The Architectural Character Of Glebe Sydney:

The architectural Character of Glebe, Sydney Bernard Smith, Kate Smith, 1989 Sydney's Century Peter Spearritt, 2000

In this lively portrait of Sydney's development Peter Spearritt traces a century in the life of the city from the celebrations of the Federation of Australia in 1901 to the 2000 Olympic Games. He describes the extraordinary growth of the city and its sprawling suburbs and the transition from a port and a manufacturing center to an international financial hub Shifting Views Andrew Leach, Antony Moulis, Nicole Sully, 2008. Shifting Views draws together a selection of writing from across twenty-five years of these conferences to provide a fascinating view into the region's architectural history discipline. The essays collected here from such diverse thinkers as Judith Brine, Joan Kerr, Miles Lewis, Sarah Treadwell, Philip Goad, Julie Willis, and Mike Austin reflect some of the most illuminating debates from these conferences. Together these essays capture a tone of critical inquiry and the conditions of writing architectural history in Australia and New Zealand. Shifting Views takes us into the mechanics of architectural history, making exposing its foundations and demonstrating how they can be called to account. It shows us how architectural history has been made and revised, giving us a glimpse of the means by which our past becomes our history. BOOK JACKET Australian National Bibliography, 1978 Early Colonial Homes of the Sydney Region, 1788-1838 Daphne Kingston, 1990. This book surveys homes still remaining which were constructed within the first 50 years of the colony of New South Wales Local Labor Michael Hogan, 2004. Local Labor tells the story of the branches of the Australian Labor Party in the area over more than a century. It recounts the broad sweep of history at the small local level, the recurrent issues, the personal and political battles. It is an account of political activity at branch level such as has never before been attempted in Australia Values in Cities James Lesh, 2022-09-23. Examining urban heritage in twentieth-century Australia, James Lesh reveals how evolving ideas of value and significance shaped cities and places. Over decades, a growing number of sites and areas were found to be valuable by communities and professionals. Places perceived to have value were often conserved. Places perceived to lack value became subject to modernisation, redevelopment, and renewal. From the 1970s, alongside strengthened activism and legislation with the innovative Burra Charter 1979, the values-based model emerged for managing the aesthetic, historic, scientific, and social significance of historic environments. Values thus transitioned from an implicit to an overt component of urban architectural and planning conservation. The field of conservation became a noted profession and discipline. Conservation also had a broader role in celebrating the Australian nation and in reconciling settler colonialism for the twentieth century. Integrating urban history and heritage studies, this book provides the first longitudinal study of the twentieth-century Australian heritage movement. It advocates for innovative and reflexive modes of heritage practice responsive to urban social and environmental imperatives. As the values-based model continues to shape conservation worldwide, this book is an essential reference for researchers, students, and practitioners concerned with the past and future of cities and heritage.
