The Arab African And Islamic Worlds Interdisciplinary Studies:

The Arab-African and Islamic Worlds Robert Kevin Lacey, Ralph M. Coury, 2000 These 17 papers offer an overview of Arab Islamic North Africa The authors are scholars representing a wide range of nationalities specializations methodologies and points of view They discuss the role of women in Islam the Berber question Islamic reassertion U S foreign policy the transnational Maghrebi migrant in Europe film language music and literature Emphasis is placed on the diversity of Islamic culture Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Social Currents in North Africa Osama

Abi-Mershed, 2018-06-01 Social Currents in North Africa is a multi disciplinary analysis of the social phenomena unfolding in the Maghreb today The contributors analyse the genealogies of contemporary North African behavioral and ideological norms and offer insights into post Arab Spring governance and today s social and political trends The book situates regional developments within broader international currents without forgoing the distinct features of each socio historical context With its common historical cultural and socio economic foundations the Maghreb is a cohesive area of study that allows for greater understanding of domestic developments from both single country and comparative perspectives This volume refines the geo historical unity of the Maghreb by accounting for social connections both within the nation state and across political boundaries and historical eras It illustrates that non institutional phenomena are equally formative to the ongoing project of post colonial sovereignty to social construction and deployments of state power and to local outlooks on social equity economic prospects and cultural identity

France and Algeria Phillip Naylor, 2024-06-11 An examination of the complicated history between France and Algeria since the latter s independence While most related studies concentrate on the colonial era and Algeria s War of Independence France and Algeria details the nations postcolonial relationship Phillip Naylor provides a philosophical approach contending that France reformulated rather than repudiated essential strategic values during decolonization It thus continued to pursue grandeur and independence especially with regard to the Third World and Algeria an essentialism that expedited France s postcolonial transformation But as a new nation Algeria needed to pursue the existential project of self definition It became involved in state building while also promulgating socialism and it recognized how French oil concessions in the Sahara impeded its independence leading to the industry s postcolonial decolonization Finally the postcolonial relationship has featured a human dimension involving immigrants pieds noirs colonial settlers and harkis Algerian soldiers loyal to France all of them central to bilateral relations In this revised and updated edition of his seminal work first published over twenty years ago Naylor expands his coverage of the decolonization era drawing on new information while continuing to study the ever evolving relationship between the two countries These new additions expose the continually shifting relations of power perception and identity between the two states Beyond

Casablanca Mohamed Abderrahman Tazi, Kevin Dwyer, 2004 A fascinating journey through the world of Moroccan cinema

Global and Local in Algeria and Morocco James McDougall, Robert P. Parks, 2017-10-02 This book brings together

contributors across the disciplines to examine the local national regional and global processes that have shaped Maghribi societies economies and politics since the colonial period Focusing equally on the local shape of global processes and on the broader significance of particular ways of doing things these studies move beyond generalisations about globalisation and its impact on local societies whether developmental or detrimental of the global in the local or of glocalisation Cases range from the onset of the first wave of globalisation in the colonial era to the most recent developments in identity politics consumerism and telecommunications Contributors show how nationalising and globalising influences are seized remade and put to work in very different ways by High Atlas farmers or urban real estate speculators human rights activists at the edge of the Sahara and amateur theatre actors in Mediterranean towns Always located somewhere these social actors nonetheless act in different ways with different effects at different levels of engagement whether with each other their own governments or the wider world This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of North African Studies Historical

Dictionary of Algeria Phillip C. Naylor, 2015-05-07 Algeria's strategic regional and global importance continues to grow Its hydrocarbon wealth namely natural gas and oil is impressive and its receipts are crucial to the national economy The European Union is a particularly valued hydrocarbon importer and overall commercial partner The bilateral relationship with France remains problematic and paradoxical Algeria has demanded an apology for the imposition of colonialism but it also recognizes the importance of France economically politically and militarily e.g. the unrest in the Sahel notably Mali Furthermore Algeria continues to recover from its recent tragic civil strife characterized by terrorism and extremism Its uncertain future given its ageing leadership rentier economy and frustrated youth is a critical concern This fourth edition of Historical Dictionary of Algeria covers its history through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Algeria Politics and Power in the Maghreb Michael Willis, 2014-04-17 The overthrow of the regime of President Ben Ali in Tunisia on 14 January 2011 took the world by surprise The popular revolt in this small Arab country and the effect it had on the wider Arab world prompted questions as to why there had been so little awareness of it up until that point It also revealed a more general lack of knowledge about the surrounding western part of the Arab world or the Maghreb which had long attracted a tiny fraction of the outside interest shown in the eastern Arab world of Egypt the Levant and the Gulf This book examines the politics of the three states of the central Maghreb Algeria Tunisia and Morocco since their achievement of independence from European colonial rule in the 1950s and 1960s It explains the political dynamics of the region by looking at the roles played by the military political parties and Islamist movements and addresses factors such as Berber identity and economics as well as how the states of the region interact with each other and with the wider world

Believing Women in Islam Asma Barlas, 2019-02-28 Does Islam call for the oppression of women The subjugation of women in many Muslim countries is often used as evidence of this while many Muslims read the Qur'an in ways that seem to justify sexual oppression and inequality In this paradigm shifting book Asma Barlas argues that far from supporting male privilege the Qur'an actually affirms the complete equality of the sexes Offering a historical analysis of religious authority and knowledge Barlas shows how for centuries Muslims have read patriarchy into the Qur'an to justify existing religious and social structures In this seminal volume she takes readers into the heart of Islamic teachings on women gender and patriarchy offering an egalitarian reading of Islam's most sacred scripture This revised edition includes two new chapters a new preface and updates throughout

Women of Fes Rachel Newcomb, 2009 Based on extensive fieldwork Women of Fes shows how Moroccan women create their own forms of identity through work family and society The book also examines how women's lives are positioned vis-à-vis globalization human rights and the construction of national identity

Gods, Guns, and Globalization Mary Ann Tétreault, Robert Allen Denemark, 2004 Is it accurate to equate fundamentalism with antimodernism What explains the growing importance of religious activists in world politics Guns Gods and Globalization explores the multifaceted phenomenon of religious resurgence ranging from the Christian right in the United States to ethnonationalist movements across North Africa and Asia The authors focus on the complex relationship between religious revivalism and globalization results in a nuanced study of religious political movements as they emerge in the context of rapid socioeconomic change

Roots of the New Arab Film Roy Armes, 2018-01-06 Roots of the New Arab Film deals with the generation of filmmakers from across North Africa and the Middle East who created an international awareness of Arab film from the mid 1980s onwards These seminal filmmakers experienced the moment of national independence first hand in their youth and retained a deep attachment to their homeland Although these aspiring filmmakers had to seek their training abroad they witnessed a time of filmic revival in Europe Fellini and Antonioni in Italy the French New Wave and British Free Cinema Returning home these filmmakers brought a unique insider outsider perspective to bear on local developments in society since independence including the divide between urban and rural communities the continuing power of traditional values and the status of women in a changing society As they made their first films back home the feelings of participation in a worldwide movement of new independent filmmaking was palpable

Roots of the New Arab Film is a necessary and comprehensive resource for anyone interested in the foundations of Arab cinema

Nationalism and Minority Identities in Islamic Societies Maya Shatzmiller, 2005-04-29 The essays focus on identity formation in five minority groups Copts in Egypt Baha is and Christians in Pakistan Berbers in Algeria and Morocco and Kurds in Turkey and Iraq While every minority community is distinctive the experiences of these groups show that a state s authoritarian rule uncompromising attitude towards expressions of particularism and failure to offer tools for inclusion are all responsible for the politicization and radicalization of minority identities The place of Islam in this process is complex while its initial pluralistic role was transformed through the creation of the modern nation state the radicalization of society in turn radicalized and politicized minority identities Minority groups though at times possessing a measure of political autonomy remain intensely vulnerable

Minority Rights, Feminism and International Law Silvia Gagliardi, 2020-05-26 Investigating minority and indigenous women s rights in Muslim majority states this book critically examines the human rights regime within international law Based on extensive and diverse ethnographic research on Amazigh women in Morocco the book unpacks and challenges generally accepted notions of rights and equality Significantly and controversially the book challenges the supposedly emancipatory power vested in the human rights project arguing that rights based discourses are sites of contestation for different groups that use them to assert their agency in society More specifically it shows how the very conditions that make minority and indigenous women instrumental to the preservation of their culture may condemn them to a position of subalternity In response and engaging the notion and meaning of Islamic feminism the book proposes that feminism should be interpreted and contextualised locally in order to be effective and inclusive and so in order for the human rights project to fully realise its potential to empower the marginalised and make space for their voices to be heard Providing a detailed empirically based analysis of rights in action this book will be of relevance to scholars students and practitioners in
