Morgan, 2010-11-15 This book discusses how facts travel and when and why they sometimes travel well enough to acquire a life of their own Whether or not facts travel in this manner depends not only on their character and ability to play useful roles elsewhere but also on the labels packaging vehicles and company that take them across difficult terrains and over disciplinary boundaries These diverse stories of travelling facts ranging from architecture to nanotechnology and from romance fiction to climate science change the way we see the nature of facts Facts are far from the bland and rather boring but useful objects that scientists and humanists produce and fit together to make narratives arguments and evidence Rather their extraordinary abilities to travel well shows when how and why facts can be used to build further knowledge beyond and away from their sites of original production and intended use Landmark Yellow Pages National Trust for Historic Preservation in the United States,1990 In addition to discussing a wide variety of subjects from architectural styles to tax incentives all National Trust member organizations including groups in the Main Street network are listed providing some 5 000 nationwide contacts ranging from state and local preservation organizations historical societies and museums to government agencies professionals and corporations Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Illustrated Guide to Film Directors David Quinlan,1983-01-01 To find more information about Rowman and Littlefield titles please visit www.rowmanlittlefield.com All about Old Buildings Diane Maddex,1985 A History of American Architecture Mark Gelernter,2001 Why did the colonial Americans give over a significant part of their homes to a grand staircase Why did the Victorians drape their buildings ornate decoration And why did American buildings grow so tall in the last decades of the 19th century This book explores the history of American architecture from prehistoric times to the present explaining why characteristic architectural forms arose at particular times and in particular places
