The Penguin Animal Life Series:

Animal Life and the World of Nature, 1903 Wonders of Animal Life Sir John Alexander Hammerton, 2008

Lives of Victorian Animals Anna Feuerstein, 2019-07-04 Examines how liberal thought influenced representations of animals within nineteenth century animal welfare discourse and the Victorian novel The Structure of Animal Life - Six

Lectures Delivered at the Brooklyn Academy of Music in January and February, 1862 Louis Agassiz, 2017-09-15 This book contains six classic articles on the subject of structure in animal life being a selection of essays exploring the relationship between natural history and the idea of God Although old and largely scientifically out dated the information contained within these essays will be of considerable utility to those with an interest in the development of scientific thought especially in relation to religion Contents include Four Different Plans of Structure Among Animals Religion and Natural History Remote Antiquity of Animal Life as Shown in the Coral Reefs Physical History of the Earth Man the Ultimate Object Triple Coincidence in the Succession Graduation and Growth of Animals and Evidence of an Intelligent and Constantly Creative Mind in the Plans and Variations of Structure Many vintage books such as this are increasingly scarce and expensive We are republishing this volume now in an affordable modern high quality edition complete with its original artwork and text First published in 1882 Animal Worlds Laura McMahon, 2019-05-29 Focusing on a recent wave of international art cinema Animal Worlds offers the first sustained analysis of the relations between cinematic time and animal life Through an aesthetic of extended duration films such as Bestiaire 2010 The Turin Horse 2011 and A Cow's Life 2012 attend to animal worlds of sentience and perception while registering the governing of life through biopolitical regimes Bringing together Gilles Deleuze's writings on cinema and on animals while drawing on Jacques Derrida Jean Christophe Bailly Nicole Shukin and others the book argues that these films question the biopolitical reduction of animal life to forms of capital opening up realms of virtuality becoming and alternative political futures Considering Animals Dr Carol Freeman, Dr Elizabeth Leane, Ms Yvette Watt, 2013-07-28 Considering Animals draws on the expertise of scholars trained in the biological sciences humanities and social sciences to investigate the complex and contradictory relationships humans have with nonhuman animals Taking their cue from the specific animal moments that punctuate these interactions the essays engage with contemporary issues and debates central to human animal studies the representation of animals the practical and ethical issues inseparable from human interactions with other species and perhaps most challengingly the compelling evidence that animals are themselves considering beings Case studies focus on issues such as animal emotion and human sentimentality the representation of animals in contemporary art and in recent films such as March of the Penguins Happy Feet and Grizzly Man animals experiences in catastrophic events such as Hurricane Katrina and the SARS outbreak and the danger of overvaluing the role humans play in the earth's ecosystems From Marc Bekoff's moving preface through to the last essay Considering Animals foregrounds the frequent sometimes uncanny exchanges with other species that disturb our self contained existences and bring into focus our troubled relationships with them Written in an accessible and jargon free style this collection demonstrates that in the face of species extinction and environmental destruction the roles and fates of animals are too important to be left to any one academic discipline

Language, Ethics and Animal Life Niklas

Forsberg, Mikel Burley, Nora Hamalainen, 2012-10-11 New research into human and animal consciousness a heightened awareness of the methods and consequences of intensive farming and modern concerns about animal welfare and ecology are among the factors that have made our relationship to animals an area of burning interest in contemporary philosophy Utilizing methods inspired by Ludwig Wittgenstein the contributors to this volume explore this area in a variety of ways Topics discussed include scientific vs non scientific ways of describing human and animal behaviour the ethics of eating particular animal species human nature emotions and instinctive reactions responses of wonder towards the natural world the moral relevance of literature the concept of dignity and the question whether non human animals can use language This book will be of great value to anyone interested in philosophical and interdisciplinary issues concerning language ethics and humanity's relation to animals and the natural world

Animal Life at Low Temperature John Davenport, 2012-12-06 To humans cold has a distinctly positive quality Frostbite a nip in the air biting cold all express the concept of cold as an entity which attacks the body numbing and damaging it in the process Probably the richness of descriptive English in this area stems from the early experiences of a group of essentially tropical apes making their living on a cold and windswept island group half way between the Equator and the Arctic During a scientific education we soon learn that there is no such thing as cold only an absence of heat Cold does not invade us heat simply deserts Later still we come to appreciate that temperature is a reflection of kinetic energy and that the quantity of kinetic energy in a system is determined by the speed of molecular movement Despite this realization it is difficult to abandon the sensible prejudices of palaeolithic Homo sapiens shivering in his huts and caves For example appreciating that a polar bear is probably as comfortable when swimming from ice floe to ice floe as we are when swimming in the summer Mediterranean is not easy understanding the thermal sensations of a cold blooded earthworm virtually impossible We must always be wary of an anthropocentric attitude when considering the effects of cold on other species

The Stage Lives of Animals Una Chaudhuri, 2016-10-04 The Stage Lives of Animals examines what it might mean to make theatre beyond the human In this stunning collection of essays Una Chaudhuri engages with the alternative modes of thinking feeling and making art offered by animals and animality bringing insights from theatre practice and theory to animal studies as well as exploring what animal studies can bring to the study of theatre and performance As our planet lives through what scientists call the sixth extinction and we become ever more aware of our relationships to other species Chaudhuri takes a highly original look at the animal imagination of well known plays performances and creative projects including works by Caryl Churchill Rachel Rosenthal Marina Zurkow Edward Albee Tennessee Williams Eugene Ionesco Covering over a decade of explorations a wide range of writers and many urgent topics this volume demonstrates that an interspecies imagination deeply structures modern western drama

The Animal at Unease with Itself Isaac M. Alderman, 2020-08-20 Quoting Derrida in The Animal at Unease with Itself Death Anxiety and the Animal Human Boundary in Genesis 2 3 Isaac M Alderman draws attention to the fact that humans are the only animals who are disturbed by nakedness This unease with regard to our own bodies is an important aspect of the study of disgust and death anxiety Alderman seeks to apply terror management theorists focus on death anxiety to biblical studies and to utilize the concept of animal reminder disgust the visceral reaction to reminders of our animality to better understand the opening chapters of Genesis dealing particularly with themes of mortality the human body and the animal human boundary in those chapters After describing relevant aspects of cognitive science terror management theory and animal reminder disgust Alderman demonstrates using Genesis 2 3 and the role of clothing as a marker of the animal human boundary there as a case study that an interdisciplinary approach that draws on cognitive science can illumine the biblical text in important ways Encyclopedia of Animals Karen McGhee,2007 This volume presents a who s who of the animal kingdom in this highly readable and vividly illustrated reference book
