Religion Index Two ,1991 The Challenges of Integrating Religion and Spirituality into Psychotherapy Francis A. Martin,2024-04-23 This book examines personal and professional understandings of religion in psychotherapy and advocates for integrity competency and cultural pluralism in clinical practice A major feature of this book is that it confirms the massive proliferation of religion oriented approaches to counseling and therapy in recent years It attributes this rise to opportunism and exaggerated individualism among therapists and to the frequent failures of professional associations clinical preparation programs and other influences In response to these influences it identifies the need for guiding principles for integrating religion into therapy discusses the religious issues that clients bring to therapy and advocates for major changes in clinical practice with emphasis on integrity and competence Building on a large volume of research and using evidence based conclusions it clarifies how these two major features of contemporary life can be integrated with integrity and competence The author maintains that religion should be a feature of the practice of counseling and therapy so long as it addresses the clinically relevant needs of clients However it also explores how the religion of counselors and therapists often expresses the needs of counselors and therapists instead of addressing the needs of their clients In the context of these questions and discussion of contentious challenges this book provides guidelines for relating religion with clinical practice and recommends needed actions by clinical preparation programs professional associations individual therapists state legislatures licensing boards social service agencies and corporations All of this stands on the conspicuous need for professional accountability in the delivery of mental health care The Catholic Periodical and Literature Index ,1988 Theological Reflection and Education for Ministry Professor John E Paver,2013-05-28 A major and continuing problem for theological education and the practice of Christian ministry is how to best achieve a genuine integration between theory and practice theology and experience The key claim of this book is that theological reflection beginning with experience is a method of integration and that pastoral supervision is a vehicle for theological reflection In establishing this claim John Paver demonstrates that the model and method have potential to be a catalyst for reform within theological colleges and seminaries Three different theological reflection models are developed and critiqued in this book and their capacity to be developed in particular contexts is explored This book does not stop at ministry cultural and personal integration but is bold enough to make recommendations for structural integration within the theological institution Developing Clinicians of Character Terri S.
