On the Button Nina Edwards, 2011-11-30 What do you use every day that is small and large worthless and beyond price It is easily found in the gutter yet you may never be able to replace it You are always losing it but it faithfully protects you sexy and uptight it is knitted in to your affections or it may give you nightmares It has led to conflict fostered and repressed political and religious change and epitomizes the great aesthetic movements It is Eurocentric and is found all over the world On the Button is an inventive and unusual exploration of the cultural history of the button illustrated with a multiplicity of buttons in black and white and colour It tells tales of a huge variety of the button's forms and functions its sometimes uncompromising glamour its stronghold in fashion and literature its place in the visual arts its association with crime and death its tender call to nostalgia and the sentimental There have been works addressed to the button collector and general cultural histories On the Button links the two revealing why we are so attracted to buttons and how they punch way above their weight Encyclopedia of London's East End Kevin A. Morrison, 2023-03-06 The East End is an iconic area of London

from the transient street art of Banksy and Pablo Delgado to the exhibitions of Doreen Fletcher and Gilbert and George Located east of the Tower of London and north of the River Thames it has experienced a number of developmental stages in its four hundred year history Originating as a series of scattered villages the area has been home to Europe's worst slums and served as an affluent nodal point of the British Empire Through its evolution the East End has been the birthplace of radical political and social movements and the social center for a variety of diasporic communities This reference work with its alphabetically organized cross referenced entries and its original and historical photography serves as a comprehensive guide to the social and cultural history of this global hub

British Women Artists Carolyn Trant, 2024-03-14 Consider for a moment the history of modern art in Britain you may struggle to land on a narrative that features very many women On this journey through a fascinating period of social change artist Carolyn Trant fills in some of the gaps in traditional art histories Introducing the lives and works of a rich network of neglected women artists British Women Artists sets these alongside such renowned presences as Barbara Hepworth Laura Knight and Winifred Nicholson In an era of radical activism and great social and political change women forged new relationships with art and its institutions Such change was not without its challenges and with acerbic wit Trant delves into the gendered make up of the avant garde and the tyranny of artistic isms In the decades after women won the vote in Britain the fortunes of women artists were shaped by war domesticity continued oppressions and spirited resistance Some succeeded in forging creative careers others were thwarted by the odds stacked against them Weaving devastating individual stories with playful critique British Women Artists reveals this hidden history

Works on London History to 1939 Heather Creaton, Tony Trowles, 1994 The history of London is so important in national and indeed international terms it seems extraordinary that this is the first general bibliography of the subject to appear It contains over 22 000 selected references to books and articles on the history of London from the Dark Ages to the beginning of the Second World War The whole of the former GLC area plus the City is covered Arrangement is by subject and there is a substantial analytical index Material for the bibliography was collected from specialist libraries all over London and beyond It is a starting point for any enquiry about London s development over the centuries whether from the academic historian the amateur or the general enquirer A supplement is planned to cover new material on the period Labour History Review, 1979 American and English Popular Entertainment Don B.
