The Archaeology of Yucatán: New Directions and Data Travis W. Stanton, 2014-10-10 This volume was conceived to provide a forum for Mexican and foreign scholars to publish new data and interpretations on the archaeology of the northern Maya lowlands specifically the State of Yucatán      Once Beneath The Forest Bl Turner II, 2019-06-04 My interest in ancient Maya agriculture began late in the year of 1971 when William M Denevan encouraged me to pursue the topic Our interests had been perked by reports from Joseph W Ball Jack Eaton and Irwin Rovner of the presence of terrace like features throughout the Rio Bee region of the southern Yucatan Peninsula Denevan maintained a long term interest in pre Hispanic agriculture and population in the New World Our studies with the emerging Rio Bee research group at the University of Wisconsin led to the conclusion that the then dominant themes of Maya agriculture were in need of reevaluation and that a number of remains of intensive forms of agriculture were likely to be found in the Central Maya lowlands of Mexico Peten Guatemala and Belize particularly wetland or raised fields in addition to the reported terraces Our interests were heightened at this time by notification from Alfred Siemens of the finds of wetland fields in the vicinity of the Rio Bee region in the Chetumal Mexico northern Belize area      Preclassic Maya Pottery at Cuello, Belize Laura J. Kosakowsky, 2022-03-29 Kosakowsky's book produced in the clear easy to read and well designed format is a substantive contribution to Maya ceramic studies She details the significant changes in the ceramic sequence and in so doing provides the kind of information that enables other ceramicists and other Mayanists to compare the Cuello phenomenon with developments elsewhere Studies such as these are the building blocks of any larger scale structural understanding of Maya cultural change Journal of Latin American Studies      Research Reports - National Geographic Society National Geographic Society (U.S.), 1979 Abstracts and reviews of research and exploration authorized under grants from the National Geographic Society      The

Maya of the Cochuah Region Justine M. Shaw, 2015-12-01 In recent years the Cochuah region the ancient breadbasket of the north central Yucatecan lowlands has been documented and analyzed by a number of archaeologists and cultural anthropologists This book the first major collection of data from those investigations presents and analyzes findings on more than eighty sites and puts them in the context of the findings of other investigations from outside the area It begins with archaeological investigations and continues with research on living peoples Within the archaeological sections historic and colonial chapters build upon those concerned with the Classic Maya revealing the ebb and flow of settlement through time in the region as peoples entered left and modified their ways of life based upon external and internal events and forces In addition to discussing the history of anthropological research in the area the contributors address such issues as modern women s reproductive choices site boundary definition caves as holy places settlement shifts and the reuse of spaces through time

The Lowland Maya Postclassic Arlen F. Chase, Prudence M. Untaming the Frontier in Anthropology, Archaeology, and History Bradley J. Parker, Lars Rodseth, 2023-01-24 Despite a half century of attempts by social scientists to compare frontiers around the world the study of these regions is still closely associated with the nineteenth century American West and the work of Frederick Jackson Turner As a result the very concept of the frontier is bound up in Victorian notions of manifest destiny and rugged individualism The frontier it would seem has been tamed This book seeks to open a new debate about the processes of frontier history in a variety of cultural contexts untaming the frontier as an analytic concept and releasing it in a range of unfamiliar settings Drawing on examples from over four millennia it shows that throughout history societies have been formed and transformed in relation to their frontiers and that no one historical case represents the normal or typical frontier pattern The contributors historians anthropologists and archaeologists present numerous examples of the frontier as a shifting zone of innovation and recombination through which cultural materials from many sources have been unpredictably channeled and transformed At the same time they reveal recurring processes of frontier history that enable world historical comparison the emergence of the frontier in relation to a core area the mutually structuring interactions between frontier and core and the development of social exchange merger or conflict between previously separate populations brought together on the frontier Any frontier situation has many dimensions and each of the chapters highlights one or more of these from the physical and ideological aspects of Egypt s Nubian frontier to the military and cultural components of Inka outposts in Bolivia to the shifting agrarian religious and political boundaries in Bengal They explore cases in which the centripetal forces at work in frontier zones have resulted in cultural hybridization or creolization and in some instances show how satellite settlements on the frontiers of core polities themselves develop into new core polities Each of the chapters suggests that frontiers are shaped in critical ways by topography climate vegetation and the availability of water and other strategic resources and most also consider cases of population shifts within or through a frontier zone As these studies reveal transnationalism in today's world can best be understood as an extension of frontier processes that have developed over thousands of years This book's interdisciplinary perspective challenges readers to look beyond their own fields of interest to reconsider the true nature and meaning of frontiers Perspectives on the Ancient

Maya of Chetumal Bay Debra S. Walker, 2016-10-04 Brings novel synthetic insight to understanding a region that was a hub of waterborne trade and an important locus of production for some of the Maya's most valued crops Cynthia Robin author of Everyday Life Matters Maya Farmers at Chan This one of a kind volume shows us how important this region was to the ancient Maya with detailed and vivid descriptions of sociopolitical and economic organization and their relation to the unique landscape and geography of Chetumal Bay Laura J Kosakowsky author of Preclassic Maya Pottery at Cuello Belize Chetumal Bay is central to discussions of ancient Maya politics warfare economy exchange and communication because of its unique location Although the ancient Maya invested prodigious amounts of labor in the construction of road systems called sacbeob for communication and trade recent archaeological discoveries around Chetumal Bay in both Belize and Mexico reveal an economic alternative to these roads an extensive network of riverine and maritime waterways Focusing on sites ringing the bay such as Cerro Maya Oxtankah and Santa Rita Corozal the contributors to this volume explore how the bay and its feeder rivers affected all aspects of Maya culture from settlement food production and the production and use of special goods to political relationships and social organization Besides being a nexus for long distance exchange in valuable materials such as jade and obsidian the region was recognized for its high quality agricultural produce including cacao achiotte vanilla local fruits honey and salt and for its rich marine environment The Maya living on the fringes of the bay perceived the entire region as a single resource procurement zone Waterborne trade brought the world to them providing a wider horizon than would have been available to inland cities dependent only on Maya roads for news of the world The research reveals that trade relations played a central role in the organization of human social life on Chetumal Bay Contributors James Aimers Timothy Beach Clifford Brown Beverly A Chiarulli Lisa G Duffy Dori Farthing David A Freidel Elizabeth Graham Thomas Guderjan Elizabeth Haussner Linda Howie Samantha Krause Javier Lopez Camacho Sheryl Luzzadder Beach Marc D Marino Lucas R Martindale Johnson Heather McKillop Nathan J Meissner Emiliano Ricardo Melgar T soc Susan Milbrath Satoru Murata Maxine Oland Terry Powis Kathryn Reese Taylor Robin Robertson Luis A Torres D az Araceli V zquez Villegas Debra S Walker Río Azul Richard E. W. Adams, 1999 Deep within the forest in northern Guatemala lie the ruins of Río Azul a Maya city that reached one third the size of Tikal Discovered and partially explored in the early 1960s Río Azul and the surrounding region were more fully investigated between 1983 and 1987 by an archaeological team led by Richard E W Adams In this summary Adams integrates the findings of field archaeologists with those of the epigraphers and art historians to recreate the life of this Maya city from the little known Early Classic period

Remains in the R o Azul area date from 900 B C to A D 850 The data indicate that unlike most Maya cities that have been studied R o Azul was a frontier town an administrative center with alternating defense and trade outpost functions About A D 385 the R o Azul region was conquered and the city founded by Tikal serving as a Teotihuacan linked garrison for that capital Nearly all of the more than seven hundred structures found within R o Azul were erected between A D 390 and 530 Acres of pavement were laid down around some thirty complexes of residences temples and tombs notable for the brightly painted red hieroglyphs and murals on their walls The elaborate complexes and sumptuous artifacts suggest a city with a heavy proportion of aristocratic families and retainers Around A D 530 R o Azul appears to have been suddenly destroyed The city was abandoned then reoccupied only to stagnate and finally collapse like many other Classic Maya cities in the late ninth century Mesoamerica After the Decline of Teotihuacan, A.D. 700-900 Richard A. Diehl, Janet Catherine Berlo, 1989

The Ceramic Sequence of the Holmul Region, Guatemala Michael G. Callaghan, Nina Neivens de Estrada, 2016-11-29 Sequencing the ceramics in Guatemala s Holmul region has the potential to answer important questions in Maya archaeology The Holmul region located in northeastern Guatemala between the central Peten lowlands to the west and the Belize River Valley to the east encompasses roughly ten square kilometers and contains at least seven major archaeological sites including two large ceremonial and administrative centers Holmul and Cival The Ceramic Sequence of the Holmul Region Guatemala illustrates the archaeological ceramics of these prehistoric Maya sites in a study that provides a theoretical starting point for answering questions related to mid and high level issues of archaeological method and theory in the Maya area and larger Mesoamerica The researchers ceramic sequence which uses the method of type variety mode classification spans approximately 1 600 years and encompasses nine ceramic complexes and one sub complex The highly illustrated book is formatted as a catalog of the types of ceramics in a chronological framework The authors undertook this study with three objectives to create a temporal spatial framework for archaeological sites in the politically important Holmul region to relate this framework to other Maya sites and to use type variety mode data to address specific questions of ancient Maya social practice and process during each ceramic complex Specific questions addressed in this volume include the adoption of pottery as early as 800 BC at the sites of Holmul and Cival during the Middle Preclassic period the creation of the first orange polychrome pottery the ideological and political influence from sites in Mexico during the Early Classic period and the demographic and political collapse of lowland Maya polities between AD 800 and AD 830 The Ceramic Sequence of Tikal T. Patrick Culbert, Laura J. Kosakowsky, 2019-09-30 The two volumes of the central Tikal ceramic reports Tikal Reports 25A and 25B present the information gathered from the analysis of all ceramics recovered by the University of Pennsylvania research project at Tikal between 1956 and 1970 Tikal Report 25A Culbert 1993 contains illustrations and brief descriptive captions for all whole vessels recovered from burials caches and problematical deposits Because Tikal Report 25A illustrates the often spectacular decorated vessels from major burials it is of the most general interest for comparative purposes This volume Tikal Report 25B presents the Tikal sequence of nine ceramic complexes the analysis of the small sample of Postclassic Caban ceramics was not completed describes the ceramics from each complex presents the data for all counted lots and illustrates the material from sherd collections It is a specialist volume primarily of interest to those actively involved in research with Maya ceramics The material is complemented by data in the Tikal Reports devoted to excavations and by the analysis of nonceramic artifactual material in Tikal Reports 27A and 27B Moholy Nagy and Coe 2008 Moholy Nagy 2003

Continuities and Changes in Maya Archaeology Charles Golden,Greg Borgstede,2004-03 This book presents the current state of Maya archaeology by focusing on the history of the field for the last 100 years present day research and forward looking prescription for the direction of the field Pottery of Prehistoric Honduras Marilyn Beaudry-Corbett,John S. Henderson,1993-07-01 The contributors to this volume have addressed issues of systematics in pottery analysis that perplex archaeologists wherever they work These issues are not approached by setting forth rules or by adopting a how to approach but rather by example as the various researchers give the background to their work explain their methods and present the classified pottery from their investigations An in process statement of what we are learning from pottery about chronology interactions and the nature of regional cultural development this volume can be used by archaeologists working in southern Mesoamerica and northern Central America who will find it valuable for comparative analysis and by archaeologists dealing with issues of systematics in pottery analysis in different culture areas but facing many of the same problems that researchers do in Honduras

Pre-Mamom Pottery Variation and the Preclassic Origins of the Lowland Maya Debra S. Walker,2023-04-15 Pre Mamom Pottery Variation and the Preclassic Origins of the Lowland Maya summarizes archaeological researchers current views on the adoption and first use of pottery across the Maya lowlands Covering the early Middle Preclassic period when communities began using and producing pottery for the first time roughly 1000 600 BC through to the establishment of a recognizably Maya tradition termed the Mamom ceramic sphere about 600 300 BC the book demonstrates that the adoption was broadly contemporary with variation in how the new technology was adapted locally Analyzing ceramics found at sites in Belize Pet n Guatemala and Mexico the contributors provide evidence that the pre Mamom expansion of pottery resulted from increased dependence on maize agriculture exploitation of limestone caprock and greater reliance on a preexisting system of long distance exchange The chapters describe the individual experiences of new potting communities at various sites across the region They are supplemented by appendixes presenting key chronological data as well as the principal types and varieties of pre Mamom ceramic complexes across the various spheres Xe Eb Swasey Cunil and Ek A significant amount of new material has been excavated in the last decade changing what is known about the early Middle Preclassic period and making Pre Mamom Pottery Variation and the Preclassic Origins of the Lowland Maya a first read of the early ceramic prehistory of the Maya lowlands It will be a valuable resource for students and scholars interested in the archaeology of the Maya lowlands Mesoamerican social complexity and ceramic
