Articulating the shifting interests in Korean art and offering new ways of conceiving the biases that initiated and impacted its collecting, this book traces the rise of the modern Korean art market from its formative period in the 1870s through to its peak and subsequent decline in the 1930s. The discussion centres on the collecting of Kory celadon ceramics as they formed the focal point of commercial exchanges of Korean artefacts and explores how their acquisition and ownership formed part of the complex power relationship that played out between the Koreans, Japanese, Americans, and Europeans. Drawing on a wide range of primary sources, the volume analyses collectors' acquisition practices, arguing that their fascination with ceramics from the Kory kingdom (918–1392) was shaped not only by the aesthetic appeal of the objects but also by biased perceptions of the Korean peninsula, its history, and people. The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, social history, cultural history, Korean studies, collection studies, museum studies, Korean history, and Asian studies. The Art of Transformation Paul Fromberg, 2017-05-01. Everyday actions work to transform life personally and in community. It's all too common for Christians to wonder if Jesus came to bring transformation and wholeness. Why do I still feel like the same old me and struggle with the same issues as always? Paul Fromberg, rector of St Gregory of Nyssa Episcopal Church in San Francisco, offers a practical approach to life transformation that proves that church if done right can be the catalyst for bringing about real change in people's lives For those frustrated that they haven't had real experiences of transformation in their churches and for church leaders who are frustrated that members aren't being transformed by their experiences in church Fromberg presents a way to move beyond cynicism sadness and alienation and reconnect with the deep passionate beautiful life that God has in mind for us The first step is to question assumptions but it takes relationships to make this change and courage to risk what you know for the sake of being made new The intersection between beauty justice and friendship is the place where people can dare to be transformed The best gift the church can give is to make transformation a real part of people's lives Field & Stream ,1977-02 FIELD STREAM America's largest outdoor sports magazine celebrates the outdoor experience with great stories compelling photography and sound advice while honoring the traditions hunters and fishermen have passed down for generations The Poster and Art Collector H.-R.
