Realism, Myth, and the Vernacular in Pasolini's Film and Philosophy Max Ryyänen, 2024-07-16 Pier Paolo Pasolini's lifework has been studied through the lens of queer studies film studies poetry and many other angles but there are themes that one could still study This book aims to bring forth a new understanding of Pasolini as someone who worked in various arts and through appropriating one art with Max Ryyänen shows Pasolini's importance for not just film and film theory but more broadly visual studies art research and even cultural philosophy where Pasolini can be seen to be a real pioneer in discussing unprivileged margins in the society Ryyänen reads Pasolini not just as a semiotician of film but also as a cultural philosopher and argues for that interpretation Intentionality and the Myths of the Given Carl B Sachs, 2015-10-06

Nigro Sansonese, 1994 Long ago the ancestors of the Greeks Romans and Hindus were one people living on the Eurasian steppes At the core of their religion was the shamanic trance a natural state but one in which consciousness achieves a profound level of inner awareness Over the course of millennia the Indo Europeans divided and migrated into Europe and the Indian subcontinent The knowledge of shamanic trance retreated from everyday awareness and was carried on in the form of myths and distilled into spiritual practices most notably in the Indian tradition of yoga J Nigro Sansonese compares the myths of Greece as well as those of the Judeo Christian tradition with the yogic practices of India and concludes that myths are esoteric descriptions of what occurs within the human body especially the human nervous system during trance In this light the myths provide a detailed map of the shamanic state of consciousness that is our natural heritage This book carries on from the works of Carl Jung and Joseph Campbell to show how the portrayal of consciousness embodied in myth can be extended to a reappraisal of the laws of physics before they are descriptions of the world these laws like myths are descriptions of the human nervous system A Semiotic Analysis of the Short Stories of Leonid Andreev, 1900-1909 Stephen Hutchings,1990 This book applies the techniques of semiotic analysis to a selection of short stories by Leonid Andreev in an attempt to offer one answer to the problems of categorizing Andreev's unique art and placing it within a literary evolutionary perspective Drawing on a range of literary theory from early Russian Formalism onwards the study proceeds from one level to another according to a principle of degree of abstraction so that each level constitutes firstly an independent account of Andreev's texts in itself and secondly one stage in an overall analysis
