The Architecture Of New Prague 1895 1945:

Od Moderny K Funkcionalismu Rostislav Švácha, Eric Dluhosch, 1995 Focuses on the architecture of Prague from the turn of the century to the end of World War II The book documents the architects structures and theoretical underpinnings that helped to shape Prague s cultural heritage and present day artistic spirit The Architecture of New Prague 1895-1945

Rostislav Svácha, Eric Dluhosch, 1999 When Buildings Speak Anthony Alofsin, 2006 The canonical inventors of International Style have long dominated studies of modern European architecture But in this text Anthony Alofsin broadens this scope by exploring the rich yet overlooked architecture of the late Austro Hungarian Empire and its successor states

The Optimum Imperative: Czech Architecture for the Socialist Lifestyle, 1938-1968 Ana Miljacki, 2017-02-03 The Optimum Imperative examines the multiple ways that architecture was entangled within the problem of Socialist lifestyle in Czechoslovakia Streetscapes of War and Revolution Claire Morelon, 2024-06-06 Prague entered the First World War as the third city of the Habsburg empire but emerged in 1918 as the capital of a brand new nation state Czechoslovakia Claire Morelon explores what this transition looked sounded and felt like at street level Through deep archival research she has carefully reconstructed the sensorial texture of the city from the posters plastered on walls to the shop windows displays the badges worn by passers by and the crowds gathering for protest or celebration The result is both an atmospheric account of life amid war and regime change and a fresh interpretation of imperial collapse from below in which the experience of life on the Habsburg home front is essential to understanding the post Versailles world order that followed Prague is the perfect case study for examining the transition from empire to nation statehood hinging on revolutionary dreams of fairer distribution and new forms of political participation

Flexible Housing Jeremy Till, Tatjana Schneider, 2016-09-19 Flexible housing is housing that can adjust to the changing needs of the user and accommodate new technologies as they emerge Flexible Housing by Jeremy Till and Tatjana Schneider examines the past present and future of this important subject through over 160 international examples Specially commissioned plans printed to scale together with over 200 illustrations and diagrams provide fascinating detail and allow direct visual comparisons to be made Combining history theory and design the book explains the social and economic benefits that can be achieved and shows the various ways it has been and can be delivered The book ends with an accessible guide to how flexible housing might be designed and constructed today to achieve adaptable and ultimately sustainable buildings Housing designers housing managers and students of architecture construction and housing will find this book of immense value both as a comprehensive reference and design manual A New Europe, 1918-1923 Bartosz Dziewanowski-Stefańczyk, Jay Winter, 2022-03-03 This set of essays introduces readers to new historical research on the creation of the new order in East Central Europe in the period immediately following 1918 The book offers insights into the political diplomatic military economic and cultural conditions out of which the New Europe was born Experts from various countries take into account three perspectives They give equal attention to both the Western and

Eastern fronts they recognise that on 11 November 1918 the War ended only on the Western front and violence continued in multiple forms over the next five years and they show how state building after 1918 in Central and Eastern Europe was marked by a mixture of innovation and instability Thus the volume focuses on three kinds of narratives those related to conflicts and violence those related to the recasting of civil life in new structures and institutions and those related to remembrance and representations of these years in the public sphere Taking a step towards writing a fully European history of the Great War and its aftermath the volume offers an original approach to this decisive period in 20th century European history

Sanctioning Modernism Vladimir Kulic, Timothy Parker, Monica Penick, 2014-06-01 In the decades following World War II modern architecture spread around the globe alongside increased modernization urbanization and postwar reconstruction and it eventually won widespread acceptance But as the limitations of conventional conceptions of modernism became apparent modern architecture has come under increasing criticism In this collection of essays experienced and emerging scholars take a fresh look at postwar modern architecture by asking what it meant to be modern what role modern architecture played in constructing modern identities and who sanctioned or was sanctioned by modernism in architecture This volume presents focused case studies of modern architecture in three realms political religious and domestic that address our very essence as human beings Several essays explore developments in Czechoslovakia Romania and Yugoslavia and document a modernist design culture that crossed political barriers such as the Iron Curtain more readily than previously imagined Other essays investigate various efforts to reconcile the concerns of modernist architects with the traditions of the Roman Catholic Church and other Christian institutions And a final group of essays looks at postwar homebuilding in the United States and demonstrates how malleable and contested the image of the American home was in the mid twentieth century These inquiries show the limits of canonical views of modern architecture and reveal instead how civic institutions ecclesiastical traditions individual consumers and others sought to sanction the forms and ideas of modern architecture in the service of their respective claims or desires to be modern

Art Nouveau Jeremy Howard, 1996 This critical survey of the Art Nouveau movement reveals the diversity of this style across the breadth of the European continent With the inclusion of Eastern Europe and the full range of artistic media the book shows how this movement changed the face of European art and design from Paris to Prague Clearly structured by country it traces the emergence of Art Nouveau highlighting the particular interpretations of the style in each country Countries covered include Belgium Spain Britain Austria Hungary and Russia Each chapter contains sections on political and cultural contexts specific visual characteristics and key artists and designers It analyzes the contribution of both well known artists and designers such as Gaudi Van de Velde Mackintosh and Mucha and brings to light many others whose contributions have been largely inaccessible With a bibliography and glossary this text should provide a useful introduction to this subject

Modernity, History, and Politics in Czech Art Marta Filipová, 2019-07-08 This book traces the influence of the changing political environment on Czech art criticism history and theory between 1895 and 1939 looking beyond the avant garde to the peripheries of modern art The period is marked by radical political changes the formation of national and regional identities and the rise of modernism in Central Europe specifically the collapse of Austria Hungary and the creation of the new democratic state of Czechoslovakia Marta Filipov studies the way in which narratives of modern art were formed in a constant negotiation and dialogue between an effort to be international and a desire to remain authentically local Gender Politics and Everyday Life in State Socialist Eastern and Central Europe S. Penn, J. Massino, 2009-11-23 This book showcases extensive research on gender under state socialism examining the subject in terms of state policy and law sexuality and reproduction the academy leisure the private sphere the work world opposition activism and memory and identity The City in Central Europe Malcolm Gee, Tim Kirk, Jill Steward, 2019-01-04 First published in 1999 this volume explores how the cities of central Europe among them Berlin Budapest Hamburg Vienna and Prague went through a period of phenomenal growth during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Their rapid expansion and growing economic importance made citizens aware of the need to manage the fabric and culture of the urban environment while burgeoning nationalism and the development of local and international tourism constructed cities as showcases for national and regional identity Competing visions of how city and nation should represent themselves were advanced by different social groups by commercial interests and by local and national political authorities Among the developments examined in this collection of essays are the campaign for the architectural development of Hamburg international modernism and notions of the garden city in Czechoslovakia competition among German cities as art centres the role of Wawel Hill in Krak w as a vehicle for Polish nationalism tourism in Austria Hungary Jewish assimilation in Vienna social control and cultural policy in Vienna and the representation of Berlin on film The volume is introduced by Malcolm Gee Tim Kirk and Jill Steward who provide an historical overview which establishes a context for the exchange of ideas and competition between the cities of central Europe during this period Urban Machinery Mikael Hård, Thomas J. Misa, 2008 Urban Machinery investigates the technological dimension of modern European cities vividly describing the most dramatic changes in the urban environment over the last century and a half Written by leading scholars from the history of technology urban history sociology and science technology and society the book views the European city as a complex construct entangled with technology The chapters examine the increasing similarity of modern cities and their technical infrastructures including communication energy industrial and transportation systems and the resulting tension between homogenization and cultural differentiation The contributors emphasize the concept of circulation the process by which architectural ideas urban planning principles engineering concepts and societal models spread across Europe as well as from the United States to Europe They also examine the parallel process of appropriation how these systems and practices have been adapted to prevailing institutional structures and cultural preferences Urban Machinery with contributions by scholars from eight countries and more than thirty illustrations many of them rare photographs never published before includes studies from northern and southern and from eastern and western Europe and also discusses how European cities were viewed from the periphery modernizing Turkey and from the United States Contributors Hans Buiter Paolo Capuzzo Noyan Din kal Cornelis Disco P l Germuska Mikael H rd Martina He ler Dagmara Jajesniak Quast Andrew Jamison Per Lundin Thomas J Misa Dieter Schott Marcus Stippak Mikael H rd is Professor of History at Darmstadt University of Technology His books include The Intellectual Appropriation of Technology Discourses on Modernity 1900 1939 coedited with Andrew Jamison MIT Press 1998 Thomas J Misa is ERA Land Grant Professor of the History of Technology at the University of Minnesota where he directs the Charles Babbage Institute His books include Modernity and Technology coedited with Philip Brey and Andrew Feenberg MIT Press 2003 The Inhabited Ruins of Central Europe D. Gafijczuk, D. Sayer, 2013-09-27 Focusing on Central Europe the volume proposes a new paradigm of how culture works based on a model of inhabited ruins as a space where contradictory elements come together into continually renewed and frequently paradoxical configurations Examines art architecture literature and music Modern Architecture in Czechoslovakia and Other Writings Karel Teige, 2000 This series offers a range of heretofore unavailable writings in English translation on the subjects of art architecture and aesthetics Teige s principal work on modernism now in English for the first time is supplemented by a selection of his other writings on art and architecture Urban Architectures in Interwar Yugoslavia Tanja D. Conley, 2020-02-25 Resulting from a twenty year period of research this book seeks to challenge contradictions between the concepts of national and modern architectures promoted among the most pronounced national groups of Yugoslavia Serbs Croats and Slovenes It spans from the beginning of their nation building programs in the mid nineteenth century until the collapse of unified South Slavic ideology and the outbreak of the Second World War Organized into two parts it sheds new light onto the question of how two conflicting political agendas on one side the quest for integral Yugoslavism and on the other the fight for strictly separate national identities were acknowledged through the architecture and urbanism of Belgrade Zagreb and Ljubljana Drawing wider conclusions author Tanja D Conley investigates boundaries between two opposing yet interrelated tendencies characterizing the architectural professional in the age of modernity the search for authenticity versus the strive towards globalization Urban Architectures in Interwar Yugoslavia will appeal to researchers academics and students interested in Central and Eastern European architectural history Manufacturing a Socialist Modernity Kimberly Elman Zarecor, 2011-04-10 Eastern European prefabricated housing blocks are often vilified as the visible manifestations of everything that was wrong with state socialism For many inside and outside the region the uniformity of these buildings became symbols of the dullness and drudgery of everyday life Manufacturing a Socialist Modernity complicates this common perception Analyzing the cultural intellectual and professional debates surrounding the construction of mass housing in early postwar Czechoslovakia Zarecor shows that these housing blocks served an essential function in the planned economy and reflected an interwar aesthetic derived from constructivism and functionalism that carried forward into the 1950s With a focus on prefabricated and standardized housing built from 1945 to 1960 Zarecor offers broad and innovative insights into the country's transition from capitalism to state socialism She demonstrates that during this shift architects and engineers consistently strove to meet the needs of Czechs and Slovaks despite challenging economic conditions a lack of material resources and manufacturing and technological limitations In the process architects were asked to put aside their individual creative aspirations and transform themselves into technicians and industrial producers Manufacturing a Socialist Modernity is the first comprehensive history of architectural practice and the emergence of prefabricated housing in the Eastern Bloc Through discussions of individual architects and projects as well as building typologies professional associations and institutional organization it opens a rare window into the cultural and economic life of Eastern Europe during the early postwar period Art and Life in Modernist Prague T. Ort, 2013-05-07 In most contemporary historical writing the picture of modern life in Habsburg Central Europe is a gloomy story of the failure of rationalism and the rise of protofascist movements This book tells a different story focusing on the Czech writers and artists distinguished by their optimistic view of the world in the years before WWI Historical Dictionary of the Czech State Rick Fawn, Jiri Hochman, 2010 Czechoslovakia has been at the center of some of the most difficult and tragic episodes of modern European history its sacrifice to Nazi Germany at Munich the Communist Coup of 1948 and the military crushing of the Prague Spring It has also enacted momentous change almost magically as in the peaceful overthrow of communism in 1989 and then the negotiated end to the country in 1992 Czechoslovak history has consequently produced enduring political metaphors for our times such as the Velvet Revolution and Velvet Divorce The second edition of the Historical Dictionary of the Czech State has been thoroughly updated and greatly expanded Featuring a chronology introductory essay appendix bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries this detailed authoritative reference provides understandings of the Czechs as a people the territory they inhabit their social cultural political and economic developments throughout history and interactions with their neighbors and the wider world A Global History of Architecture Mark M.
