The Apartheid Reader Ideas In Conflict:

The Apartheid Reader Gary E. McCuen,1986 Presents conflicting viewpoints regarding apartheid Black Women and the Struggle Against Apartheid in South Africa Oyibo H. Afoaku,2023-01-09 This book documents the experiences of Black women during the apartheid era in South Africa from 1948 through 1994 Before the arrival of Europeans the Indigenous groups that made up what later became known as South Africa had instilled in their sons and daughters different gender roles based on the dominant cultural standards Women were expected to take care of the home while the men were supposed to serve as breadwinners and leaders Following the the decision by European travelers to establish a service station at the Cape of Good Hope in 1662 Black women became more marginalized in the political economic and social aspects of family life and at the national level At the same time Black woman were reduced to maids serving at the pleasure of European families and were confronted with the three fold challenge of discrimination based on race class and gender Readers will be exposed to the strategies and tactics Black women adopted in response to discrimination in and outside their homes which participating in the collective struggle against the apartheid system U.S. Relations with South Africa: An Annotated Bibliography Y G-M Lulat,1990-12-31 A comprehensive two volume annotated bibliography of books and monographs journal articles government documents documents of nongovernmental organizations and substantive magazine and newspaper articles published since the late nineteenth century Annotated entries contain a short abstract a table of contents and information on reviews Each volume contains an author and subject index and a periodical is included in Volume Two Topics covered include US Foreign Policy Southern Africa in US South African Relations Nuclear Technology and Other Sectors of Trade and Economic Relations Education Scientific and Cultural Exchanges African Americans and South Africa Divestment Disinvestment and Sanctions Divestment Disinvestment and Sanctions Comparative Studies This two volume work is part of a larger project that included publication of a nearly 700 page book titled United States Relations with South Africa A Critical Overview from the Colonial Period to the Present which is a critical overview of relations between the United States and South Africa going nearly as far back as the very beginning of their inception as permanent European colonial intrusions and it not only gives attention to the importance of contributions from nonofficial actors in shaping official relations but also considers the impact of the geopolitical location of South Africa within southern Africa where the presence of other nations particularly Angola Mozambique Namibia and Zimbabwe looms large Data Book of Social Studies Materials and Resources ,1987 World Geography Phillip Bacon,1989 The Natural Law Reader Jacqueline A. Laing,Russell Wilcox,2013-09-23 The Natural Law Reader features a selection of readings in metaphysics jurisprudence politics and ethics that are all related to the classical Natural Law tradition in the modern world Features a concise presentation of the natural law position that offers the reader a focal point for discussion of ancient and contemporary ideas in the natural law tradition Draws upon the metaphysical and ethical categories put forth and developed by Aristotle and Aquinas Points to the historical significance and contemporary relevance of the Natural Law tradition Reflects on a revival of interest in the tradition of virtue ethics and human rights Character and Identity: Philosophical foundations of political and sociological perspectives Morton A. Kaplan,1998 Character and Identity Philosophical Foundations of Political and Sociological Perspectives is designed by editor Morton A Kaplan to show despite the fundamental flaws in the classical Greek accounts of truth and knowledge why its quest for rational knowledge remains legitimate and vital to the concepts of character and identity To set the stage Part One includes a statement of the classical Greek position by Dean Jude Dougherty an account of the contemporary anticlassical stories position by John Simpson and an initial attempt to restore the Greek concept of rational inquiry by Lloyd Eby In subsequent chapters Kaplan restates the Greek position and shows why developments in science and philosophy are incompatible with the Greek concepts of truth and knowledge A brief excursus through the history of philosophy is intended to show how the Greek quest can be pursued in a manner consonant with the contemporary realm of knowledge In the course of this argument it will be shown why Leo Strauss who regarded contemporary philosophy as the prisoner of a mistaken seventeenth century paradigm fatally misconceived the role of seventeenth century philosophy and its relationship to contemporary thought Kaplan argues that contemporary philosophy is in large part a response to the breakdown of Hegel a great attempt to provide a modern alternative to Aristotle's synoptic philosophy an attempt that brings history and historicity into the center of the picture Kaplan shows why postmodernism is based on an incomplete and ultimately incoherent understanding of the consequences of the collapse of the Hegelian system and of the character of language In a version of pragmatism that restores the concept of objective truth Kaplan then explores the political and sociological aspects of this philosophical position and shows how it relates to character and identity He then shows how a weakly ordered but relevant position with respect to ethics and morals is consistent with a sustainable contemporary understanding of the quest for rational objective knowledge Geography A. David Hill, Regina McCormick, 1989 Joint Acquisitions List of Africana ,1991 The Palestine-Israeli Conflict Dan Cohn-Sherbok, Dawoud El-Alami, 2022-08-04 The essential guide that allows both sides to be heard Rabbi Professor Dan Cohn Sherbok presents the Israeli perspective while Dr Dawoud El Alami presents the Palestinian perspective Updated to cover the most recent events including the US recognition of Jerusalem as the capital of Israel and the May 2021 fighting in Gaza this bestselling introduction explores the history motivations and people behind the Palestine Israel conflict and assesses the prospects for peace after almost eighty years Shattered Voices Teresa Godwin Phelps, 2010-11-24 Following periods of mass atrocity and oppression states are faced with a question of critical importance in the transition to democracy how to offer redress to victims of the old regime without perpetuating cycles of revenge Traditionally balance has been restored through arrests trials and punishment but in the last three decades more than twenty countries have opted to have a truth commission investigate the crimes of the prior regime and publish a report about the investigation often incorporating accounts from victims Although many praise the work of truth commissions for empowering and healing through words rather than violence some condemn the practice as a poor substitute for traditional justice achieved through trials and punishment There has been until now little analysis of the unarticulated claim that underlies the truth commissions very existence that language in this case narrative stories can substitute for violence Acknowledging revenge as a real and deep human need Shattered Voices explores the benefits and problems inherent when a fragile country seeks to heal its victims without risking its own future In developing a theory about the role of language in retribution Teresa Godwin Phelps takes an interdisciplinary approach delving into sources from Greek tragedy to Hamlet from Kant to contemporary theories about retribution from the Babylonian law codes to the South African Truth and Reconciliation Report She argues that given the historical and psychological evidence about revenge starting afresh by drawing a bright line between past crimes and a new government is both unrealistic and unwise When grievous harm happens a rebalancing is bound to occur whether it is orderly and lawful or disorderly and unlawful Shattered Voices contends that language is requisite to any adequate balancing and that a solution is viable only if it provides an atmosphere in which storytelling and subsequent dialogue can flourish In the developing culture of ubiquitous truth reports Phelps argues that we must become attentive to the form these reports take the narrative structure the use of victims stories and the way a political message is conveyed to the citizens of the emerging democracy By looking concretely at the work and responsibilities of truth commissions Shattered Voices offers an important and thoughtful analysis of the efficacy of the ways human rights abuses are addressed Books in Print ,1977

Reader's Guide to Military History Charles Messenger,2013-10-31 This book contains some 600 entries on a range of topics from ancient Chinese warfare to late 20th century intervention operations Designed for a wide variety of users it encompasses general reviews of aspects of military organization and science as well as specific wars and conflicts The book examines naval and air warfare as well as significant individuals including commanders theorists and war leaders Each entry includes a listing of additional publications on the topic accompanied by an article discussing these publications with reference to their particular emphases strengths and limitations The Aesthetic Cold War Peter J. Kalliney,2024-12-10 How decolonization and the cold war influenced literature from Africa Asia and the Caribbean How did superpower competition and the cold war affect writers in the decolonizing world In The Aesthetic Cold War Peter Kalliney explores the various ways that rival states used cultural diplomacy and the political police to influence writers In response many writers from Africa Asia and the Caribbean such as Chinua Achebe Mulk Raj Anand Eileen Chang C L R James Alex La Guma Doris Lessing Ng g wa Thiong o and Wole Soyinka carved out a vibrant conceptual space of aesthetic nonalignment imagining a different and freer future for their work Kalliney looks at how the United States and the Soviet Union in an effort to court writers funded international conferences arts centers book and magazine publishing literary prizes and radio programming International spy networks however subjected these same writers to surveillance and intimidation by tracking their movements tapping their phones reading their mail and censoring or banning their work Writers from the global south also suffered travel restrictions deportations imprisonment and even death at the hands of government agents Although conventional wisdom suggests that cold war pressures stunted the development of postcolonial literature Kalliney s extensive archival research shows that evenly balanced superpower competition allowed savvy writers to accept patronage without pledging loyalty to specific political blocs Likewise writers exploited rivalries and the emerging discourse of human rights to contest the attentions of the political police A revisionist account of superpower involvement in literature The Aesthetic Cold War considers how politics shaped literary production in the twentieth century

Introduction to

Conflict Resolution Sara Cobb,Sarah Federman,Alison Castel,2019-07-02 The field of conflict resolution has evolved dramatically during the relatively short duration of the discipline s existence Each generation of scholars has struggled with the major puzzles of their era providing theories and solutions that meet the needs of the time only to be pushed forward by new insights and at times totally upended by a changing world This introductory course text explores the genealogy of the field of conflict resolution by examining three different epochs of the field each one tied to the historical context and events of the day In each of these epochs scholars and practitioners worked to understand and address the conflicts that the world was facing at that time This book provides a framework that students will carry with them far into their careers enriching their contributions and strengthening their voices Rather than a didactic approach to the field students will develop their critical analytical skills through an inductive inquiry Students will broaden their vocabulary grapple with argumentation and develop critical reading skills
