The Archaeology Of The Hopi Buttes District Arizona:

The Archaeology of the Hopi Buttes District, Arizona George J. Gumerman, 1988 Becoming Hopi Wesley Bernardini, Stewart B. Koyiyumptewa, Gregson Schachner, Leigh J. Kuwanwisiwma, 2021-07-06 Becoming Hopi is a comprehensive look at the history of the people of the Hopi Mesas as it has never been told before The product of more than fifteen years of collaboration between tribal and academic scholars this volume presents groundbreaking research demonstrating that the Hopi Mesas are among the great centers of the Pueblo world A Hopi Social History Scott Rushforth, Steadman Upham, 2014-08-27 Incorporates a multitude of theoretical approaches about Hopi sociological life Ranging from prehistoric times until contemporary times Indigenous Nations Studies Journal All anthropologists and archaeologists seek to answer basic questions about human beings and society Why do people behave the way they do Why do patterns in the behavior of individuals and groups sometimes persist for remarkable periods of time Why do patterns in behavior sometimes change A Hopi Social History explores these basic questions in a unique way The discussion is constructed around a historically ordered series of case studies from a single sociocultural system the Hopi in order to understand better the multiplicity of processes at work in any sociocultural system through time The case studies investigate the mysterious abandonments of the Western Pueblo region in late prehistory the initial impact of European diseases on the Hopis Hopi resistance to European domination between 1680 and 1880 the split of Oraibi village in 1906 and some responses by the Hopis to modernization in the twentieth century These case studies provide a forum in which the authors examine a number of theories and conceptions of culture to determine which theories are relevant to which kinds of persistence and change With this broad theoretical synthesis the book will be of interest to students and scholars in the social sciences A foundation for general discourse on anthropological theory and explanation Covering the prehistoric Spanish early historic and contemporary periods American Indian Quarterly Ancestral Hopi Migrations Patrick D. Lyons, 2016-10-15 Southwestern archaeologists have long speculated about the scale and impact of ancient population movements In Ancestral Hopi Migrations Patrick Lyons infers the movement of large numbers of people from the Kayenta and Tusayan regions of northern Arizona to every major river valley in Arizona parts of New Mexico and northern Mexico Building upon earlier studies Lyons uses chemical sourcing of ceramics and analyses of painted pottery designs to distinguish among traces of exchange emulation and migration He demonstrates strong similarities among the pottery traditions of the Kayenta region the Hopi Mesas and the Homolovi villages near Winslow Arizona Architectural evidence marshaled by Lyons corroborates his conclusion that the inhabitants of Homolovi were immigrants from the north Placing the Homolovi case study in a larger context Lyons synthesizes evidence of northern immigrants recovered from sites dating between A.D. 1250 and 1450 His data support Patricia Crown's contention that the movement of these groups is linked to the origin of the Salado polychromes and further indicate that these immigrants and their descendants were responsible for the production of Roosevelt Red Ware throughout much of the Greater Southwest Offering an innovative juxtaposition of anthropological data bearing on Hopi migrations and oral accounts of the tribe s origin and history Lyons highlights the many points of agreement between these two bodies of knowledge Lyons argues that appreciating the scale of population movement that characterized the late prehistoric period is prerequisite to understanding regional phenomena such as Salado and to illuminating the connections between tribal peoples of the Southwest and their ancestors An Archeological Overview of Petrified Forest National Park Yvonne G. Fish, John Henry Madsen, 1992 This account of Classic Period settlement in the Tucson Basin between A D 1100 and 1300 is the first comprehensive description of the organization of territory subsistence and society in a Hohokam community of an outlying region Broad recovery of settlement patterns reveals in unique detail the developmental history of the Marana Community and its hierarchical structure about a central site with a platform mound Remains of diverse agricultural technologies demonstrate the means for supporting populations of previously unrecognized size Dynamics of Southwest Prehistory Linda S. Cordell, George J. Gumerman, 2006-05-28 Emerging from a School of American Research this work reviews the general status of archaeological knowledge in 9 key regions of the Southwest to examine broader questions of cultural development which affected the Southwest as a whole and to consider an overall conceptual model of the prehistoric Southwest after the advent of sedentism Archaeology of Prehistoric Native America Guy E. Herr, 2016-12-15 During the eleventh and twelfth centuries A D the Mogollon Rim region of east central Arizona was a frontier situated beyond and between larger regional organizations such as Chaco Hohokam and Mimbres On this southwestern edge of the Puebloan world past settlement poses a contradiction to those who study it Population density was low and land abundant yet the region was overbuilt with great kivas a form of community level architecture Using a frontier model to evaluate household community and regional data Sarah Herr demonstrates that the archaeological patterns of the Mogollon Rim region were created by the flexible and creative behaviors of small scale agriculturalists These people lived in a land rich and labor poor environment in which expediency mobility and fluid social organization were the rule and rigid structures and normative behaviors the exception Herr s research shows that the eleventh and twelfth century inhabitants of the Mogollon Rim region were recent migrants probably from the southern portion of the Chacoan region These early settlers built houses and ceremonial structures and made ceramic vessels that resembled those of their homeland but their social and political organization was not the same as that of their ancestors Mogollon Rim communities were shaped by the cultural backgrounds of migrants by their liminal position on the political landscape and by the unique processes associated with frontiers As migrants moved from homeland to frontier a reversal in the proportion of land to labor dramatically changed the social relations of production Herr argues that when the context of production changes in this way wealth in people becomes more valuable than material wealth and social relationships and cultural symbols such as the great kiva must be reinterpreted accordingly Beyond Chaco expands our knowledge of the prehistory of this region and contributes to our understanding of how ancestral communities were constituted in lower population areas of the agrarian Southwest
