The Mossi of the Upper Volta Elliott Percival Skinner,1964 The Mossi of the Upper Volta Elliott Percival Skinner,1964 Political Anthropology S. L. Seaton, Henri J. Claessen, 2012-05-02 No detailed description available for Political Anthropology The Politics of Islam in the Sahel Rahmane Idrissa, 2017-06-14 Ideologies need enemies to thrive religion does not Using the Sahel as a source of five comparative case studies this volume aims to engage in the painstaking task of disentangling Islam from the political ideologies that have issued from its theologies to fight for governmental power and the transformation of society While these ideologies tap into sources of religious legitimacy the author shows that they are fundamentally secular or temporal enterprises defined by confrontation with other political ideologies both progressive and liberal within the arena of nation states Their objectives are the same as these other ideologies i e to harness political power for changing national societies and they resort to various methods of persuasion until they break down into violence The two driving questions of the book are whence come these ideologies and why do they sometimes result in violence Ideologies of Salafi radicalism are at work in the five countries of the Sahel region Burkina Faso Mali Niger Northern Nigeria and Senegal but violence has broken out only in Mali and Northern Nigeria Using a theoretical framework of ideological development and methods of historical analysis Idrissa traces the emergence of Salafi radicalism in each of these countries as a spark ignited by the shock between concurrent processes of Islamization and colonization in the 1940s However while the spark eventually ignited a blaze in Mali and Nigeria it has only led to milder political heat in Niger and Senegal and has had no burning effect at all in Burkina Faso By meticulously examining the development of Salafi radicalism ideologies over time in connection with developments in national politics in each of the countries Idrissa arrives at compelling conclusions about these divergent outcomes Given the many similarities between the countries studied these divergences show in particular that history the behaviour of state leaders and national sociologies matter against assumptions of natural contradictions between religion Islam and secularism or democracy This volume offers a new perspective in discussions on ideology which remains as is shown here the independent variable of many key contemporary political processes either hidden in plain sight or disguised in a religious garb UNESCO General History of Africa, Vol. VI J. Laurens van der Laan, Tjalling Dijkstra, Aad van Tilburg, 2018-08-09 First published in 1999 this volume explores how African agriculture has always had a strong appeal for the people of the Netherlands This is due to 1 a long established interest in tropical agriculture going back to the days when Indonesia was a Dutch colony 2 a broad based desire to help the Third World and 3 the view that Tropical Africa is highly dependent on agriculture As practical expertise in Africa and systematic research on African agriculture grew specialization became both possible and necessary This volume reflects the specialization in marketing which has been welcomed by economists geographers and scholars of agricultural marketing In addition to a general introductory chapter this book includes five contributions on staple food grains two on export crops two on cattle and one on horticulture Nine of the chapters are country specific covering Benin Burkina Faso Cameroon Cote d'Ivoire Ghana Kenya Sierra Leone Tanzania and Zambia Power and Politics in Africa: A Boundary Generator Takuo Iwata, 2025-01-07 Africa's potential and challenges in the 21st century make it a focal point for global attention The continent's political landscape is now more diverse with a mix of democracy authoritarianism peace and conflict Understanding the dynamics of African politics is crucial This comprehensive book delves into African Politics and International Relations exploring power through the lenses of politics geography sociology and anthropology It is based on the author's three decades of fieldwork and research across Africa Asia and the West Ideal for academic scholars students diplomats government officials journalists and NGO staff seeking to deepen their understanding of African politics and international relations Stigma and Culture J. Lorand Matory, 2015-12-02 In Stigma and Culture J Lorand Matory provocatively shows how ethnic identification in the United States and around the globe is a competitive and hierarchical process in which populations especially of historically stigmatized races seek status and income by dishonoring other stigmatized populations And there is no better place to see this than among the African American elite in academia where he explores the emergent ethnic identities of African and Caribbean immigrants and transmigrants Gullah Geechees Louisiana Creoles and even Native Americans of partly African ancestry

Matory describes the competitive process that hierarchically structures their self definition as ethnic groups and the similar process by which middle class African Americans seek distinction from their impoverished compatriots Drawing on research at universities such as Howard Harvard and Duke and among their alumni networks he details how university life while facilitating individual upward mobility touting human equality and regaling cultural diversity also perpetuates the cultural standards that historically justified the dominance of some groups over others Combining his ethnographic findings with classic theoretical insights from Frantz Fanon Fredrik Barth Erving Goffman Pierre Bourdieu and others alongside stories from his own life in academia Matory sketches the university as an institution that particularly through the anthropological vocabulary of culture encourages the stigmatized to stratify their own
