Rural Courts and Highway Safety United States. National Highway Safety Advisory Committee. Subcommittee on Alcohol and Adjudication, United States. National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, 1977      The New Rural America Frank Clemente, 1977      Agricultural Communities, 1983      Unfulfilled Promise Philip L. Martin, 2019-03-20 The plight of the California farmworker has been the main theme of over 100 years of government reports, scholarly writings and popular literature. Farmworkers were excluded from most of the 1930s legislation which regulated wages and working conditions and recognized that workplace disputes could best be settled by collective bargaining. Scho      The Annals Ninetieth Anniversary Index American Academy of Political and Social Science, 1981      Status of the Rural Elderly: Review of reported differences between the rural and urban elderly, status, needs, services, and service costs United States. Congress. House. Select Committee on Aging. Task Force on the Rural Elderly, 1983      Logistics in Lagging Regions Charles Kunaka, 2010-12-21 Small scale producers in developing countries lack easy access to efficient logistics services. They are faced with long distances from both domestic and international markets. Unless they consolidate their trade volumes they face high costs which diminish their ability to trade. However, the process of consolidation is not without cost nor does it occur on its own accord. As a result, the consolidation is typically handled by intermediaries. Using case studies of sisal and soybean supply chains in Brazil and India respectively, this study explores the role and impact of intermediaries in facilitating trade in lagging regions. The study assesses the horizontal relationships between the small scale producers in thin markets and the vertical connections between different tiers of the same supply chain. The study analyzes the traditional approach to linking producers, namely through cooperatives and itinerant traders, and the relatively newer innovations using ICT. The study finds that farmers linked through the different mechanisms are more integrated to international supply chains or are able to better manage supply chains longer than would otherwise be the case. Intermediaries play several roles including providing transport services and facilitating market exchanges, payments, risk sharing, and quality improvements. Generally, information technology driven innovations make it easier to integrate adjacent steps in the value chain. This report on logistics performance at the sub-national level is an on-going endeavour. Similar analysis is being carried out in some countries in Africa to identify the evolving role of intermediaries in low income regions. The results will be developed into a major publication on this topic with recommendations on how development agencies, civil society, and the private sector can improve the design of strategies to reduce logistics costs in low income areas      A Rural Studies Bibliography, 1991      Selected Bibliographies, New York State Executive Department, Office for the Aging, Library New York (State).
