rhyming scheme is aabba These short poems have a long history and in looking up the facts I discovered a poem from 1774 that you may have heard it goes Hickory dickory dock The mouse ran up the clock The clock struck one And down he run Hickory dickory dock This type of poem was made popular in the mid 1800s by a British writer named Edward Lear He called them his nonsense poems and while his poems kept the aabba format his last line was usually the same as the first About that time this form of short poem was used as a gentleman s parlor game where each person was called on to recite an original poem The form was called a Limerick and it is to this day The limerick soon left the gentleman s parlor and found the streets where youth competed to create the most unique and dirty rhymes I will not include any here except one mild one that I always remember from my youth It goes There was a young girl from Cape Cod Who thought all children came from the Lord But it wasn t the almighty Who lifted her nighty It was Roger the lodger by God While my limericks may not be literature they were fun to write and I hope folks might enjoy reading them as much as I enjoyed writing them Enjoy The Mammoth Book of Filthy Limericks Glyn Rees, 2009-12-22 This hilariously inappropriate collection of rhymes is sure to provide ammunition to use at the office or even at a party among friends You ll never have to repeat a line from this collection of more than 2 000 dirty verses Perfect for St Patty s Day or any time year round There Was a Young Man from Nantucket Ronald Stanza, 2015-06-02 Here now is a steamy collection Of limericks rare Each selection Will run for five lines Contain marvelous rhymes Detailing sex acts of subtle complexion Some readers may think that it s crude To offer for sale what is lewd But if you re offended By what is appended We ll say what you are you re a prude Ronald Stanza has put together a collection of outlandishly funny limericks about some of the most serious offensive and even dangerous predicaments These unique scrubbings are better than any insipid piece of graffiti doodled on a bathroom stall This book describes just about every awkwardly inappropriate situation that nobody ever thought of writing a poem about from dabbings in spectrophilia to bestiality and from ill fated self servicing to the mis adventures of very misguided clergymen If you re a lover of all things raunchy crass and base you will laugh for hours at the likes of impotent Scots naughty old Sapphos old women of Ghent Oscar McDingle O Figgie lecherous Northumbrian druids and one old phony named Kinsey WARNING Not recommended for reading in churches libraries mixed company or quiet family gatherings Proceed with caution weariness and most of all a sense of humor
