The Outer Banks In Vintage Postcards Postcard History North Carolina Postcard History:

The Outer Banks in Vintage Postcards Chris Kidder, Outer Banks History Center Associates, 2005-04-06 The Outer Banks of North Carolina have been a destination for seasonal visitors since Algonkian Indians hunted and fished on the islands In 1584 English explorers arrived and before long were promoting the area as a land of natural abundance and beauty pleasant weather and kindly natives Not much has changed in that respect By the beginning of the 20th century visitors and residents alike were using postcards to share the things that make the Outer Banks unique with family and friends in other places The North Carolina Historical Review, 1990 Durham, North Carolina Stephen E. Massengill, 1997-07-01 With more than two hundred vintage postcard images Durham North Carolina captures much of what life was like in the rapidly growing city during the first half of the twentieth century This rare collection of postcards represents many aspects of Durham especially the bustling downtown district In the early 1900s Durham was a small but budding town with a population of less than seven thousand However a tremendous number of people began to pour into the city and by 1930 the population had increased to more than fifty thousand That explosion of growth was attributable in large measure to the rapid expansion of the tobacco and textile industries as well as to the endowment of nearby Trinity College 1924 by tobacco magnate James B Duke which lead to the institution s renaming as the now renowned Duke University In only a few years the town s skyline began to be transformed with the construction of modern office buildings and grand mansions AB Bookman's Weekly, 1993 Concord and Cabarrus County in Vintage Postcards George Michael Patterson, 2001-09 Located in the rolling hills of North Carolina s Piedmont between the Yadkin and the Catawba Rivers Cabarrus County was once a haven of lush vegetation and wild animals Early immigrants mostly of German and Scotch Irish descent arrived with a strong pioneering spirit to carve out of this wilderness a place to call home The rich and fertile soil was ideal for agriculture while the shiny yellow rocks proved to be worth their weight when correctly identified as nuggets of gold Today Cabarrus County and its county seat Concord are considered home to more than 100 000 residents
