seek to place the study of Appalachia within the context of comparative regional studies of the United States maintaining that processes and patterns thought to make the region exceptional were not necessarily unique to the mountain South The contributors are Mary K Anglin Alan Banks Dwight B Billings Kathleen M Blee Wilma A Dunaway John R Finger John C Inscoe Ronald L Lewis Ralph Mann Gordon B McKinney Mary Beth Pudup Paul Salstrom Altina L Waller and John Alexander Williams The Punishment Monopoly Pem Davidson Buck,2019-11-22

Examines the roots of white supremacy and mass incarceration from the vantage point of history Why asks Pem Davidson Buck is punishment so central to the functioning of the United States a country proclaiming liberty and justice for all The Punishment Monopoly challenges our everyday understanding of American history focusing on the constructions of race class and gender upon which the United States was built and which still support racial capitalism and the carceral state After all Buck writes a state to be a state has to punish bottom line that is what a state and the force it controls is for Using stories of her European ancestors who arrived in colonial Virginia in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries and following their descendants into the early nineteenth century Buck shows how struggles over the right to punish backed by the growing power of the state governed by a white elite made possible the dispossession of Africans Native Americans and poor whites Those struggles led to the creation of the low wage working classes that capitalism requires locked in by a metastasizing white supremacy that Buck s ancestors with many others defined as white helped establish and manipulate Examining those foundational struggles illuminates some of the most contentious issues of the twenty first century the exploitation and detention of immigrants mass incarceration as a central institution Islamophobia white privilege judicial and extra judicial killings of people of color and some poor whites The Punishment Monopoly makes it clear that none of these injustices was accidental or inevitable that shifting our state sanctioned understandings of history is a step toward liberating us from its control of the present Romantic Reformers and the Antislavery Struggle in the Civil War Era Ethan J. Kytte,2014-08-11

On the cusp of the American Civil War a new generation of reformers including Theodore Parker Frederick Douglass Harriet Beecher Stowe Martin Robison Delany and Thomas Wentworth Higginson took the lead in the antislavery struggle Frustrated by political defeats a more aggressive Slave Power and the inability of early abolitionists like William Lloyd Garrison to rid the nation of slavery the New Romantics crafted fresh often more combative approaches to the peculiar institution Contrary to what many scholars have argued however they did not reject Romantic reform in the process. Instead the New Romantics roamed widely through Romantic modes of thought embracing not only the immediatism and perfectionism pioneered by Garrisonians but also new motifs and doctrines including sentimentalism, self culture, martial heroism, Romantic racialism, and Manifest Destiny. This book tells the story of how antebellum America's most important intellectual current, Romanticism, shaped the coming and course of the nation's bloodiest and most revolutionary conflict.

The Evangelical War Against Slavery and Caste Victor B. Howard, 1996. This book is a biography of John G. Fee who was a product of the Great Awakening of the early nineteenth century, the economies of the small slave holding farm, and the intimacies and comradeship of black and white children. Born in Bracken County, Kentucky, in 1816, Fee is a unique figure in the antislavery movement. Most abolitionists were northern born but they were assisted and supported by many antislavery men who left the South and worked against slavery from the northern states. Both groups addressed themselves to the problem of slavery from the security of the North but Fee was born in the South and chose to live there and work against the peculiar institution from within its stronghold. He became the most important and influential reformer to wage war against slavery in the South during the nineteenth century and ultimately had the longest career in race relations extending into the twentieth century. From publisher's description.

Mary Lincoln Stacy Pratt McDermott, 2015-01-09. One of America's most compelling First Ladies, Mary Lincoln possessed a unique vantage point on the events of her time even as her experiences of the constraints of gender roles and the upheaval of the Civil War reflected those of many other women. The story of her life presents a microcosm through which we can understand the complex and dramatic events of the nineteenth century in the United States, including vital issues of gender, war, and the divisions between North and South. The daughter of a southern slave holding family, Mary Lincoln had close ties to people on both sides of the war. Her life shows how the North and South were interconnected even as the country was riven by sectional strife. In this concise narrative, Stacy Pratt McDermott presents an evenhanded account of this complex, intelligent woman and her times. Supported by primary documents and a robust companion website, this biography introduces students to the world of nineteenth century America and the firsthand experiences of Americans during the Civil War.

The ^ARivers Ran Backward Christopher Phillips, 2016-04-22. A magnum opus on the history of the middle border states of the American West in the Civil War era.

The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2001. This massive guide, sponsored by the W. E. B. Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts, offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America.
