The Art Of Aging:

The Art of Aging Sherwin B. Nuland, 2008-05-06 In his landmark book How We Die Sherwin B Nuland profoundly altered our perception of the end of life Now in The Art of Aging Dr Nuland steps back to explore the impact of aging on our minds and bodies strivings and relationships Melding a scientist's passion for truth with a humanist's understanding of the heart and soul Nuland has created a wise frank and inspiring book about the ultimate stage of life's journey The onset of aging can be so gradual that we are often surprised to find that one day it is fully upon us The changes to the senses appearance reflexes physical endurance and sexual appetites are undeniable and rarely welcome and yet as Nuland shows getting older has its surprising blessings Age concentrates not only the mind but the body's energies leading many to new sources of creativity perception and spiritual intensity Growing old Nuland teaches us is not a disease but an art and for those who practice it well it can bring extraordinary rewards I'm taking the journey even while I describe it writes Nuland now in his mid seventies and a veteran of nearly four decades of medical practice Drawing on his own life and work as well as the lives of friends both famous and not Nuland portrays the astonishing variability of the aging experience Faith and inner strength the deepening of personal relationships the realization that career does not define identity the acceptance that some goals will remain unaccomplished these are among the secrets of those who age well Will scientists one day fulfill the dream of eternal youth Nuland examines the latest research into extending life and the scientists who are pursuing it But ultimately what compels him most is what happens to the mind and spirit as life reaches its culminating decades Reflecting the wisdom of a long lifetime The Art of Aging is a work of luminous insight unflinching candor and profound compassion

The Art of Ageing Srinivas Krishna Kulkarni, 2014-07-07 The Art of Growing Old Marie De Hennezel, 2012-04-12 A groundbreaking approach to aging from one of France's best known clinical psychologists How should we accept growing old It's an inevitable progression and yet in Western society the very subject of aging is often taboo and shrouded in anxiety and shame Not anymore says Marie de Hennezel an internationally renowned clinical psychologist and bestselling author Now that our lives are longer and richer than ever before it's imperative to demystify our greatest fear and cultivate a positive awareness of aging In this timely and essential book de Hennezel offers a fresh perspective on the art of growing old She confronts head on the inevitable grief we sustain at the loss of our youth and explains how refusing to age and move forward in life is actually what makes us become old Combining personal anecdotes with psychological theory philosophy and eye opening scientific research from around the world she shows why we should look forward to embracing everything aging has to offer in terms of human and spiritual enrichment The Art of Growing Old is a thought provoking brave and uplifting meditation on the later years as they should be lived

The Art of Aging Evelyn Mandel, 1982-02 The Art of Ageing Sherwin B. Nuland, 2007 In his landmark book How We Die Sherwin B Nuland profoundly altered our perception of the end of life Now in The Art of Aging Dr Nuland steps back to explore the impact of aging on our minds and bodies strivings and relationships

Combining a scientist's passion for truth with a humanist's understanding of the heart and soul Nuland has created a wise frank and inspiring book about the ultimate stage of life's journey The onset of ageing can be so gradual that we are often surprised to find that one day it is fully upon us Growing old Nuland teaches us is not a disease but an art and for those who practice it well it can bring extraordinary rewards leading many to new sources of creativity perception and spiritual intensity

The Art of Ageing: Textualising the Phases of Life Brian Worsfold, 2005 El tema del

envejecimiento es total absolutamente todo existe en el tiempo A pesar de que la matemática rechaza la noción de que el tiempo pasa la conciencia humana percibe el envejecimiento como consecuencia del paso del tiempo Mediante textualizaciones en poesía teatro y prosa se pone de manifiesto el sentido y la complejidad de la percepción de esta trayectoria temporal Por esta razón los artículos que contiene este libro son eminentemente eclécticos y revelan los pensamientos de poetas cantantes escritores críticos literarios psicólogos sociólogos y antropólogos

Aging and the Art of Living Jan Baars, 2012-08-20 In this deeply considered meditation on aging in Western culture Jan Baars argues that in today's world living longer does not necessarily mean living better He contends that there has been an overall loss of respect for aging to the point that understanding and dealing with aging people has become a process focused on the decline of potential and the advance of disease rather than on the accumulation of wisdom and the creation of new skills To make his case Baars compares and contrasts the works of such modern era thinkers as Foucault Heidegger and Husserl with the thought of Plato Aristotle Sophocles Cicero and other Ancient and Stoic philosophers He shows how people in the classical period less able to control health hazards had a far better sense of the provisional nature of living which led to a philosophical and religious emphasis on cultivating the art of living and the idea of wisdom This is not to say that modern society's assessments of aging are insignificant but they do need to balance an emphasis on the measuring of age with the concept of living in time Gerontologists philosophers and students will find Baars discussion to be a powerful perceptive conversation starter
