Abstract

A pastor is widely viewed as a shepherd and a Christian leader. Pastors have complex roles stemming from a complex calling; pastoral practice is multidimensional and not easily defined. The contemporary use of the term "pastor" denotes different kinds of religious roles in church leadership. In mainline denominations a pastor is generally viewed as an ordained minister designated for the ministry of the word and administering sacraments. The pastor has many pastoral roles including church leadership, pastoral care, the preaching of the word. It is argued in this article that the key role of the pastor is that of a teacher who empowers the lay leadership and church members in general through his/her various pastoral roles. In Southern African languages such as Shona use the term mufundisi while in Ndebele and Zulu use the umfundisi referring to a pastor. This is most appropriate because mufundisi/umfundisi means an ordained minister who is regarded as a teacher, equipper of people and leader of all sections of the church. The article begins by discussing the general processes and procedures of pastoral calling in the mainline denominations. It draws its central point of the pastor being a teacher from the very accurate way in which the pastor is viewed and defined as a mufundisi in the above-mentioned African languages, as well as from the role of Jesus as a teacher. The article then discusses the nature of the pastor as a teacher and the expectations of this role in pastoral ministry from a southern African context.

Keywords: Pastor, Mufundisi, teacher, laity, mainline, empowering.

Introduction

While the title "pastor" is not often used by mainline denominations like the Anglican Church, the Lutheran Church, and the Methodist Church, it is frequently used by Pentecostal denominations such as the Family of God Apostolic Faith Mission and Glad Tidings and Victory Fellowship (Moyo, 2015). The title "pastor" is used to explicitly refer to the functional ministry of Christian leadership and caring for God's people, and pastors in mainline denominations are typically referred to as reverends, ministers, and occasionally as priests. In many instances the term is used with reference to the leader of a congregation, or parish who is then regarded as "the pastor in charge". The term "pastor" actually means a Christian leader who is ordained and appointed by the church to shepherd God's people. A pastor serves as an ambassador for the universal body of Christ in all of his or her roles. These include gathering the flock of God around the word and the sacraments in order to heal, guide, feed and sustain the people of God in their different circumstances and in a range of contexts of life. The focus of this article is to explore the role of the pastor as an educator in the church as expressed by the title mufundisi, a teacher following the model of Christ the master teacher. The article begins by defining a pastor and pastoral calling to ministry. It will then focus on the model of a teacher

Assaulting the Gates Rev. Paul D. Borden,2011-12-01 Learn the Big Picture approach that will aim your congregation at the mission field in your back yard or around the world Many churches want to make the transition from an inward to an outward focus from catering to the needs of members to reaching out into the world to make disciples of Jesus Christ Too often they try to accomplish this radical change by taking half steps and partial measures initiating a new program here or adding a new staff members there Yet this kind of change requires more To succeed in changing its core focus this way a congregation must learn strategic thinking it must commit itself to seeing the big picture and to taking the steps necessary to paint that picture afresh Everyone including pastors lay leaders key teams and groups and the congregation as a whole must be involved in a process of transformation Paul D Borden author of Hit the Bullseye and Direct Hit knows that this transformation will not be easy But if the target is bringing more people into saving relationship with Jesus Christ what could be more worthwhile The Pastoral Epistles Michael L. Gowens,2018-04-02 Where may we go to find answers to questions concerning how a church is supposed to function the qualifications of church officers the priorities of pastoral ministry the role of females in the church the importance of the Christian home and the biblical pattern of church government The New Testament canon contains three personal letters penned by the apostle Paul addressing these and many other questions The Pastoral Epistles to Timothy and Titus contain pastoral and ecclesiastical counsel for the church in all ages Great encouragement and guidance for gospel ministers is here And for the church that seeks to conform to Scripture more than cultural trends the Pastoral Epistles contain indispensable wisdom The Pastor's First Love Donald N. Foundations Dr. James Ross,2010-07-10 FOUNDATIONS takes an in depth approach to the design and function of ministry and discipleship We find in the modern Church a great need for discipleship and spiritual training Many believers who know to do good struggle in their daily spiritual life as they long for an expression of overcoming faith FOUNDATIONS

leads the reader into a meaningful recognition of their place in Christ He is our righteousness and God's grace and goodness leads every saint into a repentant and firm faith There are two kinds of knowledge spoken of in the Bible which are information and application Information is knowledge that puffs up 1 Corinthians 8:1 due to the potential it has to lure people into believing that the more information they have about the Bible the more mature they are Hosea speaks about the second type of knowledge when he wrote My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge He was expressing our need for the application of God's word that is necessary for the salvation of our souls and the impartation of Christ likeness every Christ needs The application of spiritual truth is the key to an overcoming faith and a renewed mind Because of this FOUNDATIONS offers a functional approach to Discipleship and spiritual training which develops the believer's ability to stand firm in the faith they profess With this in mind Solomon asked God for an understanding heart i.e. a hearing heart 1 Kings 3:9 because he understood that in order for anyone to be inclined toward wisdom they had to first hear God FOUNDATIONS is designed to help the believer mature in their faith by expanding their ability to renew their mind while they develop an understanding heart so they can learn to hear the Holy Spirit in a clarifying way Every saint must mature in their ability to hear God as they read the Bible and listen to the Holy Spirit and this is more readily accomplished through the discipleship process and through spiritual growth FOUNDATIONS is an exegetical study that was compiled over twenty eight years of pastoral and ministry experience It is a study of the Scripture that dives deeply into the ways of God as it also expounds on many of the principles practices and doctrines found in the Scriptures FOUNDATIONS is a practical tool for the serious disciple and an aid for every Church leader

Pastors Training Pastors William Miller Hill, 2013-03-09 This work is designed as a mentoring tool for pastors In the Pastoral Epistles the apostle Paul is literally teaching directing discipling and mentoring two of his maturing pastoral students Each of these two pastors having been placed in local church situations facing their own unique set of circumstances in two different cultural and geographical locations is being helped in the fulfillment of his responsibilities by their concerned and compassionate mentor All pastors particularly young pastors need help in carrying out their God-given privilege of shepherding a flock of people The hope of offering this book is to provide a helpful go-to practical tool for seasoned pastors to utilize as they reproduce themselves in the lives of younger men May God honor our efforts as we commit the things we've learned to faithful men who will in turn be able to train and equip others

Preaching the Pastoral Epistles Robert W. Wall, 2024-04-09 Since the second century 1 Timothy and Titus often referred to as the Pastoral Epistles have been read and practiced together to help order a Christian congregation's life and mission These three letters were likely recognized early on as divinely inspired scripture and were added to the Pauline collection to help train the spiritual leaders of earliest Christianity However they are rarely taught in most congregations and seminaries today Admittedly the genre of these letters paraenesis is hard to preach The primary reason for their neglect however is modern criticism's silencing of them because most scholars think they were not written by Paul and are not aligned with either his gospel or mission Moreover they include instructions that are widely received today as out of sync with our modern social worlds This Proclamation Commentary on these Pauline letters presumes both their apostolic authority as divinely inspired and human inspiring scripture and their contemporary relevance in encouraging clergy and teachers to reimagine their roles as ministers of the gospel and spiritual leaders for today s global church Pastoral
