Conan Doyle Agatha Christie and Raymond Chandler it considers other kinds of fiction where crime plays a substantial part such as the thriller and spy fiction It also includes chapters on the treatment of crime in eighteenth century literature French and Victorian fiction women and black detectives crime on film and TV police fiction and postmodernist uses of the detective form The collection by an international team of established specialists offers students invaluable reference material including a chronology and guides to further reading The volume aims to ensure that its readers will be grounded in the history of crime fiction and its critical reception

Conversations with James Ellroy Steven Powell, 2012-02-01 As a novelist who has spent years crafting and refining his intense and oft outrageous Demon Dog of American Crime Fiction persona James Ellroy has used interviews as a means of shaping narratives outside of his novels Conversations with James Ellroy covers a series of interviews given by Ellroy from 1984 to 2010 in which Ellroy discusses his literary contribution and his public and private image Born Lee Earle Ellroy in 1948 James Ellroy is one of the most critically acclaimed and controversial contemporary writers of crime and historical fiction Ellroy's complex narratives which merge history and fiction have pushed the boundaries of the crime fiction genre American Tabloid a revisionist look at the Kennedy era was Time magazine's Novel of the Year 1995 and his novels L.A. Confidential and The Black Dahlia were adapted into films Much of Ellroy's remarkable life story has served as the template for the personal obsessions that dominate his writing From the brutal unsolved murder of his mother to his descent into alcohol and drug abuse his sexual voyeurism and his stints at the Los Angeles County Jail Ellroy has lived through a series of hellish experiences that few other writers could claim In Conversations with James Ellroy the author talks extensively about his life his literary influences his persona and his attitudes towards politics and religion In interviews with fellow crime writers Craig McDonald David Peace and others including several previously unpublished interviews Ellroy is at turns charismatic and eloquent combative and enigmatic

Famous Last Words Alison Booth, 1993 Famous Last Words traces a broad historical transition from the 1840s to the 1980s from the more rigid dichotomy of the Victorian novel in which good women must marry and fallen women die to the more open alternatives of twentieth century fiction which sometimes permit the independent female protagonist to survive and occasionally allow alternative constructions of gender as well as plot Each essay treats a narrative novel novella or novel poem by a single author in light of conventions of closure and of gender in historical context The contributors recover forgotten texts revise our understanding of women writers once successful but now somewhat marginalized and give voice to cultural others Works by the already canonized George Eliot are reassessed and the representation of women in the canonical novels of male writers William Thackeray and Henry James is explored
