of buildings but how they are experienced as places to be in. Occupants' experience can differ radically from designers' intentions as their concerns and thinking differ. Additionally, multi-sensory, ambient, spatial, sequential experience and embodied spirit resonate in the human soul. Sustainable design means much more than energy efficiency if sustainable buildings don't also nourish the soul. Occupant building interaction will lack care and eco-technologies won't be used efficiently. This major revision of his classic text builds on more than forty years of experience in ecological design across a range of climates, cultures and budgets and 25 years' hands-on building. Treating buildings as environments intrinsic to their surroundings, the book explores consensus design, economic and social sustainability and how a listening approach can grow architectural ideas organically from the interacting, sometimes conflicting, requirements of place, people and situation. This third edition, comprehensively revised to incorporate new knowledge and address new issues, continues Day's departure from orthodox contemporary architecture, offering eye-opening insights and practical design applications. These principles and guidelines will be of interest and value to architects, builders, planners, developers and homeowners alike. Reviews of the first edition: one of the seminal architecture books of recent times. Professor Tom Woolley, Architects Journal. The bible of many architects and those interested in architecture. Centre for Alternative Technology. An inspiration to all those who care about the influence of the environment on man's health and well-being. Barrie May, The Scientific and Medical Network. At last, an architect has written a sensitive and caring book on the effects of buildings on all our lives. Here's Health. This gentle book offers a route out of the nightmare of so much callous modern construction. I was inspired. Colin Amery, The Financial Times.

1000 Monuments of Genius Christopher E.M. Pearson, 2014-11-24. Since the mythical Tower of Babel, humans have continuously tried to erect monuments to match their oversized egos. With ancient ziggurats, the Taj Mahal or the Empire State Building, man has for centuries demonstrated his force by raising structures for purposes both religious and profane. As international cultural statements without words, symbols of a people's values, devotion, patriotism, power, symbols of a civilisation's grandeur, these monuments still fascinate and attract an ever-growing public who is captivated by the creativity and ingenuity of these architects and stonemasons. Their historical message goes far beyond mere art history for they tell us of the lives and evolution of the peoples of the past as does the Parthenon in Athens, many times destroyed, rebuilt, reused, attacked, pillaged and restored. Once again today. This work, featuring 1000 monuments chosen from around the globe, retraces human history, the techniques, styles and philosophies necessary for the construction of so many splendours over the centuries, providing a panorama of the most celebrated monuments while evoking the passion of their makers. The reader can explore the changing values of humanity through the edifices it has built and understand these structures as triumphs of humankind. Northern Tanzania Safari Guide Philip Briggs, Chris McIntyre, 2023-07-07. Lovins, L. Hunter

Lovins, 2013-09-13 On its first publication 10 years ago Natural Capitalism rocked the world of business with its innovative new approach an approach that fused ecological integrity with business acumen using the radical concept of natural capitalism This 10th anniversary edition features a new Introduction by Amory B Lovins and Paul Hawken which updates the story to include the successes of the last decade It clearly sets out the path that we must now take to ensure the future prosperity of our civilisation and our planet Factor Four Ernst U. von Weizsacker, 2013-10-11 Since the industrial revolution progress has meant an increase in labour productivity Factor Four describes a new form of progress resource productivity a form which meets the overriding imperative for the future sustainability It shows how at least four times as much wealth can be extracted from the resources we use As the authors put it the book is about doing more with less but this is not the same as doing less doing worse or doing without In 1972 the Club of Rome published Limits to Growth which sent shock waves around the world by arguing that we were rapidly running out of essential resources This Report to the Club of Rome offers a solution It lies in using resources more efficiently in ways which can already be achieved not at a cost but at a profit The book contains a wealth of examples of revolutionizing productivity in the use of energy from hypercars to low energy beef materials from sub surface drip irrigation to electronic books transport video conferencing to CyberTran and demonstrating how much more could be generated from much less today It explains how markets can be organized and taxes re based to eliminate perverse incentives and reward efficiency so wealth can grow while consumption does not The benefits are enormous profits will increase pollution and waste will decrease and the quality of life will improve Moreover the benefits will be shared progress will no longer depend on making ever fewer people more productive Instead more people and fewer resources can be employed While for many developing countries the efficiency revolution may offer the only realistic chance of prosperity within a reasonable time span The practical promise held out in this book is huge but the authors show how it is up to each of us as well as to businesses and governments to make it happen
