The Perceptive I A Personal Reader And Writer:

The Perceptive I Edmund J. Farrell, James Edwin Miller, 1997 Reading and Writing the World with Mathematics Eric Gutstein, 2012-09-10 Mathematics education in the United States can reproduce social inequalities whether schools use either basic skills curricula to prepare mainly low income students of color for low skilled service jobs or standards based curricula to ready students for knowledge intensive positions And working for fundamental social change and rectifying injustice are rarely included in any mathematics curriculum Reading and Writing the World with Mathematics argues that mathematics education should prepare students to investigate and critique injustice and to challenge in words and actions oppressive structures and acts Based on teacher research the book provides a theoretical framework and practical examples for how mathematics educators can connect schooling to a larger sociopolitical context and concretely teach mathematics for social justice Autobiographical Statements in Twentieth-Century Russian Literature Jane Gary Harris, 2014-07-14 The fifteen essays in this volume explore the extraordinary range and diversity of the autobiographical mode in twentieth century Russian literature from various critical perspectives They will whet the appetite of readers interested in penetrating beyond the canonical texts of Russian literature The introduction focuses on the central issues and key problems of current autobiographical theory and practice in both the West and in the Soviet Union while each essay treats an aspect of autobiographical praxis in the context of an individual author's work and often in dialogue with another of the included writers Examined here are first the experimental writings of the early years of the twentieth century Rozanov Remizov and Bely second the unique autobiographical statements of the mid 1920s through the early 1940s Mandelstam Pasternak Olesha and Zoshchenko and finally the diverse and vital contemporary writings of the 1960s through the 1980s as exemplified not only by creative writers but also by scholars by Soviet citizens as well as by emigrants Trifonov Nadezhda Mandelstam Lydia Ginzburg Nabokov Jakobson Sinyavsky and Limonov Originally published in 1990 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Classroom Literacy Assessment Jeanne R. Paratore, Rachel L. McCormack, 2007-04-05 Showcasing assessment practices that can help teachers plan effective instruction this book addresses the real world complexities of teaching literacy in grades K-8 Leading contributors present trustworthy approaches that examine learning processes as well as learning products that yield information on how the learning environment can be improved and that are conducted in the context of authentic reading and writing activities The volume provides workable nuts and bolts ideas for incorporating assessment into instruction in all major literacy domains and with diverse learners including students in high poverty schools and those with special learning needs It is illustrated throughout with helpful concrete examples

Reading and Writing Skills:

Cognitive, Emotional, Creative, and Digital Approaches María Isabel de Vicente-Yagüe Jara,Elena Jiménez-Pérez,Pedro García Guirao,Olivia López Martínez,2023-12-14 Research in Education ,1974 James Jones Tony J.

Williams,2016-08-22 James Jones played many roles including short story writer social critic and war novelist His most famous work From Here to Eternity 1951 spent 20 weeks atop the New York Times bestseller s list won the National Book Award was adapted into an Academy Award winning film and was named one of the 100 best novels of the twentieth century by the Modern Library Despite this and the success of his other novels Some Came Running 1957 and The Thin Red Line 1962 Jones is widely forgotten today In James Jones The Limits of Eternity literary scholar Tony J Williams examines the significance of Jones s work not only for its nuance and daring subject matter but also for its widespread popularity In his assessment of Jones s catalog Williams reveals an incisive novelist who offered groundbreaking interpretations of masculinity sexuality gender and identity Williams contends that Jones should be recognized as far more than just a popular war novelist but also as a humanitarian and literary pioneer particularly in probing gender and queer issues A quintessentially American novelist Jones was never afraid to look openly at the flaws of his society examine how it could adversely affect individual victims and tacitly suggest possible alternatives He recognized the presence of gays and lesbians in American culture during an overtly repressive time which makes his work relevant to many areas of contemporary criticism Demonstrating his significant contribution to contemporary American literature James Jones The Limits of Eternity will be of interest to scholars of war narratives gender studies and literary studies

Writing and Learning in Cross-national Perspective David

Foster,2017-10-03 Despite the increasingly global implications of conversations about writing and learning U S composition studies has devoted little attention to cross national perspectives on student writing and its roles in wider cultural contexts Caught up in our own concerns about how U S students make the transition as writers from secondary school to postsecondary education we often overlook the fact that students around the world are undergoing the same evolution How do the students in China England France Germany Kenya or South Africa the educational systems represented in this collection write their way into the communities of their chosen disciplines How for instance do students whose mother tongue is not the language of instruction cope with the demands of academic and discipline specific writing And in what ways is U S students development as academic writers similar to or different from that of students in other countries With this collection editors David Foster and David R Russell broaden the discussion about the role of writing in various educational systems and cultures Students development as academic writers raises issues of student authorship and agency as well as larger issues of educational access institutional power relations system goals and students roles in society The contributors to this collection discuss selected writing purposes and forms characteristic of a specific national education system describe students agency as writers and identify contextual factors social economic linguistic cultural that shape institutional responses to writing development In discussions that bookend these studies of different educational structures the editors compare U S postsecondary writing practices and pedagogies with those in other national systems and suggest new perspectives for cross national study of learning writing issues important to all educational systems Given the worldwide increase in students entering higher education and the endless need for effective writing across disciplines and nations the insights offered here and the call for further studies are especially welcome and timely

Brain, Mind, and the Narrative Imagination Christopher Comer, Ashley Taggart, 2021-01-28 Stories can inspire love anger fear and nostalgia but what is going on in our brains when this happens And how do our minds conjure up worlds and characters from the words we read on the page Rapid advances in the scientific understanding of the brain have cast new light on how we engage with literature This book collaboratively written by an experienced neuroscientist and literary critic and writer explores these new insights Key concepts in neuroscience are first introduced for non specialists and a range of literary texts by writers such as Ian McEwan Jim Crace and E L Doctorow are read in light of the latest scientific thought on the workings of the mind and brain Brain Mind and the Narrative Imagination demonstrates how literature taps into deep structures of memory and emotion that lie at the heart of our humanity It will be of interest to readers of all sorts and students from both the humanities and the sciences
