The Archaeological And Linguistic Reconstruction Of African History:

The Archaeological and Linguistic Reconstruction of African History Christopher Ehret, Merrick Posnansky, 1982-01-01

A History of African Societies to 1870 Elizabeth Isichei, 1997-04-13 This comprehensive and detailed exploration of the African past from prehistory to approximately 1870 is intended to provide a fully up to date complement to the Cambridge History of Africa Reflecting several emphases in recent scholarship it focusses on the changing modes of production on gender relations and on ecology laying particular stress on viewing history from below A distinctive theme is to be found in its analyses of cognitive history The work falls into three sections The first comprises a historiographic analysis and covers the period from the dawn of prehistory to the end of the Early Iron Age The second and third sections are for the most part organised on regional lines the second section ends in the sixteenth century the third carries the story on to 1870 A second volume now in preparation will cover the period from 1870 to 1995 This book attempts a more rounded view of African history than most of the other textbooks on the subject addressed to a largely undergraduate level student Earlier histories have tended to ignore some of the current foci in the scholarly literature on Africa generally not reflected in the textbooks these include discussions of topical issues like ecology and gender Isichei's book is also more radical The Peopling of Africa James L. Newman, 1995-01-01 Discovering the African past takes one on a journey back to the origins of humanity over four million years ago which is where James L Newman begins his account of the continent's peoples He ends it at the onset of the colonial era in the late nineteenth century noting that Africa and Africans deserve to be known on their own terms and to achieve this goal we need to improve our understanding of what took place before colonialism rewrote many of life's rules African identities constitute one of Newman's main themes and thus he discusses the roles played by genetic background language occupation and religion Population distribution is the other main theme running through the book As a geographer the author uses regions spaces and places as his filters for viewing how Africans have responded through time to differing natural and human environmental circumstances Drawing on the fields of biology archaeology linguistics history anthropology and demography as well as geography Newman describes the richness and diversity of Africa's inhabitants the technological changes that transformed their lives how they formed polities from small groups of kin to states and empires and how they were influenced by external forces particularly the slave trade Maps are an important part of the book conveying information and helping readers interrelate local regional continental and global contexts Writing African History John Edward Philips, 2006 A comprehensive evaluation of how to read African history Writing African History is an essential work for anyone who wants to write or even seriously read African history It will replace Daniel McCall's classic Africa in Time Perspective as the introduction to African history for the next generation and as a reference for professional historians interested readers and anyone who wants to understand how African history is written Africa in Time Perspective was written in the 1960s when African history was a new field of research This new book reflects the development of African history since then It opens with a comprehensive introduction by Daniel McCall followed by a chapter by the editor explaining what African history is and is not in the context of historical theory and the development of historical narrative the humanities and social sciences The first half of the book focuses on sources of historical data while the second half examines different perspectives on history The editor's final chapter explains how to combine various sorts of evidence into a coherent account of African history Writing African History will become the most important guide to African history for the 21st century Contributors Bala Achi Isaac Olawale Albert Diedre L Bad jo Dorothea Bedigian Barbara M Cooper Henry John Drewal Christopher Ehret Toyin Falola David Henige Joseph E Holloway John Hunwick S O Y Keita William G Martin Daniel McCall Susan Keech McIntosh Donatien Dibwe Dia Mwembu Kathleen Sheldon John Thornton and Masao Yoshida John Edwards Philips is professor of international society Hirosaki University and author of Spurious Arabic Hausa and Colonial Nigeria Madison University of Wisconsin African Studies Center 2000 Encyclopedia of African History

3-Volume Set KEVIN SHILLINGTON.,2005 Archaeology, Language, and the African Past Roger Blench,2006-06-22
Archaeology Language and the African Past is an overview of theories and methods a fusion of African linguistics and archaeology Roger Blench provides a comprehensive look at the history of all African language families incorporating the latest linguistic classifications current evidence from archaeology genetic research and recorded history This original and definitive volume examines the economic culture of the continent _from major crops and plant life to animals and livestock _from a multi dimensional perspective It provides students of linguistics archaeology and anthropology with a critical discussion on the history of African languages and the cultures they articulate Cloth in West African History
Colleen E. Kriger,2006 In this holistic approach to the study of textiles and their makers Colleen Kriger charts the role cotton has played in commercial community and labor settings in West Africa By paying close attention to the details of how people made exchanged and wore cotton cloth from before industrialization in Europe to the twentieth century she is able to demonstrate some of the cultural effects of Africa's long involvement in trading contacts with Muslim societies and with Europe Cloth in West African History thus offers a fresh perspective on the history of the region and on the local regional and global processes that shaped it A variety of readers will find its account and insights into the African past and culture valuable and will appreciate the connections made between the local concerns of small scale weavers in African villages the emergence of an indigenous textile industry and its integration into international networks Immigration Reconsidered
Virginia Yans-McLaughlin,1990-11-15 Providing an interdisciplinary and global perspective on immigration to the United States this collection of essays brings together the work of leading scholars in the field including the work of such distinguished historians sociologists and political scientists as Charles Tilly Philip Curtin Kirby Miller Sucheng Chan Alejandro Portes Lawrence Fuchs and Aristide Zolberg and represents an important step forward in the development of immigration studies The book helps redirect thinking on the subject by giving a summary of the current state of immigration studies and a coherent new perspective that emphasizes the international dimensions of the immigrant experience from the time of the slave trade to present day movements of Asian and Latin American peoples Immigration Reconsidered challenges ethnocentric American or European perspectives on immigration disputes the classical assimilation model of a linear progression of immigrant cultures toward a dominant American national character questions human capital theory as an explanation of ethnic group achievement reveals conflicting ethnic and racial attitudes toward immigration restriction and examines the revival of interest in oral history immigrant autobiographies and other subjective documents Offering a new approach to immigration studies for the 1990s Immigration Reconsidered is important reading for anyone who wants to know how the America came to be as it is today Great Zimbabwe Joseph O. Vogel,2019-08-22 First Published in 1994 This research guide was written as a comprehensive though by no means exhaustive survey of the literature pertinent to studying the indigenous complex societies of south central Africa Although the paramount focus of the compilation was the archaeology of Great Zimbabwe the author has drawn from a broad geographical area and a wider period of time than that usually associated with Zimbabwean culture in order to demonstrate the cultural background for the growth of monumental trading towns in south central Africa East African Archaeology Chapurukha M. Kusimba,Sibel B. Kusimba,2010-11-24 The goal of this volume is to impart an appreciation of the many facets of East Africa s cultural and archaeological diversity over the last 2 000 years It brings together chapters on East African archaeology many by Africa born archaeologists who review what is known present new research and pinpoint issues of debate and anomaly in the relatively poorly known prehistory of East Africa From Hunters to Farmers John Desmond Clark,Steven A. Brandt,1984-01-01 Fusion Foodways of Africa's Gold Coast in the Atlantic Era James D. La Fleur,2012-08-03 This volume describes the agricultural and cultural history of the Gold Coast now Ghana in the Atlantic era exploring the historical significance of new food crops and culinary techniques from the Americas Asia and elsewhere in Africa to the farmers who produced them and to everybody who ate History in Black Yaacov Shavit,2013-11-12 The development of Afrocentric historical writing is explored in this study which traces this recording of history from the Hellenistic Roman period to the 19th century Afrocentric writers are depicted as searching for the unique primary source of culture from one period to the next Such passing on of cultural traits from the ancient model from the classical period to the origin of culture in Egypt and Africa is shown as being a product purely of creative history Tropical Deforestation Leslie Elmer Sponsel,Thomas N. Headland,Robert Converse Bailey,1996 The authors present fresh perspectives on the major global crisis of deforestation from a wide range of fields including biological ecology forest history conservation biology anthropology political economy and development economics History and the Testimony of Language Christopher Ehret,2011 This book is about history and the practical power of language to reveal historical change Christopher Ehret offers a methodological guide to applying language evidence in historical studies He demonstrates how these methods allow us not only to recover the histories of time periods and places

poorly served by written documentation but also to enrich our understanding of well documented regions and eras A leading historian as well as historical linguist of Africa Ehret provides in depth examples from the language phyla of Africa arguing that his comprehensive treatment can be applied by linguistically trained historians and historical linguists working with any language and in any area of the world Cultural Heritage Management in Africa George Okello Abungu,Webber Ndoro,2022-12-15 Cultural Heritage Management in Africa explores the diversity of Africa s cultural heritage by analysing how and why this heritage has been managed and by considering the factors that continue to influence management strategies and systems throughout the African continent Including contributions from prominent scholars and heritage professionals working across Africa the volume presents critical contemporary perspectives on the state of heritage in the area Chapters analyse the practices that emanated from different colonial experiences and consider what impact these had and continue to have on the management of African heritage It also critically examines the ideological influence of independence movements on the African continent s management and remembering of heritage and considers whether there are any differences in heritage management between countries that experienced armed conflicts and those that did not The volume will be the first to critically assess the state of heritage management now at a time when vital conversations about the balance between heritage and development is ongoing and the actions of new players have begun to impact the management and practice of heritage in the region Cultural Heritage Management in Africa will be essential reading for those engaged in the study of museums and heritage development archaeology anthropology history and African studies It will also be of interest to heritage and museum professionals who wish to learn more about the decolonisation of heritage

The Exploitation of Plant Resources in Ancient Africa Marijke van der Veen,2013-06-29 This volume presents a completely new and very substantial body of information about the origin of agriculture and plant use in Africa All the evidence is very recent and for the first time all this archaeobotanical evidence is brought together in one volume at present the information is unpublished or published in many disparate journals conference reports monographs site reports etc Early publications concerned with the origins of African plant domestication relied almost exclusively on inferences made from the modern distribution of the wild progenitors of African cultivars there existed virtually no archaeobotanical data at that time Even as recently as the early 1990s direct evidence for the transition to farming and the relative roles of indigenous versus Near Eastern crops was lacking for most of Africa This volume changes that and presents a wide range of exciting new evidence including case studies from Nigeria Burkina Faso Ethiopia Uganda Egypt and Sudan which range in date from 8000 BP to the present day The volume addresses topics such as the role of wild plant resources in hunter gatherer and farming communities the origins of agriculture the agricultural foundation of complex societies long distance trade the exchange of foods and crops and the human impact on local vegetation all key issues of current research in archaeology anthropology agronomy ecology and economic history Archaeologies of Us and Them Charlotta Hillerdal,Anna Karlström,Carl-Gösta

Ojala,2017-02-17 Archaeologies of Us and Them explores the concept of indigeneity within the field of archaeology and heritage and in particular examines the shifts in power that occur when we define the other by categorizing them as indigenous Recognizing the complex and shifting distinctions between indigenous and non indigenous pasts and presents this volume gives a nuanced analysis of the underlying definitions concepts and ethics associated with this field in order to explore Indigenous archaeology as a theoretical ethical and political concept Indigenous archaeology is an increasingly important topic discussed worldwide and as such critical analyses must be applied to debates which are often surrounded by political correctness and consensus views Drawing on an international range of global case studies this timely and sensitive collection significantly contributes to the development of archaeological critical theory Language Contacts in Prehistory

Henning Andersen,2003-04-28 Every language includes layers of lexical and grammatical elements that entered it at different times in the more or less distant past Hence for periods preceding our earliest historical documentation linguistic stratigraphy the systematic study of such layers may yield information about the prehistory of a given tradition of speaking in a variety of ways For instance irregular phonological reflexes may be evidence of the convergence of diverse dialects in the formation of a language and layers of material from different source languages may form a record of changing cultural contacts in the past In this volume are discussed past problems and current advances in the stratigraphy of Indo European African Southeast Asian Australian Oceanic Japanese and Meso American languages Ancient African Religions Robert M. Baum,2024 This book examines the history of religions in Africa from the burial practices of the earliest humans to the rise of centralized theocratic kingdoms like ancient Egypt up to the rise of Islam in the Seventh Century
