D. Lewis-Williams, 2016-07-01 J D Lewis Williams one of the leading South African archaeologists and ethnographers excavates meaning from the complex mythological stories of the San Bushmen to create a larger theory of how myth is used in culture He extracts their nuggets the far reaching but often unspoken words and concepts of language and understanding that are opaque to outsiders to establish a more nuanced theory of the role of these myths in the thought world and social circumstances of the San The book draws from the unique 19th century Bleek Lloyd archives more recent ethnographic work and San rock art includes well known San stories such as The Broken String Mantis Dreams and Creation of the Eland extrapolates from our understanding of San mythology into a larger model of how people create meaning from myth      Myth and Mind Harvey Birenbaum, 1988 Presents a study of mythology based on the analysis of nonlinear form the self's confrontation with its world and the nature of mythic truth Drawing on texts world wide and on many theorists including Cassirer Eliade Jung Levi Strauss and Buber the book develops a complex view of the relation between consciousness and culture      Wandering Myths Lucy Gaynor Audley-Miller, Beate Dignas, 2018-10-08 In spite of the growing amount of important new work being carried out on uses of myth in particular ancient contexts their appeal and reception beyond the framework of one culture have rarely been the primary object of enquiry in contemporary debate Highlighting the fact that ancient societies were linked by their shared use of mythological narratives Wandering Myths aims to advance our understanding of the mechanisms by which such tales were disseminated cross culturally and to investigate how they gained local resonances In order to assess both wider geographic circulations and to explore specific local features and interpretations a regional approach is adopted with a particular focus on Anatolia the Near East and Italy Contributions are drawn from a range of disciplines and cross a wide chronological span but all are interlinked by their engagement with questions focusing on the factors that guided the processes of reception and steered the facets of local interpretation The Preface and Epilogue evaluate the material in a synoptic way and frame the challenging questions and views expressed in the Introduction manner in which the rhetorical and poetic conventions of the period as well as the growing appreciation for the various allegorical layers of fables lead to a better understanding of Rubens's pictorial archaeology of classical myths
