Traditions and Innovations in the Study of Medieval English Literature Charlotte Brewer, Barry A. Windeatt, 2013 Essays on the many key aspects of medieval literature reflecting the significant impact of Professor Derek Brewer Derek Brewer 1923 2008 was one of the most influential medievalists of the twentieth century first through his own publications and teaching and later as the founder of his own academic publishing firm His working life of some sixty years from the late 1940s to the 2000s saw enormous advances in the study of Chaucer and of Arthurian romance and of medieval literature more generally He was in the forefront of such changes and his understandings of Chaucer and of Malory remain at the core of the modern critical mainstream Essays in this collection take their starting point from his ideas and interests before offering their own fresh thinking in those key areas of medieval studies in which he pioneered innovations which remain central Chaucer's knight and knightly virtues class distinction narrators and narrative time lovers and loving in medieval romance ideals of feminine beauty love friendship and masculinities medieval laughter symbolic stories the nature of romance and the ends of storytelling the wholeness of Malory's Morte Darthur modern study of the medieval material book Chaucer's poetic language and modern dictionaries and Chaucerian afterlives This collection builds towards an intellectual profile of a modern medievalist cumulatively registering how the potential of Derek Brewer's work is being reinterpreted and is renewing itself now and into the future of medieval studies Charlotte Brewer is Professor of English Language and Literature at Oxford University and a Fellow of Hertford College Oxford Barry Windeatt is Professor of English in the University of Cambridge and a Fellow of Emmanuel College Cambridge Contributors Elizabeth Archibald Charlotte Brewer Mary Carruthers Christopher Cannon Helen Cooper A S G Edwards Jill Mann Alastair Minnis Derek Pearsall Corinne Saunders James Simpson A C Spearing Jacqueline Tasioulas Robert Yeager Barry Windeatt

The Grounds of English Literature Christopher Cannon, 2004-12-09 The centuries just after the Norman Conquest are the forgotten period of English literary history In fact the years 1066 1300 witnessed an unparalleled ingenuity in the creation of written forms for this was a time when almost every writer was unaware of the existence of other English writing In a series of detailed readings of the more important early Middle English works Cannon shows how the many and varied texts of the period laid the foundations for the project of English literature This richness is for the first time given credit in these readings by means of an innovative theory of literary form that accepts every written shape as itself a unique contribution to the history of ideas This theory also suggests that the impoverished understanding of literature we now commonly employ is itself a legacy of this early period an attribute of the single form we have learned to call romance A number of reading methods have lately taught us to be more generous in our understandings of what literature might be but this book shows us that the very variety we now strive to embrace anew actually formed the grounds of English literature a richness we only lost when we forgot how to recognize it

Language and Text Adam Pawłowski, Jan Mačutek, Sheila Embleton, George Mikros, 2021-12-15 Specialists in quantitative linguistics the world over have recourse to a solid and universal methodology These days their methods and mathematical models must also respond to new communication phenomena and the flood of data produced daily While various disciplines computer science media science have different ways of processing this onslaught of information the linguistic approach is arguably the most relevant and effective This book includes recent results from many renowned contemporary practitioners in the field Our target audiences are academics researchers graduate students and others involved in linguistics digital humanities and applied mathematics
