The Pawnshop Chronicles:

My Life with Things Elizabeth Chin, 2016-05-19 Unconventional and provocative My Life with Things is Elizabeth Chin's meditation on her relationship with consumer goods and a critical statement on the politics and method of anthropology. Chin centers the book on diary entries that focus on everyday items: kitchen cabinet knobs, shoes, a piano, and uses them to intimately examine the ways consumption resonates with personal and social meaning. From writing love haikus about her favorite nail polish and discussing the racial implications of her tooth cap to revealing how she used shopping to cope with a miscarriage and contemplating how her young daughter came to think that she needed L'Oréal Throughout Chin keeps Karl Marx and his family's relationship to their possessions in mind, drawing parallels between Marx's napkins, the production of late nineteenth-century table linens, and Chin's own vintage linen collection. Unflinchingly and refreshingly honest, Chin unlocks the complexities of her attachments to reliance on and complicated relationships with her things. In so doing, she prompts readers to reconsider their own consumption as well as their assumptions about the possibilities for creative scholarship.

Latino Small Businesses and the American Dream Melvin Delgado, 2011 Latino small businesses provide social, economic, and cultural comfort to their communities. They are also excellent facilitators of community capacity, a major component of effective social work practice. Social work practitioners have a vested interest in seeing such businesses grow, not only among Latinos but all communities of color. Reviewing the latest research on formal and informal economies within urban communities of color, Melvin Delgado lays out the demographic foundations for a richer collaboration between theory and practice. Delgado deploys numerous case studies to cement the link between indigenous small businesses and community well-being. Whether regulated or unregulated, these establishments hire from within and promote immigrant self-employment. Latino small businesses often provide jobs for those whose criminal and mental health backgrounds intimidate conventional businesses. Recently estimated to be the largest group of color running small businesses in the United States, Latino owners top two million, with the number expected to double within the next few years. Joining an understanding of these institutions with the kind of practice that enables their social and economic improvement, Delgado explains how to identify and mobilize the kinds of resources that best spur their development.

The Chronicles of Early Melbourne, 1835 to 1852 Garryowen, 1891 THE PALLISER NOVELS & THE CHRONICLES OF BARSETSHIRE: Complete Series Anthony Trollope, 2017-11-15 The Chronicles of Barsetshire or Barchester Chronicles is a series of six novels by the English author Anthony Trollope, set in the fictitious English county of Barsetshire, located roughly in the West Country and its cathedral town of Barchester. The novels concern the dealings of the clergy and the gentry and the political, amatory, and social maneuverings that go on among and between them. Together, the series is regarded by many as Trollope's finest work. The Palliser novels are six novels also known as the Parliamentary Novels by Anthony Trollope. The common thread is the wealthy aristocrat and politician Plantagenet Palliser and his wife Lady Glencora. The plots involve British and Irish politics in varying
